FRESHMEN WIN TRACK MEET

Poor Time Made on Account of Slow Track—Sphinx Win Ball Game.

The annual Ivy Day track meet was held yesterday afternoon on the State Farm campus, resulting in a victory for the freshmen. A number of fast men entered and the contests were, in general, close. The most exciting race of the day was the low hurdles, in which all four entries finished hardly four feet apart. The only tie of the day was in the broad jump, for which the medal was awarded to Reece after tossing a coin with Mastin.

The baseball game between the Spikes and Sphinx resulted in a near farce. Art May received frequent bouquets for his beautiful work as umpire, and the pitcher, catcher and everybody else were taught how to do it from the side lines. The score was 8 to 1 in favor of the Sphinx.

Batteries Spikes, Graham and Dobbs; Sphinx, Long and Hyde.

The following men placed in the inter-class meet:

100 yard dash—First, Zumwinkel; second, Reece.

220 yard dash—First, Zumwinkel; second, Reece.

1 Mile—First, Wollenberg; second, Hudson.

Two mile—First, Hudson; second, Beck.

Half mile—First, Wollenberg; second, Clark.

440 yard dash—First, Clark; second, Zumwinkel.

High jump—First, Meier; second, Hansen.

Pole vault—First, Hansen; second, Caine.

Shot put—First, Hansen; second, Meier.

High hurdles—First, Halligan; second, Goetze.

Low hurdles—First, Scott; second, Halligan.

Broad jump—Tie, Reece and Mastin.

Discus—First, Meier; second, Ross.

NEBRASKA RANKS WELL.

Dean Bessey Gives University a Leading Place With Other Institutions.

In a recent interview with Dean Bessey, he said: "I have no fear but that we would be able to hold our own in rank with any of the state universities." This classification, of course, does not include Harvard, Columbia, Cornell or Johns Hopkins. Nebraska ranks high in this department with Leland Stanford, the University of California and other large colleges of the west.

With the exception of Texas, the Southern universities, though they send out many statesmen, have not made any great discoveries in science nor brought these departments to the high state of perfection which is sought for in the more practical Western schools.

PLAYERS GIVE CLEVER PLAY

Dramatic Club Cast Presents Japanese Sketch Before a Large Audience.

"The Revenge of Shari-Hat-Su," presented by the Dramatic Club at the State Farm last night, was appreciated by a large and enthusiastic audience. The night was perfect for an open air performance, and the crowd seated before the make-shift stage could easily hear everything that was said by the players.

The play was filled with many witty sayings that took exceedingly well with the audience, and on this account there was usually a laugh going on at all times.

Ralph Northrup, in the part of Kisoto, did very excellent work; his acting was very clever and his voice carried clearly to all listeners. Sama, as presented by Earl Sage, was also well done; Mr. Sage had no trouble in creating a laugh whenever he saw fit. Donald Marcellus, in the part of Harold Armstrong, made his first appearance before the footlights of University dramatics and should not go without a due amount of praise.

Of the girls, Beatrice Longtin, in the part of Mrs. Beaconstreet, showed much ability in the reading of her lines. Katherine Mockett is also a beginner in Nebraska dramatics, and did well in her part as Nina. Mildred Bevin as Mokuifa, and Flossie McKelvie as Toyama, both carried their respective parts well in keeping with the good acting of the rest of the cast.

In fact, for an open air performance, the play can well be commended.

DANCERS ENJOY HOP.

Holding Sophomore Dance at Capital Beach Draws Large Crowd.

Duke Enfield's idea of a University dance at Capital Beach turned out to be a very enjoyable affair to all in attendance.

The Sophomore Hop was the first affair of this kind ever held at Lincoln's pleasure resort, and was therefore attended by a large crowd of University people. Every one seemed to have a very good time, and there is no doubt that the custom is now started so that more hops will take place out there in the spring when it is too hot to hold them at the Lincoln hotel.

This very novel affair was well managed in every respect, and accordingly the committee in charge have received many congratulations in regard to the way things went off.

The music from the Kosmet Klub opera, "The Diplomat," was another feature which made a great hit with the dancers, and was well rendered by the Jones orchestra.
