Drake's Victory Does Not Take Pep Out of Mosse's Men, But Gives Spirit.

LAWRENCE, Kas., Oct. 23.—(Special to the Daily Nebraskan, by E. B. Hackney.) Last night's scrimmage showed the Mosse machine up in a much more favorable light than the practice of the previous night. Every man was willing to work, and all went into the practice with a determination to fight. If the team continues to play with the same spirit as displayed for the benefit of the freshmen, things will be by no means a walkaway for the farmers from Manhattan.

Up to this time the team has shown at times a tendency to loaf until down under their own goal line. But all this is changed now, every man is up on his toes and fighting all the time. The Drake defeat has made every man realize the proposition he is up against

TIGERS LACK QUARTERBACKS

Attribute Loss of Ames Game Last Saturday to Injured Players—Oklahoma Next.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 23.—(Special to the Daily Nebraskan, by V. W. Talley.)—Missouri coaches attribute the one-sided score of Saturday's game with Ames to the lack of quarterbacks. They admit that Ames had the better team, but they say that if Missouri's two quarters, McWilliams and Lake, had not been injured that the score would have been more equal.

The team will leave Wednesday for Norman, Okla., where they play Oklahoma University. The Tigers are thirsting for revenge on last year's 14-to-6 defeat, and regard the coming struggle as important as a conference game. They will not be caught off their guard like they were last year when the Sooners' speedy backs made two touchdowns before the Tigers woke up.

The Nebraska game is to be the most important contest on the local gridiron and Columbia is preparing for a big day. Rooters here think that the Tigers met the classiest team in the valley when they played Ames, and do not fear Nebraska quite as much as they did the Aggies.

be taken in class or college affairs. On the contrary, let him get in touch with them and study them closely. It is the only way they are made worth while.

Finally, I urge that he lead his own life and stand honestly by it—not with a chip on his shoulder, nor a stubborn determination that his way is right and all the others wrong, but with a feeling of sincerity of purpose and result. Most of the other things that go to make undergraduate success will then take care of themselves.
