In Other Colleges

Cornell was defeated Sunday, in baseball, by Nashville league team. Score 8-0.

The famous Harvard class of 1880, of which President Roosevelt is a member, will celebrate its 5th anniversary by making the college a gift of $100,000.

The Knox College Student comes out in the form of an extra edition to announce the donation by Andrew Carnegie of $50,000. The gift is to be applied on the construction of a new library.

The football authorities at Columbia have adopted a new system of graduate coaching to go into effect this coming season. The plan is to have a head coach, with two subordinate field coaches instead of one, as in previous years. In addition to these there will be three advisory coaches.

Harvard men have organized a club to entertain visiting athletic teams. This is indeed highly commendable. Often the visiting team gets but the merest glimpse of the University and the city and carries away impressions entirely false. Whether a club is necessary to extend such hospitality is questionable.—Ex.

The authorities of the University of Pennsylvania will introduce into the curriculum, beginning October 1, 1905, a course in public health. This innovation looks toward filling a constantly growing demand throughout the country for officials specially trained in matters pertaining to public health. The course will include instruction under the following headings: Sanitary engineering, sanitary legislation, inspection of meat, milk, etc., social and vital statistics in the United States, general hygiene and personal hygiene.

The English Club meets tonight with Miss Dean at 1632 O street.
