MAKE EVEN BREAK

Series Results in One Apiece and One Tie.

Nilsson's Pitching Furnishes Surprise for the Fans.

The baseball fans had a chance to see one of the fastest games of baseball yesterday that was ever played on the local diamond. The Varsity showed the leaguers a trick or two, by defeating them, 4 to 2. This ends the series with the percentage even for the two teams. Each winning a game and the third was a tie.

The way Nilsson fooled the Omaha men yesterday wasn't bad. They were not able to get a decent hit out of him until the seventh when they got two short hits and aided by an error brought in their only runs. Beside pitching good ball he did yeoman service with the slabstick. The support given him by the other men was gilt edge. The other Varsity men showed that they had no wrinkle in their batting clothes, and they whaled the luckless Omaha pitcher, Pfeister, for ten lucious swats, which included two three-baggers and a two-bagger. The fact of the matter is that the Varsity made Pa Rourke's colts rather nervous and sometimes you could hear "Butch" saying "hard luck." Probably he wished he could occupy Bender's place and in this way run in a few scores.

The Varsity made their runs in the first and second. In the latter they got busy with the stick and made three nice runs as Reddick, Rine and Hyde all crossed the plate. The Omaha men waited until the seventh before they decided to tally a few and two was the limit.

The support given the pitcher yesterday, Nilsson and Blake is especially worthy of mention. Every man was in his place and this proved to be right in the course of flight of the ball. But few errors were made by either team. The work of Bender as manipulator of the indicator was without censure.

THE SENIORS MEET.

A Quantity of Routine Business is Transacted.

The Senior Class met yesterday at 11 in the Chemistry Lecture Room for the transaction of routine business. The various committees reported what progress each had made.

Manager Brown stated that the Senior Annual would be placed on sale Tuesday, April 11th. He also stated that material which was to have made a book of only sixty pages when set up made one hundred and twenty-eight pages. This additional number of pages means that at least three hundred and fifty copies of the book must be sold.

Mr. Warren, chairman of the Commemoration Committee, owing to his having accepted a position, resigned and Roy Cochran was appointed chairman in his place. Neither the nature of the commemorative exercises nor the date have been decided upon.

Mr. Hunter, of the Ivy Day Committee, reported that plans for this day were well under way, and would consist of the usual class song, class poem, may-pole dance, etc. At his request the sentiment of the class regarding the date was ascertained. Contrary to faculty recommendations the class voted to set the date the latter part of May, instead of waiting until Commencement week.

No reports were had of the May Outing Committee nor of the Class Song Committee.

It was decided to organize a baseball team, and a captain is to be elected at once.

The Senior Prom Committee reported a deficit of $25.00, and the class decided to take over this deficit. A committee was appointed to fix a tax and collect from each man of the class enough to cancel the indebtedness.

The matter of graduation caps and gowns for the men was discussed to some extent.

The discussion of graduation costumes brought forth much unlooked for: talk both for and against the wearing of caps and gowns. So much feeling was manifest that a special meeting will probably be called to consider this question further.

Exhibition Tonight.

The exhibition given tonight at the Armory has two features of the program that are especially worthy of mention. These are the Hamburg drill by the second year class, and the pyramid work.

The Hamburg drill is all free hand work and very interesting. The men have been practicing for this about a month and have it down to a fine point. This drill originated in Germany where the gymnastic teams congregated every year in Hamburg for a tournament and give the drill.

The pyramid building will be by far the most interesting stunt of the evening. Most of the men in this work have done a great deal of gymnastic work and are well equipped for this feat.

All in all this will be one of the most interesting exhibitions ever given to a Lincoln public. If it proves a success this year, it will become an annual event.

The proceeds of this exhibition will be devoted to defraying the expense incurred in sending a gymnastic team to represent Nebraska in Chicago in the near future.

Convocation.

Dr. J. M. Mayhew gives another of his popular organ recitals this morning at Convocation.

PRIZES AWARDED

Three Rewards for High Scholarship Given.

Eleven High Men in the Freshman Law Class.

Last night the names of the three members of the Freshman Law Class, awarded prizes for excellence in first year studies were announced. The three students who attained the highest rank in studies of the first semester and who will receive the prizes offered by a member of the Nebraska Bar are as follows:

First—O. A. Bergren, average 96.
Second—J. D. Clark, average 95+.
Third—N. S. Brown, average 94+.

The prizes will be standard law books selected by the Dean of the College and will be presented to the successful students in a few days. Last year the three prizes were awarded to Theodore T. Johnson, Charles D. Ritchie and George Lantz.

In addition to the winners of the prizes honorable mention was made of eight other students who obtained an average of 90 or over in their first semester's work. The averages were computed from the grades received in the four branches of the Freshman Law Course, namely: Common Law, Property, Contracts and Torts. Last year only six men attained the average of 90 while eleven men received that grade this year. The names of those who received excellent grades are:

Fourth—L. P. Hewett, average, 93.
Fifth—G. F. Cowan, average, 92+.
Sixth—B. F. Butler, average 92.
Seventh—C. A. Sawyer, average 91.
Eighth—J. R. Green, average, 91+.
Eighth—M. L. Corey, average, 91+.
Tenth—L. Lilliasen, 90+.
Eleventh—J. L. Davidson, 90+.

Palladian Program.

April 7, 1905.

Piano solo Miss Strickland
Inaugural address Mr. Peterson
Story Miss Petrashek
Recitation Mr. Roy Clark
Medley Miss Dye
Recitation Miss Erickson
Vocal solo Mr. Turner

The Palladian Society held an election of officers for the rest of the semester at their business meeting last Friday evening. The following were elected: President, F. A. Peterson; vice president, Roy Clark; recording secretary, Miss Erickson; corresponding secretary, Miss Greenwald; executive board, Sherman Black, Nellie Miller and James Anderson; program secretary, Miss Dye; musical secretary, Mr. Turner; historian, Mr. Phillips; critic, Mr. Borg; senator, Miss Strickland; sargent-at-arms, Miss Petrashek. The officers of the society are elected three times a year.

S. Goldman has secured a position under the United States Department of Forestry and will leave in a few days for Holsey, Nebraska, to begin work of the Forest Reserve. Mr. Goldman is a student in the Forestry course and it is doubtless through the excellence of his work in that Department that he has been able to secure the position.
