Editorial Remarks

The question chosen for discussion by the Students' Debating club at its next meeting ought to attract a good deal of attention as being live and thoroughly up-to-date. Needless to say the affirmative will represent the vast majority of the students.

Although a succession of victories does not signalize the return of the basketball team from their recent trip le in full for the damage they did.

When a class takes it upon itself to attempt to thwart by violence an entertainment given for the University in general, it acts the part of a disorgan-izer. Clashes between the two lower classes are inevitable, at times, and at times are not to be frowned down, but when the Freshmen mixed into things Saturday night they interfered with the Sophomores as hosts and with the University public as guests, and in so doing they displayed not true class spirit, but misplaced enthusiasm.
Those most prominently concerned are well out of the difficulty with simply having to stand the damage.

The informal dances given by the cadet band, which have, in the past, been so popular, are to be commenced again. The first one is set for Saturday of this week, March 4th, and the management has made a slight change in the price of admission. This change will not affect the majority of the patrons of these dances, but is aimed at the intolerable element commonly known as "stags." This unwelcome class is to be taxed an additional quarter for the privilege of enjoying their own company. It is doubtful if this slight addition will have the desired effect, but the move is in the right direction. At nearly all of the University social affairs there is an astonishing number of the ultra-select who prefer from the best of motives, of course, not to impose their odious presence upon one another. So great is the number of "stags" at times that a fellow who has done his duty and taken one of the fair finds himself unable to half fill his program. Instead of an additional quarter the solitaires should be taxed double, triple, or better still, ruled out altogether.

THE SUNDAY MEETING.

Miss Ruth Paxson, student national secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who during the past week has been working here in the interest of the association, addressed the young women's meeting in the chapel Sunday at 3 p. m.

Her effective treatment of the question, "Why Are You Living?" possessed remarkable power to touch the hearts and stir the consciousness of east yet every game, whether a victory or defeat, was a battle royal. From the different reports received Nebraska's representatives surely upheld the honor of their University. Against big odds the end of each game found the men fighting as hard as at the start, and two out of six such games as the schedule comprised is nothing to be ashamed of. The record of the first trip can probably never be duplicated again, but our record can be upheld, and was upheld in the right manner by the basketball team last week.

The only commendable feature of the clash between the Freshmen and the University, which occurred Saturday night was the promptness with which the committee representing '08 acceded to the demands that they set-her listeners.

Dr. Jones' splendid organ accompaniments made the hymns especially enjoyable.
The Kappa Kappa Gammas held a reception for Miss Paxson on Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Ethel Burkett.
All of the University sorority members and members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet were invited. The piano was softly played throughout the reception.
Refreshments were served in the candle lighted dining room.
The annual meeting of the Y. W. C.
A. will be held next Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Woman's Building. The annual reports of the committees will be read. All girls interested are cordially invited to be present.
