Editorial Remarks

Prom. a Success.

From every point but that of attendance the Senior Prom, which was held Friday night at the Lincoln was a decided success. Music, decorations and refreshments were better than the ordinary. Dancing was begun early enough to prove the excellence of a less number as compared to a greater number of dances on the program.
Forty couples, including quite a num-

Fraternity Legislation.

Some queer bills have recently come up in the legislatures of several states. An attempt was made to make the playing of football a crime, to disqualify a football player for injuring another player, and now there is a bill in the Minnesota legislature to abolish Greek letter societies in the University of Minnesota. The Daily Minnesotan contains the following interview with President Faunce of Brown University, and the opinion of a supporter of the anti-fraternity bill:

"The bill introduced into the legislature to abolish fraternities has succeeded in again arousing the oft-mooted question.

"President Faunce in an interview published in a city paper ably sums up the situation:

"In the eastern colleges, the fraternity and sorority are held in high esteem, particularly those which have a definite aim toward which they are striving. I find in my work as president of Brown the strongest backing from the fraternities in the institution and it has been my pleasure to give such moral support to them as I am able.

"I might name numerous instances where had I not the support of the fraternity men I would have been at an utter loss to know how to have settled the matter in hand equitable to all concerned.

"The fraternities are to my mind one of the greatest influences in the colleges of this country. They can have influence for good or evil. They develop a man in countless instances where no other force could have drawn him out. The atmosphere surrounding the college fraternity life is such that the most lasting friendships are there culminated, friendships ending with death.

"No, I cannot say that it would be advisable to abolish the fraternity in the university and college of this country."

"Opposed to this opinion is the following rather extreme views held by an unnamed follower of Representative Rachie.

"Of the many organizations peculiar to colleges and universities, none en-

Communication.

Editor Daily Nebraskan: As secretary of the Union Society I submit the following resolution which was passed Friday evening, March 17, 1905:

"Resolved, That the Union Society bears with regret that it is impossible to secure a basketball game with either the Palladians or Delians according to the usual custom among the societies for the past several years, and farther that the secretary forward a copy of the resolutions to the above societies and to the Daily Nebraskan." joys such a notorious prominence, none exerts such a pernicious influence on the mental and moral character of the students as the well known secret society.

"Born a score of years ago in the cranium of some disciple of Union College who loved secrecy better than open fairness, fed and nourished by nether feelings and selfish aims, it has spread its clandestine, cankerous growth until today its insidious, stiffling grasp clings to nearly every college in the land."
