

The Daily Nebraskan

STILL UNDECIDED

Judges For Iowa Debate Not Yet Chosen.

Two Universities Unable to Agree On Choices.

Arrangements are almost completed for the big debates, which will come off next Friday and Tuesday evenings. One important matter, however, still remains suspended in mid-air—the question of judges. The judges for the Washington debate have been selected but an unusual amount of trouble is being experienced in the selection for the Iowa contest. Several letters containing nominations for judges have passed between the two Universities, but so far the debating boards have been unable to agree upon judges satisfactory to both parties. According to the compact each university submits to the other the names of nine men qualified to serve as judges. Out of these the visiting college selects one judge and the home school two. Iowa experienced no difficulty in selecting an adequate judge from the list sent by the Debating Board, but out of the list sent by Iowa several are, in the opinion of the Debating Board, totally disqualified to serve in the capacity of judge and although two or three gentlemen possessed the necessary qualifications, these have informed us of their inability to serve. Secretary Waldron is busy corresponding with Iowa and it is hoped that the matter will be settled before twenty-four hours have passed. Only a very short time remains before the date set for the debate and some apprehension exists that the final selection of judges may delay or even cause the debate to be called off. However, a majority of those in a position to know the circumstances have little fear that the trouble will not be settled in due time.

Arrangements for music for both debates have been concluded. One of the Glee Club quartets will sing at the Iowa debate, Friday evening, and the University Cadet Band will furnish music for the Washington debate Tuesday evening. The presiding officers have not yet been decided upon. William J. Bryan has been invited to preside at one debate, but will be unable to accept, having an engagement out of the city on both evenings. Senator E. J. Burkett will possibly preside at one debate.

Tickets for the debates went on sale yesterday and may be procured from any member of the debating association, or at the Co-op. and Harry Porter's where they are on sale. Both debates, coming within such a short interval between, a new plan of selling one ticket to both contests has been followed. The price of tickets which admit to both debates is fifty cents. To those desiring to attend one debate, single tickets will be sold at thirty-five cents.

The Nebraska Entomological Society will meet in the Entomology Laboratory this evening at 7:30. Papers will be read on subjects of interest to the entomologist and every one interested in the subject is invited to attend the meeting.

Another bottle of Fraternity spirit was opened on the athletic field yesterday afternoon when the Phi Psi's and the Delta Us crossed bats. The Phi Psi's split almost half of it when "Captain Bill" Ramsey limped over the first score of the game. The remaining enthusiasm sizzled and bubbled, like a well shaken bottle of pop, and reached the "boiling over" point several times later in the game. "Pat" Day, left field for Delta U's caused a flurry several times by making sensational catches, but with all their efforts the Delta's were not able to run in more than one run and left the field with a score of 5 to 1 in favor of the Phi Psi's.

Plans are already well under way for an elaborate Commencement Week Concert. The oratorio of "Elijah" will be given by the University Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Raymond. The chorus will be assisted by excellent soloists. The baritone soloist is a singer of much renown, of New York City, and the others are equally good. A fine string orchestra will be secured to render the orchestral parts of the production, greater attention is being given to this feature of Commencement Week than ever before.

The class teams are evidently playing baseball this year, if the records made by the Freshmen and Sophomore teams yesterday count for anything. The Freshmen walked all over Wesleyan to the tune of 15 to 4, while the Sophomores held Cotner University team down to a 1 to 0 score. Both these games were seven innings.

Large Sale.

Of the three hundred and fifty sales of Senior Annuals which were necessary to get into clear sailing three hundred and twenty were made yesterday, and the Omaha Medics as yet have not sent in their order. This is probably the largest sale of one single day that any University book has ever made. Today no books will be on sale on the campus but copies can be had at either of the book stores. Usually it is necessary to keep books on sale at different points on the campus for a week succeeding the appearance of the publication. The order from the Omaha Medics is expected to more than make up the needed three hundred and fifty.

Co. B. Hop.

The annual Company B hop, the last but one of the informals on the social calendar will be held Friday evening at Fraternity Hall. This, usually one of the best patronized of University dances, and the affair this year promises to be as enjoyable as former ones. Eddie Walt's orchestra will furnish the music. A program of twenty numbers will be given, with no extras. Dancing will begin at 9:30. R. H. White is chairman and G. W. Cheney master of ceremonies. Tickets are one dollar. The proceeds of the dance are to be devoted to the annual banquet given each spring by Company B.

Drill With Innes.

The Pershing Rifles did some of their "drill stunts" at the Innis Band Concert last night. The company met at 7:15 and after going through their regular drill, marched over to the Auditorium, where they entertained the audience by a brisk and snappy drill. The exhibition was very creditable to the military work of the University.

GYM TEAM CHOSEN

Only Two Men to Represent Nebraska at Chicago.

Gymnastic Meet to Consist of Seven Events.

O. S. Copeland, '07, and B. C. Johnson, Law '07, have been chosen to represent the University of Nebraska at the Western Intercollegiate Gymnasium meet which is to be held in the Bartlett Gymnasium of the University of Chicago this coming Saturday, April 15th.

The list of events to be competed in are seven in number, comprising the long horse, side horse, parallel bars, horizontal bars, flying rings, tumbling and club swinging. The winner of first place in each event receives five points which count for the team represented and also for the individual gymnastic championship which is to be awarded at the end of the contest. Second place is given three points and the third one. Five men may be entered from each college represented, but only three are allowed to start in each event. Nebraska will be somewhat handicapped by having only two men to represent her, as a chance for the one point in third place is lessened.

The contestants are to be judged upon four points: the approach, the mount, the stunt and the dismount.

Owing to only a fair attendance and the heavy advertising necessary the proceeds of the gymnastic exhibition given Friday were sufficient to send only two men to the Chicago meet, when it had been planned to send three.

Johnson and Copeland leave Friday night, and from form displayed in the gym for sometime past are expected to give a good account of themselves and make Nebraska's advent into the gymnastic world as successful as was her advent into cross country running.

"Blue Print" Out.

The Engineering Annual, "The Nebraska Blue Print," will be ready for distribution tomorrow. The demand for their publication has increased from year to year as the whole student body, other colleges, and people outside, have learned what the nature of the publication is, and the class of work it contains.

The "Blue Print" for this year equals in every way if not surpassing the previous publications. Several new features have been introduced. The "Blue Print" board have spared neither time nor energy to get the most up-to-date articles and combine them into a book of the best material. Most of these articles they have illustrated by handsome engravings.

The one feature of the "Blue Print" the Alumni directory of our Engineers and what they are doing is something that no Engineering student can afford to be without as well as being of great interest to others.

Senior baseball men meet on the athletic field Thursday at Chapel time to elect a captain. MANAGER.
