C. L. REIN ELECTED EDITOR

K. M. SNYDER BECOMES MANAGING EDITOR; J. L. CUTRIGHT, C. N. BROWN, BESSIE MASON AS ASSOCIATES

BUSINESS STAFF UNCHANGED

Publication Board Satisfied With Business Management and Re-elects C. C. Buchanan as its Manager.

Clifford L. Rein was elected Editor-in-Chief of the Daily Nebraskan for the ensuing semester at a meeting of the Student Publication Board held Wednesday morning in the office of Dean O. V. P. Stout, president of the Board. Kenneth M. Snyder was promoted to the position of Managing Editor, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Merrill Reed, the present incumbent, and who, on account of the pressure of outside work will not be able to serve on the paper during the next semester. John L. Cutright, C. Neil Brown, and Miss Bessie Mason, will be the new associates. The present business staff, consisting of C. C. Buchanan, Manager; J. L. Driscoll, assistant manager, and J. S. Bowen, circulation manager, were re-elected to serve another term.

C. L. Rein, the newly elected editor of the paper, is not a stranger to University students, although he assumes a new role in taking over the editorship of the Nebraskan. He has represented the University in two intercollegiate debating contests, is a member of the Senior Society of Innocents, Delta Sigma Rho, Phi Alpha Tau, and Silver Lynx. Rein has been especially active in various student movements, taking a leading part in the Single Tax movement last May, and the Freshman Cap movement this last fall. He is a brilliant student, and a fellow in the department of rhetoric and it is expected that his occupancy of the head position on the paper will be met with general success.

K. M. Snyder has served on the paper three semesters and his promotion comes as a recognition of faithful and efficient work done while a reporter and associate editor.

John Cutright is a prominent junior in college, and has worked several semesters on the Nebraskan, his elevation coming in the way of a promotion. C. N. Brown and Miss Mason were on the reporter staff the past semester and will do efficient work in their new positions.

C. C. Buchanan will be the only business manager of the Daily Nebraskan who has received a re-election, the usual custom being to retire this officer at the expiration of his yearly term. He was retained, however, because of his successful management of the paper's finances, he having succeeded in putting it on a paying basis, a place where the paper has not been for years.

JUNIOR TRYOUT LAST NIGHT

Aspirants for Dramatic Honors Are Given Chance to Show Ability.

CAST HAS NOT BEEN SELECTED

The Junior play tryouts were held last evening in the Temple theater. The tryouts were on the play "Nathan Hale" which the class will give the night of February 21.

There were between forty and fifty persons trying out for places on the cast. Another opportunity will be given those who were unable to secure the manuscript in time to take part in the contests. Others who are deemed worthy will perhaps be given another trial in order that the judges may further pass criticism upon them.

The judges were Miss Howell, Searle Davis, Miss Conklin and the members of the play committee. The names of those who were successful will be announced as soon as the judges have made their decision regarding them.

NON-FRAT MEN UNITE AT WISC.

Common Organization Similar to That Formed by Senator La Follette Takes Place in Politics.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, Jan. 23.—An organization of all the non-fraternity men in college, to be known as the Commons, is now being perfected here, despite the opposition of the societies and many of the independents themselves.

The organization states as its purpose the upbuilding of true all-Wisconsin spirit, but does not deny that it will, as a body, take an active part in undergraduate policies. Whether it will "cut" all fraternity men who run for office, or merely support certain representatives independents, has not been announced, but the frat men are expecting the worst.

In the organization are a number of athletes, intercollegiate debaters, and other real leaders of student life. At least three men who played on the champion baseball team this fall are numbered among its members. It now has 900 members. It claims, and is out for more.

The Commons is similar to a body organized by Senator Robert La Follette here in his undergraduate days.

Charter Day and Interfraternity Indoor Candidates.

The hours from 4 to 5 on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and 2 to 3 Saturday have been reserved for practice for these contests and Dr. Clapp or one of the other instructors will be on the floor to help any students who wish assistance in preparing for these events.

MEDICAL COLLEGE AFFECTED

Addition of Third Class Puts Nebraska in One Not Represented By Actual Qualifications.

LACKS HOSPITAL FACILITIES

A re-classification of the medical colleges in the United States, just completed, places Nebraska in the second list, instead of the first, where the last classification of a few months ago placed it. This apparent lowering of the standard of Nebraska's college is taken by some to mean that the course given here is below standard, whereas, an investigation reveals the fact that the present ruling is an arbitrary one which does not affect the present rating in the least.

Up to the present time two classes—A and B—have been recognized as the above and below standard classifications. Class A meant that the courses in the colleges of that class were accepted by the Board of American Colleges. All unqualified colleges were listed in Class B. In the last distribution Nebraska was well toward the top in Class A.

In the Saturday number of the Journal of the American Medical Association a third division is introduced—Class A-plus.

This new class includes those colleges owning, or controlling a hospital. Because of the fact that Nebraska does not maintain a hospital, but gives practical medical work in the several hospitals of Omaha, it is retained in Class A. While colleges formerly less qualified have been raised to Class A-plus, because of their hospital facilities. It is understood that by the new arrangement Nebraska is deprived of a rightful place owing to the lack of facilities which have never been necessary.

FRUIT SHOW ATTRACTIVE PLACE

Nebraska Apples and Corn Given Prominent Place—Horticultural Society Banquet at Lindell on Tuesday.

The Fruit and Floral Show at the city Auditorium is in full swing now and has received much favorable comment from those attending. All the varieties of apples which are adapted to Nebraska conditions, as well as the best varieties of corn, are on exhibition at the show and present a fine appearance.

Tuesday night the Nebraska Horticultural Society held its second annual banquet at the Lindell Hotel. After a good menu followed an interesting toast list. The one hundred and twenty-five members of the Horticultural Society and their guests were present.

STEAL FALLS THROUGH

ATTEMPT OF LOCAL CRIER TO SECURE ORIGINAL COPY OF TUESDAY'S EDITORIAL FAILS.

SNOOPING GETS NO RESULTS

Lack of Evidence, However, Does Not Prevent Usual Knockers' Lament to Extent of a Half Column.

Hoping to get evidence to substantiate charges made against the Daily Nebraskan, an attempt was made yesterday to obtain the original draft of an article printed in Tuesday's paper. The purpose was to discover if possible, the source of the item in question.

However, the attempted steal fell through. The foreman in charge of the copy so badly desired realized that he was working for the Daily Nebraskan and that he must protect their interests against the crooks he was dealing with. The snooping reporter was quickly told to "beat it" and left without the desired copy.

With ordinary yellow sheets the lack of evidence would have stopped matters at this point, but not with this one. Without one scrap of material substantiating the charges made over a half column was devoted to pure indensible knocking on the Daily Nebraskan, such as might be better expected from a country weekly.

The next time any copy is desired by this paper it is suggested a request will probably bring better results than the childish procedure gone through in this case.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL

Prominent Member of Last Year's Junior Play Cast Is Buried Sunday at Greenwood.

Miss Verna Coleman, '12, who died at Normal, Ill., last week, was buried at Greenwood, Neb., Sunday.

Miss Coleman finished the Physical Training Course at Nebraska, winning Phi Beta Kappa honors. She was especially interested in University dramatics, taking the role of "Puck" in "A Mid Summer Night's Dream," last spring.

Miss Coleman's death is deeply regretted by her many friends, both in the University and in the city. A dozen or more girls of the Physical Education Department attended the funeral Sunday.

All Juniors and Seniors who want their pictures in the 1913 Cornhusker will have the same taken at Townsend's before February 1st. Three dollars covers the price of the photos and the cut.
