Professor Barber Returns.

Professor Barber, who represented Nebraska at the first annual Conference of Classical Teachers held in Chicago last Friday and Saturday reports a very pleasant time and a most successful meeting. About one hundred and seventy-five classical teachers were present, and twentythree states and territories in the Middle West and South were represented. Meetings are to be held every year in May, and the place of meeting will alternate between Chicago and St. Louis, the place of meeting for 1906 being in St. Louis.

It was decided to publish a classical journal devoted to science, pedagogy and general items of interest, ley of good cheer that it was doubtful the journal to consist of twelve num- for a time if the supply would hold bers of about six hundred pages. The publication is to be sent to every member of the association upon the payment of the $2.00 membership fee.

Professor Barber presided over one of the pregrams at the Conference and was chosen a member of the executive board of the new association.

services celebrating the centennial of the death of Schiller on Tuesday evening. The celebration was worthy of the love and esteem with which the great German poet is held not only in his Fatherland but all over the civilized world. The exercises thanks to the indefatigible efforts of Professor Fossler, were decidedly successful. The best musical talent in the city, including Mrs. H. Finley Helms, Miss Julia McCune, Mr. Joseph Wurtzburg, Prof. Clemens Movius and Miss Nelly Griggs, rendered German selections, both instrumental and vocal. Much credit is due to the German students, Misses Lumery, Woodsmall, Meyer, Rademacher and Messrs. Hrubesky, Denney, Peterson and Aron for the excellent manner in which they rendered parts of Schiller's most famous plays.

Professor Fossler gave the address of the evening in "Schiller, a Force in Modern Culture." After reviewing briefly the earlier life of Schiller and his first works, "The Robbers" and dwelt at some length upon the poet's great work, "Don Carlos." Underlying this Drama was the Eighteenth Century ideal of freedom and liberty, taught by Rousseau and manifested in College the Declaration of Independence.

> The later life of Schiller after his friendship with Goethe began was marked by intense Hellism. Schiller saw in the love of the beautiful the chief method of elevating men to higher and nobler ideals.

> Professor Fossler then pointed out the differences between the poet Goethe and Schiller.

> Goethe appealed to the intellect of men, Schiller to the emotion. He concluded with the noble tribute paid to Schiller by his brother poet Goethe.

> The condition of Prof. F. C. French, who underwent a serious operation on Sunday, was reported last evening to be very favorable.

Company B Reception.

Captain White entertained Company B at the Phi Delta Theta House last Monday evening in a manner that aroused great enthusiasm among the men. After a few rounds of peanuts, fruit and other refreshments some of the old men took command. They were all loaded to the muzzle with enthusiasm and each fired such a volout. Ringer started out at about 1,000 yards, hitting the bull's eye every time with experiences of the good old days. Waldron, Hewitt, Towne and McCallum followed up at double time shortening the range and smashing the target until Captain Chase took up the charge, unfixed bayonetts and at a rapid fire gait told the boys how In spite of the inclement weather a Company B could win the coveted large audience heard the memorial cup. The battle field was at fever heat when White brought up the heavy artillery with a history of B company's colors and plea for morning drills. The soldiers dispersed with a firm determination that Company B was to be the cup company this year.

Breakfast a Success.

The Annual May Morning Breakfast given at St. Paul's Church last Saturday morning by the girls of the University Y. M. C. A. proved to be an excellent success and the neat sum of fifty dolars was cleared above expenses by the management. The net proceeds of the affair are unusually large and the management of the breakfast is to be congratulated on its success. The management desires to express its thanks to all the sororities of the University for so kindly lending their efforts in the attempt to make it a success; to the literary societies which rendered the same valuable service; to the domestic science girls who aided in cooking and serving the 'Cabel and Love." Prof. Fossler breakfast; and to the city merchants who furnished the 'eatables."

The following is the financial report of the May Morning Breakfast: Tickets sold and door receipts $88.25

Expenses-Groceries and cream..... 19.09 Incidental ..... 6.00 Balance on hand_.....$56.16

Mr .Rice Visits.

Mr. John D. Rice, editor of the Nebraskan for 1903-04, paid the University a flying visit yesterday to renew his college spirit and incidentally vote for the right men at the Athletic Board election. Rice, who is now reporting for the Omaha World-Herald, tells of daily scoops over the Omaha Bee and News, and is evidently keeping up the record he made in school when be never failed to scoop the local papers

A display of fraternity and University pictures tastily arranged in one of Miller & Paine's big display windows is attracting considerable attention among University students. The photographs are by Townsend and represent almost every University organization.

C. E. Cotton returned yesterday morning from Colorado Springs where he went as a delegate from the local chapter of Sigma Chi to aid in the establishing of a chapter of that fraternity in Colorado College.
