At the meeting of the Senior Play committee Thursday the time for trials for places in the class play was decided upon. These trials are to be held from 7 to 9 every evening during examination week, in U 106. Twenty minutes will be allowed the various aspirants in which to do their stunt. Not enough men have handed in their names as desiring to try out for these places. The play to be given is not yet definitely decided upon, but in nearly every play there are more men than women in the cast, and more of the Senior men are urged to try. Names should be handed to any member of the play committee, or to Miss Howells, as soon as possible. The copies of the plays yet to be considered have not come, but will be reviewed as soon as possible, and a final choice made.

Professor Fossler's remarks at convocation yesterday morning apropos of the Art Exhibit were very much in order. This is the last day of the exhibit and everyone should take advantage of this to see the display again. Such a rare chance should not be passed by, for it may never come again to many of us. The good attendance has made it possible to more than meet the expense incurred by the exhibit and the remainder of attendance receipts is to be devoted to acquiring a permanent addition to the pictures owned by the association. A very material increase in this amount will be made if the last day's attendance is what we ought to make it.

The Phi Delta Phi fraternity will initiate at the Delta Upsilon house tonight. The following is the list of men to be initiated: McLaughlin, Dorrington, Hewitt, Day, Plansburg, Keyser, Proudft, Ramsey, Eager, Hoar, Davis, Sprague, Beard, James, Clarke and John D. Clarke.
