

TO GIVE FANCY DRILL HERE

SHAM BATTLE AND GRAND REVIEW LIKELY TO BE PRESENTED ON CAMPUS.

Butts manual, the fancy drill of the infantry, will probably be given by one of the companies, to the accompaniment of the band. And if there is time, after this program is carried out, there will be a sham battle between several companies. It has never been possible for the rest of the school to see one of these famous "battles," for they have always been given at camp. If time allows, however, it will be given on the campus this year, as well as at camp.

As a fitting climax to the afternoon's program, there will be a grand review of the entire regiment, with all the pomp and ceremony for which the army is noted. The columns of marching companies will pass by the winning company, giving "eyes right" to their better fellows, and the day will be ended in the way which is fitting for so large a department of the school as the military department.

For this event the entire grandstand will be reserved, but tickets will be given free. The plan is to make the event one of such general interest that the school will be there en masse, and those who wish may be sure of seats. The Innocents will aid in furthering the plans of competition and arousing interest, and so, backed by the military department, the Innocents and the school at large, the drill this year should be one of the big events of the season.

THIRD YEAR TEAM DEFEATS THE SOPHOMORES IN LAST INTER-CLASS CONTEST.

The junior debating team succeeded in upholding the honor of the class of 1913 when, in the debate yesterday at the ten o'clock convocation, which preceded the Phi Beta Kappa announcements, it defeated the sophomore team by a two to one decision.

The sophomore debaters had the difficult task of upholding the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, That the movement for the recall of judges should receive the support of public opinion." The speakers were as follows: Sophomores, Clark Dickenson, Raymond Smith and Harvey Hess; juniors, Clayton S. Radcliffe, Harry Burtis and Jerome Forbes. Joseph Noon was the alternate for the sophomores and Allen Bechter for the juniors.

The debate was almost perfectly balanced until the rebuttal speeches were begun. The juniors won their case here.
