Campus Gleanings

The Innocents held a short business session yesterday in U 107.

Company B hop will be held on April 14 at Fraternity hall.

Junior class meeting in Chemistry lecture room today at 11 a. m. All Juniors are requested to be present.

Several book shelves have been added to the botanical department in order to accommodate the increasing size of the library. The rooms are so crowded that it is difficult to get through in some places.

A member of the faculty of the University of Michigan has been appointed by the board of regents as the auditor and comptroller of the funds of all student organizations. This measure is to guard against any suspicion of irregularity in the financial management of the clubs.

The late Mrs. Mary H. Elliot by her will bequeathed $200,000 to the University of Minnesota. She has always taken a very active interest in the University, and shortly after the death of her husband, she established a five thousand dollar loan fund for the benefit of needy students. The $200,000 will be used in the departments of Engineering and Philosophy.

Next Friday the boys from the School of Agriculture and the students of Animal Husbandry in the University, together with members of the faculty will go to South Omaha on a special train provided by the Burlington to spend the day in the stock yards and packing houses. Upon arrival the crowd will be divided into squads and each will be accompanied by a member of the faculty and a guide supplied by the packers. The object of this excursion is to study the methods of handling stock from the time they are unloaded from the cars until the carcasses are ready for shipment. The methods employed in making the numerous packing house by-products will also be studied. This trip has come to be an annual event and the pains heretofore taken by the managers of the various packing houses to make the occasion thoroughly educational has added to its popularity. This year even better things are promised. The train will leave the Burlington station about 7:30 in the morning and return late in the evening. A special rate of $1.10 for round trip is offered.
