

PROM TICKETS GO ON SALE

Upper Class Prom Will Be Opened for Underclassmen for First Time —Have Large Floor Space.

WILL REGISTER BUYERS' NAMES

Tickets for the Senior-Junior promenade, to be held February 22 at the Lincoln Auditorium, go on sale today on the University campus, each of the admissions to the big affair costing $4.00. Contrary to the custom at Nebraska for the past four years, members of the Sophomore and Freshman classes will be allowed to attend the upperclassmen's promenade as there will be sufficient floor space at the Auditorium to accommodate a few underclassmen, whereas the limited area of the Lincoln Hotel dance floor has forced the classes to limit their dances to class members.

Committeemen of the Junior and Senior classes and chairmen Sweeley and Dawson will all have tickets for sale. The list of committeemen comprises C. L. Rein, Julius Harpham, Ray Smith, Thad Saunders, Byrne Marcellus, Ralph Garrett, Ernest Frank, Sam Carrier, Robert R. Hastings, J. L. Driscoll, Will E. Kavan, Fred R. Trumble. Tickets will all be numbered and the names of all buyers registered to protect purchasers who may chance to mislay the pastebard.

Ralph Sweeley and Reed Dawson, who have been in communication with Lincoln, Omaha, and eastern firms in regard to the arrangements for favors, programs, decorations, etc., will make their report to the committees at the meeting at 11 o'clock today.
