Campus Gleanings

Dr. Smith will give a Commencement address at Dorchester Friday evening, May 19.

The baseball game between the Sophomores and the Laws yesterday resulted in a victory for the Laws by a score of 7 to 6.

The work on the Administration Building has been delayed somewhat by the tardiness in arriving of the detailed plans for the terra cotta work.

Dr. Smith will give a paper before the Child Study Department of the National Educational Association, which meets at Asbury Park, July 3rd to 7th.

The Superintendent of Construction is finishing the drawings for the equipment for the Physics Building and the newly erected building for the School of Agriculture at the State Farm.

The result of the Bibliography competition of the law students has been announced as follows: First prize, Claude Davis; second prize, George Lanz. The prizes will consist of books selected by the winners within the limits of Dean Pound's offer of March 1.

John Rowe & Co., of Omaha, who were awarded the contract for the plumbing and gas fitting of the Physics Building, are now installing the apparatus. The work being done by the firm is considered to be exceptionally good and is about the best of the kind ever done in any of the buildings on the campus.

Now open—New Windsor hotel cafe. Restaurant and lunch counter for ladies' and gentlemen. Popular prices.
