

HUSKERS HIT PACE

GLOOM CAST BY EARLY SEASON BOGIE DISPELLED YESTERDAY.

TOUCHDOWNS ORDER OF DAY

Fumbles Prevalent, But Work of Line and Backs a Revelation—Will Be in Trim for Saturday's Bellevue Game.

Gloom has almost entirely disappeared from the Cornhusker camp since the varsity trimmed the freshmen to the tune of 65 to 0 at last night's practice. The coach started the game with the regular lineup and let them stay the first half, after which he put in the scrubs. The backfield were working nicely, but the line is far from being perfect. The freshman backs found plenty of holes, and made quite a few gains through the varsity forwards.

The game started off with the freshmen kicking to the regulars, when Frank, after three downs, got away for a fifty yard run for a touchdown. After about six minutes of play Potter carried the ball over for the second touchdown. Other touchdowns followed in close order, and when the final whistle blew the score stood 65 to 0, including a dropkick from the 25 yard line by Towle.

Fumbling was rather prevalent, but this might be expected for the season is quite early and practice will easily remedy this. Swanson and McCormick each picked up fumbles and made touchdowns after runs of about twenty five yards.

The features of the game were the fierce line plunging by Purdy, the long runs by Captain Frank, and the efficient work of Potter at quarter.

The fast improvement of the line since last Saturday brought joy to the hearts of the fans. The tackling has greatly improved this last week, as well as the charging of the forwards.

Cornhuskers, but his ambitions may be shattered after the showing the varsity made against the "Frosh." The Bellevue line is said to be heavy, but contains quite a lot of green material. The backfield is speedy and has had plenty of experience.

DOPE

Professor Brewer of Missouri has adopted a new method of instilling fear into the hearts of his football pets. He has posted in the training quarters a newspaper clipping containing the information that the "Cornhusker" squad averages 184 pounds, and from tackle to tackle it's even worse—192 being the average. If such report is true the average weight per man of the Cornhuskers is greater than any one player on the Orange and Black squad with the exception of Gallagher.

Manager Reed yesterday issued a football suit to Freeney, who played two years as halfback under Yost at Michigan. He is also said to be a track man of quite a reputation.

Coach Stagg is using a white painted ball for use in night practice by electric light.

With Captain Tobin and Eardle in practice again the Gopher chances in the game with Ames next Saturday are growing brighter.

James Thorpe, Carlisle's premier athlete and a member of the Olympic team, made three touchdowns and kicked seven goals in the game with Villa Nova last Wednesday.

Davis, the only veteran backfield man of the Jayhawkers, suffered a dislocated knee in scrimmage the other day and will probably be out of the game the rest of the season.
