BUREAU OF EDUCATION INVESTIGATES SCHOOLS OF COUNTRY.

FIFTY-NINE FORM FIRST CLASS

Boston Transcript Publishes Complete Report Covering Three Hundred Forty-four Schools—Opinion Given After Visit.

In the recent classification of the schools of this country, Nebraska University has been assigned to the first class. To determine the standing of the different schools the government sent out Dr. Kendrick C. Babcock, an expert in higher education, to visit the colleges and universities of the United States. His task was to classify and to determine the relative value of their bachelors' degrees.

In his work, as told in the Boston Transcript, he considered 344 colleges, of which 59 colleges and universities were designated as standard institutions; 164 were put in the second class and the rest in the third and fourth groups. To determine this classification Dr. Babcock studied in a thorough manner the catalogues, reports, admission requirements, and statistical statements extensively. He made personal visits to the different schools, conferring with the deans and inspecting the students' work.

Few in First Class.

In the first class there are 44 endowed and private institutions, and 15 state universities. It will be noted that several large universities and colleges, as Boston, Clark, New York, college of the city of New York, and Syracuse are not shown in the first class.

Following is the list as compiled:

REED TO BE MANAGING EDITOR

Prominent Junior Promoted from Associate—Vacancy in Associates Not Filled—Applications Desired.

The student and faculty publication board met last evening in Dean Stout's office and elected Merrill V. Reed to fill the position as managing editor vacated by Burton S. Hill, who did not come back to school this fall. Reed has had two years' experience on the Daily Nebraskan and is a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Applications for the vacancy left in the associates' ranks by the promotion of Reed are desired and may be filed with Professor Aylesworth, secretary of the publication board.

FIRST GAME GOES TO RED SOX

Boston Takes Initial Battle from Giants with Fewer Hits But More Runs.

Yesterday was the first game of the world's series and Boston won by a score of 4 to 3 from New York. The Giants got eight hits and made one error, while the Red Sox got only six hits and one error.

Big Jeff Tesreau started the game for New York, but the Sox got to him in the seventh inning for three runs and four hits. Crandall relieved him in the eighth and held them scoreless the rest of the game. Joe Wood, for Boston, pitched a great game, but weakened in the third and allowed the Giants, with a little luck, run in two scores on two hits. Wood struck out eleven men, while Tesreau let down four.

McGovern Back for Visit.

Johnnie McGovern, one of the most famous athletes in the United States, tried to sneak into the Cornhusker camp incognito Saturday morning, but was detected by Manager Reed and was forced to admit his identity. McGovern was captain of the Minnesota football team for 1909 and 1910, and was placed on the all-American team as quarter during those years. His ability as a football player needs no introduction in the sporting world. He was a leader in school activities as well as in athletics. Johnnie is at present practicing law in Minneapolis, and is aiding Coach Williams during the football season. While in the city he visited at the Alpha Tau Omega house.

GIRLS TAKE ON SWIMMING

New Sport to Be Introduced by Miss Gittings—Register Today at Her Office.

Nebraska co-eds may take lessons in the aquatic art if Miss Gittings' plans, as she gave them out Monday, come true. She is expecting to obtain the City Y. M. C. A. pool Wednesday morning for the girls' use, that is if enough apply to her today at her office in Memorial Hall. The class will be open to all, but no credit will be given.

Miss Gittings is working to the end of making swimming very popular among the fair ones as it is on the western coast. Several days ago exchanges coming into the Daily Nebraskan office told of a swimming contest between Washington and California, which certainly is farther than Nebraska has progressed in the sport.

CALDWELL ON ENGLISH POLITICS

Convocation Interesting Tuesday, But Poorly Attended—American History Professor to Speak Again.

Convocation yesterday morning was sadly lacking in the size of the audience who listened to an address on English politics given by Prof. H. W. Caldwell of the American history department. Several other objects of student interest were scheduled for all-day sessions today, such as "Deutcher Tag" and the election of class officers, so the sparsity of hearers is accounted for in this manner.

Professor Caldwell is very well versed in his subject, having spent the greater part of last year in England studying upon this point. He discussed the different problems that now confront the English from an American standpoint and made his hearers feel that they had gained a better understanding of conditions across the water.

By a unanimous vote of the audience Professor Caldwell was asked to continue his talk at next Tuesday's convocation.

BETTER SERVICE AFTER NOON.

Best Time to Eat at Cafeteria is After Noon Rush, According to Orr.

Students who are deterred from eating at the cafeteria by the long line which is formed at 11:30 are requested to come at a later time and get the benefit of quicker service. Between 11:30 and 12:15 there is a rush of trade, and although service is really no slower than later, the prospect of standing in line does not appeal to some. After 12:15 the rush is over, and at that time all who want may be served according to their pleasure. Since it takes only a few minutes to go through the line, there is plenty of time to get served before 1 o'clock classes even that late at noon, and Manager Orr thinks that better service can be given in that way.

ELECTION RESULTS

SENIOR:
H. R. MULLIGAN	46
JUNIORS:
Z. CLARK DICKINSON	101
F. R. TRUMBULL	92
SOPHOMORE:
L. F. MEIER	53
FRESHMEN:
PHIL A. WARNER	86
B. A. THOMAS	75
P. M. DENNIS	59
C. S. HOLCOMBE	33
FREDERICK MACDONALD	2

The election yesterday, of which the results are given above, was a complete victory for the Australian ballot. The old-time practice of running a dark horse at the last moment and electing him by prestige rather than real ability, was conspicuously absent as was also the always-present influencing of voters by cheering.

Junior Wins by Nine Votes.

The hardest fight was experienced in the third-year class, where Dickinson defeated Trumbull by but nine votes. Both candidates were very active all day and the results were extremely doubtful up to the moment the ballots were counted and the results tallied.

Freshmen Advertise with Cards.

In the freshman class there was also a strong fight for the office the victor, P. A. Warner, winning by the narrow margin of a dozen or so votes over B. A. Thomas. In this class tickets were used to advertise the various candidates and the result was a much larger vote polled than has been the case for years in an election of this kind. It would probably be correct to say that this is the first honest freshman election held at Nebraska, and for this the Australian ballot is to be thanked.

Girls' Vote Influences Results.

One of the conspicuous points noticed in the fight was the prevalence of co-ed voters. In former years class elections the girls have been a sort of forgotten factor, but it seemed yesterday that they occupied the important part of the stage. Every effort was put out by all the candidates to get out this class of voters, and the results of the election were probably materially changed by this work.

PLANS MOVING FOR DIRECTORY.

Driscoll and Stewart Appointed to Manage Editing of Student Directory.

At a recent meeting of the University Y. M. C. A. the following men were appointed to get out the student directory for this school year: J. L. Driscoll, editor-in-chief; Cloyd Stewart, business manager, Freda Stauff, associate editor.

Any students who have changed their residence since registration week should notify J. L. Driscoll, in Temple building, at once.

Bessey's "Outlines" Here.

The third edition of Dr. Bessey's "Outlines of Plant Phyla" has been printed and is ready for use by his classes. It is the most complete work of its kind and is used in many universities of the country.
