

ABOUT PEOPLE

Joseph T. Votava, the 1911 law graduate who was for three years a member of the intercollegiate debating association, and who delivered last year's Ivy Day oration, is practicing law in Omaha in connection with A. W. Jeffries at the Omaha National Bank building.

Dana VanDusen has gone to Omaha for several days to visit his parents, who have just returned from an extended trip in the south.

Miss Bessie Roberts, a senior, who was one of the victims of the recent typhoid fever epidemic, is out of the hospital after several weeks of severe illness. Though much better she will not resume her school work until next week.

C. H. Frey, florist, 1133 O St.

S. V. Shonka, of David City, captain of the 1911 football team, was in the city last week.

R. C. Brownell, Acacia 1912, has accepted the superintendency of the Hooper public schools.

Richard Westover, Kappa Sigma, 1915, is out of school with a severe case of typhoid fever.

Invitations have been issued for the biennial formal party of Alpha Tau Omega, to be held March 15, at the Lincoln hotel.

Kappa Kappa Gamma had as guests over Sunday: Betty Penny, Ola Belle Hervey, Anne Dennis, and Adalyn Wood of Omaha; Etta May Gravelle, Irene Bailey and Theo Hansen of Fairbury, and Mrs. Fred Albertson of Kansas City.

Miss Edith Wright, ex-1911, of Schuyler is visiting her sister, Anne, at the Delta Gamma house.

George Bros., expert printers, engravers and embossers, 13th and N.

Hugh W. Craig, who was a Phi Beta Kappa and a member of the inter-collegiate debating seminary, and who became a scholar in philosophy at Cornell after his graduation in '07, has a page article on the Rhodes Scholarship in the Jan. 11th issue of the Youth's Companion. Mr. Craig now resides at Berkeley, California.

Charles A. Sunderland, an '07 graduate, who took a prominent part in intercollegiate debating, is making a big reputation as a lawyer in Boise, Idaho. He has recently written an extended article in the Boise Evening Capital News on "Some Phases of Conservation in Idaho."

C. I. Sellon, of Omaha, spent Sunday at the Phi Rho Sigma house.

Dr. H. H. Waite was called to Omaha to give expert testimony in a criminal case last Friday.

Russel Philp and Paul Shields of South Omaha were visitors Saturday and Sunday at the Phi Psi house.

Saturday morning tests were made under the direction of Professor Chaburn of several samples of concrete from the roof of the local Commercial club building, which was frozen before it set. The tests of the four panels showed the maximum loads to vary from 687 pounds to 1,166 pounds per square inch. The kind of concrete used in this roof should test about 2,000 pounds per square inch. The Commercial club has ordered the faulty panels removed.

Don't fiddle along on one string when you can just as well have four.

The only string some clothes have is style—and even it is often out of tune.

Our spring Kensingtons have four strings—style fabric, quality and fit.

These seldom appear in ready-for-service clothes.

In none do they appear to the extent that you'll find them in our Kensingtons.

George M. Tunison, an '08 law graduate, who has been practicing in Omaha, has been on the Omaha and Winnebago Indian reservation for several months as special agent of the department of the interior. He is engaged in the task of settling the titles to the numerous estates of deceased Indians.

R. Ryner, a Phi Beta Kappa man and an intercollegiate debater who took an A. B. degree at Nebraska in 1904 and graduated from the law college of Harvard in 1907, has recently become a member of the law firm of Fyffe, Addock and Ryner at Chicago.

FARM NOTES.

The three corn specials touring the state are still meeting large crowds, although many farmers have to wade snow drifts to reach the cars. The message of the tourists is: Test your seed corn and raise your own corn, instead of sending east for it.

Floyd George, a freshman at the Farm, has withdrawn from school and returned to his home near Superior.

The Ophellian Literary society held its regular meeting Friday night. The feature of the program was a playlet entitled, "On the Slow Train to Podunk," by members of the sophomore class.

The question for the inter-society debate, which will occur some time in April, was announced as, "Resolved, That secondary agricultural education should be afforded in every congressional district, instead of the high school." The Ophellian society has the affirmative and the Davisson the negative. Tryouts for the society teams will be held soon.

Several of the Aggies' best players are barred from the state high school basketball tournament. Rouse, the star guard, cannot play because he is a graduate of a four-year high school.

Plumer and Aker are out because they are twenty-one years of age. This is a severe blow to the team's prospects, as they were regular players. This leaves the eligible squad made up of Porter, Gaddis, Neafus, forwards; Johnston (Capt.), Daubendick, centers, and Willard, Phelps and Bull, guards.

Ray Carpenter, '11, visited at the State Farm Saturday.

The Saturday morning convocation at the Farm was devoted to a Y. M. C. A. rally. Principal Hunter and Secretary Arnold were the leading speakers. As the result of the energetic efforts of the Y. M. C. A. members, the association is growing rapidly.

Snowfall Not Abnormal.

There seems to be an impression that an abnormal amount of snow has fallen this winter. There certainly is reason for such, in that there still remains the larger part of two big snows. However, statistics show that only 31.2 inches have fallen thus far.
