IS AGAINST LAW BOOK

Nebraskan Board Takes Action to Discourage It.

Is an Innovation on University Publishing Field.

At a meeting of the board of directors of The Daily Nebraskan held yesterday a vigorous protest was made against the action of the Junior Law class in deciding to resurrect the defunct Senior Law book next year. The members of the board consisting of Professors Wyer and Richards, and Messrs. H. P. Leavitt, John Westover and Edw. Walton, were unanimous in their disapproval of the entrance of the unwelcome Law Book upon the field of University publications, as it is an extra and unnecessary drain upon the already strained treasuries of Lincoln Business firms, and has a tendency to detract from the present University publications, the Sombrero Senior Book and Daily Nebraskan.

The Nebraskan is the official paper of the University, and should be kept up and encouraged by the different University departments instead of having inroads made upon its advertising field. The Sombrero and Senior class books should be representative of the entire University and the addition of another book is bound to cut the revenue of these books in two thereby making three inferior books where there should be two good books which the University should be proud of.

A year ago when the Law Book was first started the Nebraskan board made a slight protest against it, but it was published, and, although the book published was one to be proud of, it hurt the Senior book of that year, and also the Nebraskan, and it is a well known fact that the book in itself was an absolute failure financially.

The business interests of Lincoln could not shoulder the expense of the new book, and consequently it was up to the law students to support it and make up the deficit.

It is well known how they did support it. They were called together, the situation was explained to them, and subscription blanks were passed around. Almost to a man they signed the slips, each agreeing to buy one or more copies of the book, and the management rejoiced. When the book came out, however, their enthusiasm and ardor was greatly on the wane. A few lived up to their promises, but the majority of them refused to "dough up" and consequently the editors were left with some one hundred copies of the book on their hands, which still lie in the Co-op. and Uni. book stores.

Some two weeks ago the unfortunate editors of the defunct law book paid up the last outstanding account, which made something like $150.00 he has been obliged to pay out of his own pocket.

The experience of the above mentioned book tends to show that the law students are too few in number, and too short on public spirit to put out a separate book, and if one is attempted next year the $150.00 paid out by last year's generous editor will have to be borne by the Lincoln merchants who are already overburdened with advertising mediums at the University.

If there is a need for a Law Book for the law department, why not a Medical Book for the Medics, a "Farm Journal" for the state farm, a "Cook Book" for the Domestic Science girls, and finally, no books at all, or half a dozen which we would be ashamed of.

Let the Law students put their shoulder to the wheel and make one good "Senior Book" which will be the pride of the University, until they are large enough in numbers and the school has grown enough to support a law book.

Following is the resolution passed:

Resolved, That it be the sense of the Board of Directors that the class book now being planned by the Junior Class of the Law College will be detrimental to the best interest of the University and believing in a single publication by the Seniors of the University the Nebraskan should use its influence to bring about a union of the Senior publications and discontinue the publication of separate books by the different colleges.

Campus Improvements.

Superintendent Fee is making some very appropriate improvements on the front of the campus. The three sodless places on the campus, at the corner of the chemistry building, near the library and in the middle of the campus, will be seeded down or covered with the best sod that can be obtained. Men are now at work grading the ground and digging a ditch at the side of the walks to carry off the water in a rain. The University has not the funds at the present to purchase the tiling which is generally used for drainage purposes and must be satisfied with a ditch for that purpose. For some time the water has been running down the walks and the improvements, meager as they are, will be much appreciated by the students. The dirt along the sides of the campus fence is also being worked down and this too will add to the appearance of the University.

"DAILY" BOARD MEETS.

Changes Made With Regard to Stockholders.

The Nebraskan Board met yesterday in Librarian Wyer's office. Fred Sweeley was formally elected Editor-in-Chief for the ensuing semester. The financial reports of the Manager for the first semester were presented and approved.

Section 1 of the By-Laws was amended to read as follows:

Each boni fide stockholder, as shown by the Treasurer's stock book is entitled to one subscription to the Nebraskan free of charge.

As originally worded the section read:

Each share of stock entitles the holder to a free subscription to the Nebraskan.

Persons now holding a number of shares of stock are entitled to but one subscription, whereas he was formerly entitled to one for every share he held.

After transacting other routine business, the meeting adjourned.

WINS THE LAST GAME

Defeat William Jewell in a Fast Game of Basketball.

Last Game of the Season Was Enjoyed By Students.

William Jewell College went down to defeat last night before Nebraska's fast basketball tossers by a score of 17 to 30. The game was fast and exciting from beginning to end. While the score was much in favor of the 'varsity every point was closely contested.

The team work of both teams was very good and the long pass was used to good effect. The varsity played one of the best games of the season on the home floor and sure passing was one of the characteristic features of their playing.

The William Jewell team was composed of a fast aggregation of players, but their main difficulty seemed to be in throwing baskets from the field. The reason for this was their long tries for the goal instead of working the ball up closer to the basket. The work of Bradley, the captain, was the best and especially worthy of mention.

The game last evening was a very befitting finish for the successful season of the varsity. Out of the seventeen games played they have won eleven. This gives them a good percentage for the season. The team has played more games with eastern teams than on any previous season and made a good showing. In last night's game the work of the boys showed their consistent training and practice for the season. Hagensick and Burruss did fine work. Burruss's work at guard was without criticism. Krake, who has substituted this year, played a good game at forward. Meyer and Bowman entered the game at the latter end of the last half.

William Jewell defeated Wesleyan on Wednesday night by a score of 39 to 32. Tonight they play Tarkio College at Tarkio, Mo.

The lineup of last night's game was as follows:

Nebraska. William Jewell.
FORWARDS.
Krake, Burruss Bradley
Hagensick Prince
CENTER.
Moser, Meyer Burke
GUARDS.
Burruss, Bowman Shoop
Bell Leadbetter
Officials—Referee, J. B. Tenix; Umpire, Dr. Clapp.

The Auditorium skating rink seems to retain its popularity with the students, for a crowd of them are to be found there every afternoon and evening. Get into the game and come along.

The Co-op has just received a fine lot of pennants which are certainly the finest lot seen in the city this year. They will surely please the taste of even their most fastidious customers.
