Editorial Remarks

In Memoriam.

The Annual May Outing. Oh, dear.
The Seniors yesterday bowed to the inevitable and decided, much against the will of many of the class, to take a May outing, instead of following the time honored custom of having a Sneak Day. The May outing is to be taken if the faculty is willing and a committee has been appointed to prepare a petition supplicating favor and imploing mercy for the one day absent Seniors.

And the maidens of '05 will repair to the woods clad, not in comfortable outing garments, but in gowns of daintiest fabric and with their daintiest of complexions and most proper smiles, while the youths will go dressed not as for a holiday, in neglige attire, but with neatly creased trousers, immaculate linen and hair parted just so. Chaperones, averaging at least one to each couple, will take be taken along to make the May Outing the more enjoyable. Perhaps, also, a few checker boards, ping-pong sets and games of tiddle-de-winks will be brought to add their interest to the outing of 1905.

And the spirit of the Sneak Day dead, of the once lively Sneak Day, with its storied memories, its frolics, its wholesome joys, made sweeter by the fact that the stolen fruits are sweetest, the spirit of Sneak Day made sacred by the legends and traditions which cling around the merest mention of its name like fragrant memories round the shattered rose jar—requiescat in pace.

Girls' Athletic Entries.

A great deal of enthusiasm is being manifested by the girls in their athletic meet Saturday morning. The entries are many and contain the most prominent girl athletes in the University.
The twenty-five yard dash and thirty-two yard hurdles have the most entries and competition should be keen in these events. The hurdles will be two feet six inches high and there will be three in the thirty-two yards. The ing are as follows:

More Sombrero.

The Sombrero as planned and as has been carried out will contain sketches and pictures of every side of school life. Every organization and department will have representation in this book. The management has surely planned to give the students a book well worth the money and one that will be a keepsake.

Every class will be represented in this book with the exception of the Senior class. The Junior laws will have a class picture besides jokes and roasts which apply to the law school.
In this way the law school will be well represented. All the organizations will be represented such as In-nocents, Black Masque, Literary Societies, Fraternities and Sororities.
With these organizations will be given a page to the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and several of the clubs.

Athletics will be well taken care of by giving cuts of the football, baseball, basket ball, girls' basket ball, track, and tennis teams. Besides this there will be an article written by ex-Manager Davis on "Athletics." A good collection of snap shots of football games and track events will be given with the Athletic department of the book. A story in the Literary department will attract more than ordinary interest as it gives a side of the football game not often portrayed.

The Military department of the Sombrero will contain a full page picture of each company, a picture of the commissioned and non-commissioned officers, and one of Commandant Chase. With these will be cuts giving the realistic side of camp life, and some of the amusing incidents of the cadets in camp.

department of the accounts and pictures of Nebraska victorious debating teams. Prof. Fogg has written a sketch for the book on Nebraska's system, and Phil Harrison has drawn a cartoon giving the laughable side of this system. These are a few of the interesting things that go to make up this department of the annual.

From the above it can be readily seen that the Sombrero of 1905 will be a representative book.

Rain Stops Game.

Rain put an end to the ball game with Knox College at Galesburg yesterday afternoon during the fifth inning. Neither team had scored when the game was called. The Varsity had made one hit to Knox's three and one error to their two. Nilsson and West were opposing pitchers. The team plays Iowa today and Creighton tomorrow.

The Botany department has secured sections of the trees recently cut on the campus and the boys in the Study of Woods have been detailed to label them correctly. They will be put in the wood collection belonging to the University.
