Editorial Remarks

Sunday Address.

"Citizenship" is a subject which ought to appeal to every man attending a great state educational institution, such as the University of Nebraska. It is not only the duty of the men in this University, but it is a privilege to learn everything possible on this important subject, in order that those for whom the people of the state are spending a vast sum of money annually, should be best fitted to return to the state, what the state has expended in their behalf. Hon. George W. Berge, who will deliver the address, is so well known to Nebraska people that no extended remarks are necessary. Mr. Berge received his college training in Indiana and Illinois, coming to Lincoln in the spring of 1890, where he has been identified with all the best interests of the city and of the state. He stands for a clean public life, and believes that there is a place for the young man in politics.
Mr. Berge's experience in public affairs eminently qualifies him to speak to college men on this vital question.

A large number of University men will remember having heard Miss Maud Kendall on two occasions before the vast audiences at the Oliver last winter, and for this reason she hardly needs an introduction to University men. Those who have never heard her should make inquiry and they will be assured, on every hand, of the treat which is in store for the audience of Sunday. With the noted speaker and well known singer on the program Art Hall should be packed to its full capacity. The management feels that this meeting cannot be too highly recommended to University men, and that no man can afford to miss it.
Meeting will begin promptly at 3 and close at 4 o'clock sharp. There will be but one more Sunday afternoon meeting this year and every member of the University Y. M. C. A. is urged to attend and contribute his share to make them the most successful.

"Dek" Clinton, '02 Writes.

Assamooosick, Va., May 14, 1905.

My Dear Editor:
I haven't seen a Nebraskan for two months, but now that I have settled down I may be able to get the use of them for this year.

I left Baltimore and the Western Maryland railroad shortly after Inauguration and came down here for this company as transit man on location.
We certainly struck some bad country the worst of it being in Dismal Swamp, where, for a week, we were in water and mud up to our waists.

About a week ago I was appointed resident engineer and am now in the best country I have yet seen, and I think it is the heaviest work on the 100 miles they are building. Will have two pretty good size bridges; one over Assamooosick Swamp and one over Notaway River, besides ten miles of grading on this residency.

I heard today that R. A. Traill, '97, was working for this company a Roanoke, but would probably be given the Suffolk residency. I certainly pity him if he gets it, for that is the one that takes in Dismal Swamp.

We have a fine boarding place. It's in a real old Southern mansion on a 700-acre plantation. Last night we were invited to go to a "fish fry." The shad have been "running" for some time up the Notaway and we weren't disappointed last night; we had enough niggers to haul the seine and they also fried the fish so we had none of the dirty work to do. We sat on the bank and smoked our pipes and mixed mint juleps, and then ate all the fish we wanted.

It rained to beat the band before we got home, but that's a minor detail.
Yours as ever,
S. D. CLINTON, '02.

In the Law School.

One of the most interesting cases of the semester was tried in the District Court of the Law School Wednesday afternoon. The evidence was thoroughly sifted, the trial consuming the entire afternoon. The case was Meleer vs. the Nebraska Telephone Company. The attorneys for the plaintiff were Gibson & Black and the counsel for the defendant Buffington & Hendrickson.

The jury found a verdict of $149 for the plaintiff.

Wednesday evening the case of Dunley vs. the State of Nebraska was heard in the Supreme Court. A. G.
Abbott counselled for the plaintiff and F. W. Gibbs and M. S. McDuffey for the defendant.

Class as Usual.

No classes will be excused today. It was decided that there should be no interruption in the University routine for High School Fete Day for two reasons. There are a number of half holidays breaking in upon the working hours between now and the end of the semester, and then, too, it was thought that the University in full operation would be of more interest to the visitors than if we should shut up shop.

The recently elected Innocents were initiated last night. Following the initiation ceremonies was a banquet which was attended by some forty members of the Innocents.
