Reporters Wanted.

To fill the vacancy on the repertorial staff the "Rag" needs a reporter who is familiar with the Botany and Geology departments, and who can take the time and energy to get every bit of news that these departments offer. The opportunity for news from this source is one worth consideration, in fact, one which cannot well be overlooked.

Applicants are asked to call at the "Rag" office any afternoon between 3:30 and 5 o'clock.

Crews Meet Difficulties.

Crews at the different universities are being badly delayed this spring by the weather conditions. During the two weeks that it has been possible for the Syracuse men to take to the water at all, ice has been encountered which made the longest free path about a half mile long. Under these conditions the men will have difficulty in getting into proper form. Pennsylvania has been the most fortunate and has had more chance to get its men out.

FLOODS DELAY DANCERS.

Alumni Miss Several Numbers as Result of Blocked Train.

Several former Nebraska students met heartrending delays on account of the floods Friday. A number of alumni from Omaha were coming down for one of the formal parties on the 6 o'clock train.

An ice gorge had formed above the bridge at Ashland and the engineer was afraid to run the train across until it had broken. This took some two hours and a half.

In the meantime the young men were getting anxious. They attempted to telegraph to the young women in Lincoln. The hard-hearted ticket agent refused to send any message except one relating to the railroad company's business.

The train finally pulled into Lincoln about 9 p. m., and the alumni started an undignified footrace to the Lincoln hotel.

There's nothing in spring styles as popular as the English model.

The cut above shows the Kuppenheimer adaptation of the idea.

Unpadded shoulders, soft rolling lapels, high closing vest, narrow trousers—English in idea but American in perfection of tailoring.

We've a full line of them—also everything else in spring togs for young men.
