ACCOMMODATIONS FOR WOMEN.

The Nebraskan is in receipt of a letter from a woman student complaining of the condition and lack of accommodations for women students at the University. The letter is unsigned, and for this reason we are unable to publish it in our columns. The matter, according to our correspondent, is a delicate one, and in the main deals with conditions that we necessarily know nothing about. In light of these facts we must suppress publication of our correspondent's charges until we can determine her identity.

BY WAY OF EXPLANATION.

Some confusion has arisen over just who won the Holstein prize in the national dairy judging contest held recently in Chicago. It seems that in spite of the fact that Nebraska was awarded premier honors by a margin of over 200 points, Ames claims the honors. The following explanation may settle the controversy:

The Holstein scholarship was really won by Nebraska, but owing to a certain rule Nebraska could not accept another scholarship after having won the sweepstake scholarship, hence the second highest man—a member of the Iowa team—was awarded the Holstein scholarship.

It happened in this way: The Nebraska team stood higher than any other team in the contest, thereby winning the National Dairy Show trophy and the W. D. Hoard trophy. Stephen H. Wisenand of the Nebraska team, a sophomore in college, won the highest standing of any student from all the agricultural colleges, thereby winning sweepstake honors and two $400 scholarships. The team also won the most prized Holstein trophy cup as the result of the highest standing in judging a Holstein cow. On account of a rule making it impossible for the winner of the sweepstake scholarship to accept another scholarship, the Holstein scholarship won by Mr. Wisenand was awarded to the second highest man, a member of the Iowa State College.

Summing up our honors, Nebraska won the National Dairy Show trophy, W. D. Hoard trophy, sweepstake scholarship, and the Holstein cup, beside the Holstein scholarship, which could not be accepted on account of the sweepstake honors.

TIGERS SHOW FIGHT

The Missouri rooters were there in force and the cheering was better than that on Nebraska field so far this year. There was no hissing or quarrelling with the officials and the new Missouri spirit, as President Hill says, will be the talk of the valley.

COOPER TOURS EASTERN NEB.

Agricultural Professor Finds Fruit Crop in State Good.

Professor Cooper of the horticultural department has returned from a trip through eastern Nebraska on an orchard inspection trip. He is very much pleased with conditions and says that the general care and conditions of the orchards are much better than he expected.

The fruit would be much larger and more highly colored, he says, if the trees were planted farther apart and better pruned. Nevertheless, the orchards are in good shape and there is a good crop of fruit this year.

JUNIOR PLAY COMMITTEE NAMED

Dickenson Appoints Six Members of Class to Engineer Play.

President Dickenson of the junior class has appointed the following committee for the junior play:

Frank Kruse, chairman; Alma Plasters, Clarence Clark, Harold M. Diers, Gertrude Scribner, Clara Janouch.

Professors Guests of Engineers.

The committee in charge of the engineers' Orpheum party did good work last week, succeeding in getting out sixty-six men. Dean Stout and Professors Chase, Hoffman and Ferguson occupied a box as guests of the Engineering Society.

FRED BECKMAN

Republican Candidate for Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings. Endorsed by the Progressives.

Fred Beckman is a German by birth. In the year 1871 he settled in Nebraska. Farmed for 10 years in Seward county. In 1881 he moved to Lincoln and engaged in the general merchandise business, until the year 1892, when he was elected county commissioner of Lancaster County.

Mr. Beckman will make an ideal Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings. In the primary election he carried every ward in the city of Lincoln and all but 3 precincts in the county. He had a plurality of 1,220 votes over his highest opponent. This is certainly a good showing, as there were six candidates for that office. Mr Beckman also carried every adjoining county, Saunders, Cass, Otoe, Gage, Saline, and Seward.

Where he is best known he is best liked.
