MEDICS DO A GOOD BUSINESS

Tanned Hide Said to Belong to "Shorty Gray" Brings Good Price as Souvenirs—Dr. Poynter Denies the Story.

Talk about the millions of dollars which the reporters of the Daily Nebraskan earn each year, the medical students of the University have their record far outclassed, if the rumors floating around the campus yesterday are well founded. Fifty-seven pieces of kid leather of a fine grade are said to have been disposed of to the unwary ones as pieces of the hide, the personal skin, of Shorty Gray of escaped convict fame. How the buyers explained the sudden appearance of so much of the epidermis of this noted character on the market is not certain, but the fact remains that they paid $1, one whole simoleon, a genuine bean, mind you, for the aforesaid tanned hide.

That this spurious article was the real thing is denied by the authorities of the medical department. Dr. Poynter, who has entire control of the anatomy department, was very emphatic in his denial of the story, saying that such a thing was absolutely impossible, as the students in the medical department were all gentlemen.

The Daily Nebraskan does not doubt the absolute gentlemanliness of every medic, but it has a strong "hunch" that they are also extremely good business men. If this is true our hat goes off to the man who conceived the scheme.

ENGINEERS TO ATTEND ORPHEUM

Annual Stunt to Be Pulled Off Next Week by Math Sharks.

Next Friday, November 1, the engineers are to have a big Orpheum party. This is an annual affair and is one of the stunt nights in which the engineers drown thoughts of Calculus and Steam 10 in the glare of the footlights.

Chairman Schultz is making arrangements for a big party. All engineers are invited to come out for a gay time. Tickets may be secured from any of the following men: J. C. Schultz, C. C. Keirle, K. Kolls, C. J. Wohlford, H. H. Harmon.

H. B. ENGLISH ON FREE TRADE

Rhodes Scholar from Nebraska Contributes to the Public.

A recent issue of the Public, a political journal edited by Louis F. Post, contains an instructive article on "Free Trade" by Horace B. English. Mr. English is Nebraska's Rhodes scholar at Oxford. He has been in Germany for some time and is well able to treat his subject from both the German and English viewpoint.

SENIOR OFFICERS CHOSEN

Gene Cain Resigns Managing Editorship of Cornhusker—C. L. Rein Elected to Fill Vacancy.

A meeting of the senior class was called in Memorial Hall yesterday by President Mulligan and some forty of the top classmen responded. The business of the day consisted of the election of minor officers and of the senior managing editor of the Cornhusker, and of the announcement of official appointments to class committees.

A somewhat hilarious election resulted in the following persons being honored:

Vice-president, Betty Drake
Secretary, Katherine Yates
Treasurer, George Wilson

The president read a letter from Gene Cain in which the latter announced his unwilling but necessary resignation from the position of senior managing editor of the Cornhusker, and C. L. Rein was elected to the position without opposition.

The appointments to committees were then announced as published in yesterday's Daily Nebraskan. President Mulligan desires that two corrections be made in the list as published in that the name of A. G. George be added to the hep committee and the name of Breta Billie be changed to Breta Diehl.

TENNIS FINALS PLAYED TODAY

Meier to Meet Williams This Afternoon—Last Game of the Fall Tournament.

The semifinals of the fall tournament of the University club were played yesterday afternoon. Williams and Meier were the winners of the afternoon matches. Both of these men played on the Peru Normal team, and last summer were runners up in the doubles of the Clay Court tournament at Omaha.

In the first match Williams defeated Sussman in straight sets, winning the first by a score of 7 to 5 and the last 6 to 4. This match was the hardest fought during the afternoon, and it was after a very hard scrap that Williams finally won.

Meier defeated Gardiner in straight sets. Gardiner won from Finley in the third round, thus qualifying for the semi-finals. The Gardiner-Finley match was a bitter contest from the first serve to the last in the fourth set. The scores of this match were 6-4, 6-1, 5-7, 8-6.

In the Meier-Gardiner match the former had a comparatively easy time of it after the first set, which went 9-7, the next set was easily won by 6 to 3.

The finals will be played this afternoon if the weather continues favorable, and it will be a good scrap between these two team-mates. The contest will start at 3 o'clock and it costs nothing to be an onlooker.

The Farm Band.

The Farm band is now well under way and promises to be better and brassier than last year.

TO RECEIVE NEWS FROM FIELD

Live "Dope" from Kansas and Missouri Will Give Condition of the Teams.

Through the activity of Charles Yochum, who is in charge of the athletic news of the Nebraskan, arrangements have been made with the athletic editors of the Kansas and Missouri papers whereby live, up-to-date accounts of the football teams of those schools will appear in the columns of the Nebraskan from day to day.

In return for this favor similar articles concerning the Cornhuskers are to be sent to those schools. In this way the fans of each school will be kept informed about the condition of the other team.

Missouri and Kansas are both looking forward to the Nebraska game as the best of the season, and their warriors are being primed to bring down the Cornhusker record when they meet in the annual clash. Reports from this hostile territory will be authentic and will give the other side of the M. V. argument.

SEVEN MAKE DRAMATIC CLUB

Small Number Out of Forty-two Candidates Gain Membership in Dramatic Organization—Special Tryouts for Some Later.

Seven students were elected into membership in the University Dramatic Club last night. The tryouts were held in the Temple Theater. There were forty-two aspirants in the tryout, the successful ones being:

In the cases of a few of those trying out a special tryout will be held in the near future to give the judging committee a further opportunity to make a decision. Those persons so concerned will be notified by the secretary.

GIRLS' CLUB STARTS ANEW.

Successful Picnic Breakfast Leads to Enthusiastic Plans for Future.

The University Girls' Club, an organization for all the girls of the University, has been organized several years, but has experienced a stronger revival of interest during the past two years than ever before.

The breakfast for girls held at the Farm last Saturday was such a success that the annual luncheon to be given by the club on the noon of the Kansas-Nebraska game is being looked forward to with pleasure by the co-ed host. The plan is to have all the girls go in a body after the luncheon to the athletic field, where they will occupy a reserved section.

PLANS UNDER WAY

FIRST ANNUAL HOME-COMING DAY IN PREPARATION.

OLYMPICS HELD IN MORNING

Day of K. U. Game to Be Devoted to Entertainment of Returning Grads—Banquet in Evening for Alumni Only.

The day of the Kansas game will see a new custom added to the ever growing list of Nebraska traditions. For some time the Alumni Association has been working on a plan to get the "old grads" back to their alma mater for some special event. Heretofore some have come back for a football game, some for the Cornhusker banquet, and others for graduation work. How it is planned to have the day of a big football game on the home field as a homecoming day each year.

The Kansas game has been designated this year as the game to which the alumni will gather. Five thousand postal cards have been sent to Cornhusker alumni all over the country by the athletic management, which is working with the Alumni Association to make this day a success. In addition the University Journal, which is received by many alumni, is boosting the proposition. Various other methods of publicity are being used, so that the first annual homecoming day will probably be the best advertised university event in years.

In addition to the Kansas-Nebraska game on the afternoon of November 16, entertainment will be provided in both the morning and evening for the visitors. In the morning it is planned to hold the annual Olympic struggle between the two lower classes. In the evening will be held a big banquet under the auspices of the Lincoln alumni at which only graduates will be allowed. Various plans for the betterment of the University will be brought up for the consideration of the men who are most vitally interested in the welfare of the old school. Fraternities and other societies are planning to hold their annual banquets during this week also, so that there will be plenty to attract and entertain everyone.

Many other schools, especially in the East, have the same custom which is to be introduced here. In all these schools they are very enthusiastic over the results which follow these annual affairs, and they attribute much of the loyalty of their alumni to these annual affairs which keep them in touch with university developments. There is no reason why this event should not be a great success from every standpoint, and it will be if the efforts of the backers of the idea count for anything.
