ELECT OFFICERS

The Engineers Get Three Class Presidencies.

Other Offices of Three Classes are Filled.

The three men elected to the Senior, Junior and Sophomore presidencies yesterday are all engineers. In the Senior election, Mr. White was put up and backed, primarily, by the engineers, but in the other classes the fight was not waged at all on Lit-Engineer lines.

Senior.

The Seniors met yesterday morning to elect officers. Two names were placed before the class, that of Miss Grace Coppock and that of R. H. White. Before the ballots were counted the balance seemed to be slightly in Miss Coppock's favor, the girls being in the majority and it was supposed that they would stand solidly for Miss Coppock. Surmise, however, proved incorrect. The first ballot gave Mr. White 63 votes, Miss Coppock receiving but 47. Miss Mary Harris was elected vice-president by a unanimous vote, and the same unanimous vote was given to Miss Minnie Petrashek for secretary. Miss Eva Cooper, the treasurer of last semester, was re-elected to this position unanimously. The only contest made was between the candidates for presidency. Mr. Hunter, after a few words of thanks to the class for the loyal support and co-operation given him, was selected as sergeant-at-arms. The new Senior president, Mr. White, is a member of Phi Delta Theta, Miss Harris is a Delta Gamma, Miss Petrashek is a member of the Palladian Literary Society, Miss Cooper is a member of Pi Beta Phi, and Mr. Hunter is an Alpha Theta Chi.

Junior.

Quietness and lack of contest characterized the election of the Juniors, although the ballot showed a strong interest in both candidates. Mr. Costelloe was the successful candidate for president. Mr. Geo. Tunison, his opponent, stacked up sixty-three votes against Mr. Costelloe's ninety-five. Previous to the meeting strong election was the order of the day and pioneering was the order of the day and up to the time of balloting the result could not be foreseen. A third candidate had been put in the field a few days ago, but yesterday decided to pull out, leaving the contest to the two candidates. There was no contest over the other offices, and the following were elected: Miss Pearl Archibald, secretary and treasurer; Miss Ruth Thompson, vice-president, and Mr. Sidwell, sergeant-at-arms. It was thought that the contest for sergeant-at-arms would wax warm and strong, but on account of his good services while holding the office of president, Mr. Sidwell was given the place without a dissenting vote.

Mr. Costelloe is a mining engineer student and a member of the Union Literary Society. Miss Archibald is a member of Pi Beta Phi Sorority and Mr. Sidwell is a member of Phi Rho Sigma fraternity.

Sophomore.

EDDIE WALT'S ORCHESTRA

INFORMAL

TICKETS, $1.50

the closest contest for president yesterday morning that was ever experienced in University political circles before. A good number were present and much enthusiasm was in evidence.

Nominations for the presidency immediately followed the call to order. The name of Mr. Findly was first presented, followed at once by the presentation of the name of Dwight Cramer.

The ballot was counted, the vote stood Cramer 61, Findly 59.

After the election of the chief executive the other offices were soon filled. The candidates for those were less numerous and the fight was less spirited. The three officers as elected for this semester are: President, Mr. D. L. Cramer, Phi Gamma Delta; Vice President, Miss Mary Morgan, Kappa Alpha Theta; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Reta Clark, Chi Omega; Attorney, Ray Sunderland, Alpha Theta Chi.

A CONDITIONAL GIFT

Morrill Offers a Neat Sum With Certain Provisions.

Mr. C. H. Morrill, ex-regent of the University has offered to give $5,000 to strengthen the museum. That is provided the state legislature is willing to appropriate money to make the proper addition to the building as now used and according to the plans of the board of regents. He refuses, however, to see the valuable collections that are delivered to the University authorities and donated to the state, buried under ground and stored in boxes piled up in corn cribs.

Mr. Morrill has been interested in the geological expeditions of the University in the past and has been instrumental in sending out yearly expeditions for the collection of valuable specimens and the material has been used in an exceedingly rough manner on account of the meager displacement and unsafeness of the geology building.

Attention is called to the Day of Prayer for colleges which will be observed by thousands of students all over the world. This day will be observed by the University community with appropriate services both in the morning and at nine o'clock and in the evening at 7:30. Many will recall the magnificent address by Chancellor Andrews at last year's Vesper services. The Chancellor will be the speaker again this year. This is the one great University religious service and should be attended by every student. The day is February 12.

SOPHS TIE WESLEYANS

The Second Year Men Put Up a Good Fight.

The Sophomore class team was successful in holding Wesleyan down to a tie game on Wednesday evening on their floor. The Sophs proved to be a stronger aggregation than Wesleyan had bargained for and they received a surprise. The playing of the Sophomores was of first class order and this team would give the average college team a hard fight.

The strongest feature of Wednesday's game was the good team work put up by both teams. Probably the Wesleyan team had the better of it in this part of the game. The game was very fast from beginning to end and characterized by many spectacular plays by both teams. The game was very clean and free from the number of fouls that usually enter into a game played on so small a floor and teams so evenly matched. The game was in favor of Wesleyan during the first half and the score for this half was 28 to 30 in their favor. But the Sophomores took a brace the second half and evened the score by gaining the three points they had lost the first half. The work of Meyer at center and Smith and Swan at forward, and Captain Bowman at guard was excellent. For Wesleyan the work of Cherrington, Lowell and White is especially worthy of mention and these men were the main dependence of their team. The lineup was as follows:

Sophomores	Wesleyan
FORWARDS.
McDonald	Cherrington
Copeland
Smith	White
Swan
CENTER.
Meyer	Lowell
Swan
GUARDS.
Stelner	Kowns
Jones
Bowman	Applechopper
Referee—Kewitt.

The game of basketball to have been played tonight with Omaha Y. M. C. A. has been postponed until the middle of next week. This change was necessitated on account of Omaha team being unable to come down tonight. The game will in all probability be played on next Wednesday evening, Feb. 8.

This game will be followed by a game with Baker University on Saturday night, Feb. 11. These two games promise to be as interesting and closely contested as any games played in Lincoln this season. Baker University has one of the strongest teams in the history of that University. The Omaha Y. M. C. A. is very strong this year and succeeded in holding the 'varsity' down to a close score on their northern trip.

The 'varsity' men have been practicing this week and are in good condition again, having fully recovered from the effects of the trip. Burruss and Bell, who were in the worst condition resulting from the trip were out for the practice on Monday evening.

SQUAD IS CHOSEN

Fifteen Debaters Selected to Prepare for Contest.

To Begin Work on Inter-State Question at Once.

As a result of the two preliminary contests held Wednesday evening and yesterday afternoon the faculty committee of judges which met immediately after yesterday's debate announced the award of honors of membership in the inter-collegiate debating squad to the following fifteen out of twenty contestants:

M. L. Corey.
D. P. DeYoung.
W. L. Clark.
G. L. Clark.
Carl Hartley.
F. M. Hunter.
R. C. Hunter.
Leo Legro.
Albert M. Levy.
E. M. Marvin.
Frank Peterson.
J. D. Ringer.
Joseph Swenson.
C. A. Sawyer.
C. A. Sunderlin.

Speaker Rouse of the Nebraska House of Representatives presided at the first debate on Wednesday evening. He was introduced by Dean Pound of the law school and after a short address expressing his pleasure at being present, dispatched the business of the evening in a snappy manner.

A fair audience was in attendance to greet the debaters despite the bitter cold evening. The speakers were introduced in the following order:

C. P. Hartley, Dean Ringer, M. L. Corey, H. A. Brubaker, R. C. Hunter, C. A. Sawyer, J. M. Swenson, D. P. DeYoung, F. M. Hunter, Roy Clark.

The second half of the debate was held yesterday afternoon in Memorial hall at which Mr. Albert Watkins, an old debater of the University of Wisconsin and one who is deeply interested in debating work in Nebraska, presided. Those speaking at this debate were C. A. Sunderlin, Jack Miller, Leo Legro, J. L. Clark, Frank Peterson, Roscoe Ozman, Albert M. Levy, E. M. Marvin.

The judges who awarded the decision yesterday were the same who served Wednesday, namely, Profs. H. W. Caldwell, F. C. French, Roscoe Pound, E. A. Ross and W. G. L. Taylor.

The debaters selected for the squad will now go into training under the "Nebraska System" which has resulted in such unparalleled success. The next two months will be spent in gathering and sifting evidence, in original research work, and in frequent debates upon the question.

Some time before April the Debating Board will select six men out of the squad to represent the University in her coming debates with Iowa and Washington.

Professor Fogg has requested each member of the squad to visit him individually this morning and announce a meeting of the entire squad at 1:00 o'clock this afternoon.

The city Y. M. C. A. "Spa" furnishes a nice place for students to get a good lunch at a reasonable price, at any time of the day.
