MANY KINDS OF TREES.

Thirty Different Varieties Now Grow-ing on the Campus.

Do Nebraska students properly ap-preciate the beauty of their campus? The question came to us very forc-ibly when we overheard the chance

You can't drive a nail with a sponge--no matter how hard you "soak" it.

It's equally impossible to like clothes that have no satisfaction giving qual-ities.

Smartness in style, thro reliability in fabric and tailoring--these are qual-ities that satisfy.

In no clothes do they exist to a higher degree than in our Kensingtons and Kuppenheimers for spring.

$20 to $40.

$15 suits too, that are proportionately just as fine.

remark of a visiting professor, who said that we have ten more varieties of trees on our campus than any other college in the middle west. We have thirty varieties of trees in all; some of these are rare and seldom grown in the United States. How many have noticed the little olive tree in front of the chemical labora-tory or the imported German linden growing beside the walk between the Library and University hall?

It is these things that win for our campus the approval of visitors. Let it not be said that we are not as ap-preciative as they.
