CORRECTION.

Through a mistake on the part of the printer a half-column article on John H. Morehead appeared in Friday's issue of the Nebraskan without being labeled as a political advertisement. As has been announced, the paper is not committed to the candidacy of any man or party, so any write-ups that appear in it are on a purely advertising basis.

THE WEEK'S REVIEW.

Being a Brief Resume of Events of the Past Week, as Gleaned from Nebraska Files.

Nebraska defeats Adrian College, Michigan, in a listless game to the tune of 41 to 0. Stiehm prepares his pupils for the Missouri game by making a shift in the line by putting Martin into left guard, Mulligan taking Martin's place at end.

Guy Williams wins the annual fall tennis tournament by defeating Meyer in straight sets. A tennis squad is chosen at the conclusion of the tournament consisting of eight men.

The Nebraska dairy judging team takes premier honors at the National Dairy Show held at Chicago. The team led all others by over 200 points.

The Omaha Club becomes active by passing resolutions endorsing Coach Stiehm and the attitude of the alumni in regard to breaking away from stringent rules of the Missouri Valley Conference.

The Daily Nebraskan conducts an investigation into the number of University graduates on the legislative tickets, and finds them to constitute a small minority.

The freshman class meets to organize for the Olympics and is given some pointers by Dr. Condra.

Omaha alumni petition for the removal of Dr. R. G. Clapp from his position as mentor of Nebraska athletic policy.

The cross-country squad is chosen, and is being coached for the Missouri Valley meet at Columbia.

FRED BECKMAN

Republican Candidate for Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings. Endorsed by the Progressives.

Fred Beckman is a German by birth. In the year 1871 he settled in Nebraska. Farmed for 10 years in Seward county. In 1881 he moved to Lincoln and engaged in the general merchandise business, until the year 1892, when he was elected county commissioner of Lancaster County.

Mr. Beckman will make an ideal Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings. In the primary election he carried every ward in the city of Lincoln and all but 3 precincts in the county. He had a plurality of 1,220 votes over his highest opponent. This is certainly a good showing, as there were six candidates for that office. Mr. Beckman also carried every adjoining county, Saunders, Cass, Otoe, Gage, Saline, and Seward.

Where he is best known he is best liked.

J. H. MOCKETT, JR

Candidate for re-election to the Legislature.

He has always been a staunch friend of the University, as his record will show.
