THE SENIORS WIN

They Defeat the Freshmen in the Finals.

One of the Most Exciting Tournaments Ever Held in Nebraska.

Yesterday at 2 p. m. the procession began for the tournament. This procession consisted of the representatives of the different classes and many masked persons impersonating very prominent personages such as Buster Brown. In the lead was the ladies' band. The players used the cadet band instruments and coats, but different music. Next came the Senior players and after them the impersonated reubens and Buster Brown. We mention no names, but understand that Buster Brown and the reubens were some of the most dignified of Senior classmen. The Junior players followed and carried with them the pennant won last year. One of the most prominent features of the Junior procession was the Junior hobo band. The Sophomores were next in line with their team and masked persons. The Freshmen team was accompanied by a rooster, which was their mascot, and two clowns on roller skates.

The procession as a whole was one of the most unique of its kind ever carried out by University students. The Armory was well filled, not only with students, but with many ladies from the city. Never was greater enthusiasm shown by the girls of Nebraska and during the entire time of the contests excitement was intense.

The first game was between the Seniors and Juniors. This proved to be the most closely contested game of the series as this score indicates: 12 to 11 in favor of the Seniors. The Juniors seemed overconfident and this probably was the cause of their defeat, as four of the varsity were members of this team. Miss Jansa did the best work for the Seniors, while Misses Giddings, Pillsbury and Archibald did fine work for the Juniors. Miss Archibald's work from the foul line being especially worthy of mention.

The next game, between the Sophomores and Freshmen, did not prove to be so fast as the game just preceding it. The Sophomores were no match for the Freshmen. The final score being 15 to 9 in favor of the Freshmen. The Freshmen used exceptionally good team work. For the Sophomores the work of Miss Foster is worthy of mention, while Misses Woodworth and Stevenson did fine work for the Freshmen.

The final game, between the winners, Seniors and Freshmen, was a very hotly contested game. But the Freshmen guards could not prevent the Seniors from throwing baskets and as a result Miss Jansa threw four netting eight out of the ten points made by the Seniors. The Freshmen were not far behind though, for they had seven to the Seniors' ten at the end of the game. Misses Stevenson and Kimmel did excellent work for the Freshmen. The team work of these two teams is above the average of class teams.

The line-up of the different teams was as follows:

VESPER SERVICES

Chancellor Andrews to Address the Students.

Interest in the vesper service is spreading rapidly and indications point to a meeting far exceeding that of last year in enthusiasm and number of attendance. Mrs. Bessie Burruss Funke, well known by all Lincoln musicians and music lovers, will sing. Were Chancellor Andrews' address but half as good as that of last year it would be a most valuable hour and one no Nebraska student could afford to miss, but each address is superior to the preceding one and we are assured of a most profitable service. This service will begin promptly at 7 o'clock and those who attend are urged to be in the hall a little before 7 in order that there will be no embarrassing interruptions.

"The American University" is the subject of Dean C. E. Bessey's talk in Memorial Hall Sunday, 9:00 a. m. This opportunity of hearing a scientist of world-wide reputation, especially in the person of our popular and highly esteemed dean, should fill Memorial Hall tomorrow morning. Students are urged to put forth a special effort to be out at this somewhat unusual hour.

University men will get all they pay for by attending the Y. M. C. A. banquet at the Lindell on the evening of March 3d. The price is within the reach of all and every cent of it goes to the hotel for putting up a first-class menu. The bill of fare compares favorably with two and three dollar banquets given by other organizations, while the price is far below them.

BASKETBALL GAME

The 'Varsity Meets Baker University Tonight.

Tonight the varsity lines up against Baker University of Kansas for a game of basket-ball. Baker comes with a good reputation as fast players and a good game is promised. The game will start promptly at 8:00 p. m. so the dance, which has been arranged for by Manager Beers, can commence early. Quick's four-piece orchestra has been secured and a good time will be promised all those who attend the game tonight. The regular varsity team will line up against Baker tonight.

Try-Out For Charter Day.

This afternoon the try-outs for the different events to be pulled off Charter day will take place in the Armory. The number of men to enter each event on Charter day has been limited to four, except the 25-yard dash.

The try-out in the dash will comprise heats in which five men will be permitted to run, three of the five qualifying. By this method the number will be cut down to eight. The entries for the inter-fraternity relay race will also be cut down to four. The other events in the try-out are: Pole vault, rope climb, fence vault, running high jump and running high kick. All men are requested to be out who want a place.

Convocation.

The program at convocation yesterday was different from any ever before given. Selections from "Enoch Arden" were read by Mrs. C. F. Ladd and Miss Griggs accompanied the reading with descriptive compositions for the piano by Strauss. The interpretation of the reader was greatly added to by these interspersed piano selections. Shortness of time forbade the reading of the whole poem and this unavoidable breaking up of the selection detracted somewhat from its beauty.

ROSEWATER TALKS

Addresses a Very Large Crowd of Engineers.

Chief Engineer of Omaha Discusses the Sewerage Problem.

Chief Engineer Rosewater of Omaha addressed the Engineering Society last night on the subject of "Sewerage." Mr. Rosewater has spent much time and study on this question. He spoke from his experience as engineer in Omaha and how they had obtained the most sanitary conditions in his city. Mr. Rosewater went more into detail and gave to the University students some very valuable and important pointers on this very interesting subject.

He also spoke about the installation of a sewerage system in Kansas City and Sheridan. Mr. Rosewater was chief engineer of both these pieces of work. The historical side of it was dwelt upon to some length and with great interest.

Mr. Rosewater has been chief engineer of the city of Omaha for the past twenty years, besides he has carried on the installation of sewerage systems in many other cities. He is considered to be an authority on this subject and is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

This morning Mr. Rosewater will address the Engineering Society on the subject of "Paving."

Aylesworth at Chapel.

Professor Aylesworth of the Department of American History will give a stereopticon lecture at convocation Monday morning on "Lincoln in Portrait and Character." Selected slides will be used showing the most famous pictures of Lincoln from his early boyhood until the time of his death. Views of the cartoons of Lincoln during the election of 1860 and later during the war will also be shown. Mr. Aylesworth has made a special study of the life of Lincoln and especially of the civil war period and with the aid of the views will give a highly interesting and instructive lecture.

President Faunce of Brown University, speaking on "Athletics in College Life" at an alumni dinner in Boston, said athletic games were almost a necessity in that such contests brought out the loyalty of the student body in a manner that nothing else could. The large amount of money expended for football and baseball teams, and the newspaper notoriety attendant upon athletics, were unpleasant features which, in his opinion, could not be avoided.—Cornell Daily Sun.

Students of the University of Chicago and Northwestern University will co-operate in the production of Lessing's drama, "Minna von Barnhelm." The play will be produced at Power's theater January 16. Dr. Walter Wever, the German consul, will assist in coaching the students in their parts.

Junior Auxiliary of St. Luke's will hold a bread and cake sale on Saturday at Heagy's Grocery Store, Fourteenth and S streets.
