

GOOD NEWS FROM CRETE CADETS ENJOY CAMP LIFE

(Special to the Daily Nebraskan)
CAMP AVERY May 15. The first day and a half finds the cadet regiment in the best of condition and spirit. Although the weather is pretty cold there is no suffering reported. For the most part, the men have fared better than the officers, as a certain degree of warmth is to be found in the ground and straw which is lacking in the elevated cots.

The camp is located about a mile from the town close to the Blue river where at certain periods the cadets are not denied the privilege of a dip. Strict discipline is being maintained, however, and but few complaints have been filed. One company is doing extra drill duty on account of disturbances in the company street Tuesday night. The trouble was short lived, however, for the supply of fire crackers was soon exhausted.

A hike of twelve miles was taken on Wednesday morning, the men returning in the evening pretty well fagged out. Problems in outposting and defense were entered into under the direction of Captain Yates.

The cadets are looking forward to the military hop Friday night. It will be a strictly University function, properly chaperoned, and friends from Lincoln are more than welcome.

Everybody well and happy.
 Love to all the folks at home.

Officials Visit camp.

Chancellor Avery, Professor Fred Hunter and Coach Stehm went to Crete yesterday, returning early in the afternoon. Chancellor Avery reported everything to be in good condition and seemed especially pleased with the "grub" that is being prepared by eight Burlington chefs. Commandant Yates is delighted with the way things are going and is keeping the boys at their drill faithfully.

WORKIZER MAY BE APPOINTED

Chancellor Trying to Secure the Appointment of Former Commandant.

Senator Norris Brown has written Chancellor Avery that he will immediately use his influence with the secretary of war to secure the appointment of Captain Workizer as commandant of the University regiment. The chancellor had written to the Nebraska congressman asking for this favor, if the time of Captain Yates here could not be extended. Senator Brown wrote, "I regret that the president cannot be persuaded to extend the time of Captain Yates."

Captain Workizer was formerly commandant of cadets at the University and was well liked by the officers and men, and every effort will be made to secure his appointment.

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY.

The Chance of a Life-Time for Two Young Men.

(The following ad came to The Daily Nebraskan from Mr. M. A. Carriker, Jr., an old Nebraska graduate, and can be relied upon.)

If you love the freedom of an out-of-door life in one of the finest climates in the world, the charm and fascination of the tropics, the novelty of life on a coffee plantation, and lastly, if you have a little capital to invest in a well-established, paying enterprise, you will answer this advertisement.

The Cincinnati Coffee Company of Santa Marta, Columbia, owning the largest and finest plantation in the Sierra Nevada de Santa Marta wants two capable young men to fill responsible positions in Columbia, who have capital to invest in the enterprise, and who mean business.

Applicants must be of good character, able to furnish unquestionable references, and, unless able to invest at least five thousand dollars, will not be considered. The company is taking this means of securing capable young men, who are not afraid to work, and who will have more than an ordinary employer's interest in its affairs.

The raising of coffee today offers one of the most remunerative fields in tropical agriculture, with the added advantage of being able to live in a delightful and healthful climate. The company's hacienda is situated at an altitude of 1,500 feet above sea level, with a climate rivaling that of southern California, and is absolutely free from the humid heat and tropical fevers of the lowlands. It is twenty miles from the Port of Santa Marta, which has weekly steamers, fitted with all modern conveniences, for New York and Liverpool.

Full information as to the company's financial condition and reliability will be furnished to all applicants who mean business. The fact that 3,800 bags of coffee were harvested on the company's hacienda this year is an ample guarantee of its stability.

Applicants must have a good working knowledge of bookkeeping and office work, as well as the handling of stores and all work connected with a plantation store. Those having a working knowledge of the Spanish language will be given preference, while one must also have a practical knowledge of cattle raising.

The president of the company will be in the United States for the next two months, and all correspondence may be addressed to him as follows:
