In Other Colleges

There are 194 girls in the graduating class at Vassar, and it is said more than a score of them are engaged to be married.

Student occupants of the Winthrop dormitory at Harvard reported this week to the police that securities and jewels to the value of $1,000 have been stolen from their rooms.

Last Thursday the Cornell students held their third annual Spring Day Celebration. It was a sort of an imitation fair or circus. The object of these celebrations is to raise money to support athletics and at this one about two thousand dollars was realized.

The Men's Club of Northwestern University, a recently organized association of all men of the university, has rented quarters in Evanston and the formal opening of the club house was held Saturday evening. The object of the club is to promote fellowship among the students and to augment Northwestern spirit. It bids fair to become a success.

For the first time in thirty years the annual inter-collegiate track and field meet held on Franklin field at Philadelphia went to one of the eastern universities outside the "Big Four," Cornell winning over Yale with a margin of 21-2 points less than Yale. The final score was as follows: Cornell, 30 1-2; Yale, 28; Harvard, 20 1-2; Pennsylvania, 18; Princeton, 15; Colgate, 8; Amherst, 8; Syracuse, 6; Stevens, 3; Swarthmore, 3; Columbia, 1; Haverford, 1.

A new plan is to be adopted next year in regard to work in the Princeton University gymnasium. All Freshmen will be notified to report at assigned hours to undergo a rigid physical examination and upon this examination will be based a prescribed course of exercise planned to develop each man in the direction in which he is most lacking. A second examination will be given, if desired later in the year to show any development that may have been gained. These examinations will be optional with men in the three upper classes.

The plan of the three lower classes of the Academic Department at Yale announced May 1 to raise by undergraduate subscription enough to cover the College deficit of $5,000, has been more than realized. The movement was started by the Junior Class, and in a little over three weeks a total of $5,250 has been pledged. Of this, $2,125 was subscribed by eighty-five members of the Junior Class in shares of $25. A week later the Sophomores took up the matter and contributed seventy-two shares of $25, a total of $1,800. Last week the Freshman Class was asked to support the movement, and responded liberally with forty-nine contributions of $25 each, amounting to $1,225. The rest was raised by smaller subscriptions from all three classes.
