

The Daily Nebraskan

Vol XII. No. 90

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 19, 1913

Price 5 Cents

BIG VOTE OUT

ALL FOUR CLASSES COMBINE TO POLL LARGEST BALLOT EVER CAST.

SOPHOMORES SHOW MOST FIGHT

Seniors Come Next With Election of Ivy Day Orator by Two Votes—Presidential Race Close.

UNIVERSITY REMOVAL.

For ..... 291
Against ..... 341 50

PRESIDENT.

Senior.

George, Arthur ..... 110
Wenstrand, W. W. .... 132 22

Junior.

Hess, Harvey ..... 84

Sophomore.

Isreal, Russel ..... 80
Jackson, Earl ..... 202 128

Freshman.

Spier, Clarence ..... 71

IVY DAY ORATOR.

Forbes, Jeromes ..... 69
Radeliffe, Clayton ..... 90
Sinkie, Otto ..... 92 2

CORNHUSKER.

Editor.

Trimble, Chandler ..... 86

Managing Editor.

Goodman, Walter ..... 109
Samuelson, Leon W. .... 179 70

Business Manager.

Beard, J. C. .... 79
Marcellus, D. D. .... 91
Swift, Russell ..... 126 35

With a stream of voters constantly pouring into the polls from the time they opened at 9 o'clock in the morning till 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the most spirited election remembered by many was held yesterday. Although there was but a single candidate for the presidency in the freshman and junior classes and consequently the vote was light, the other two more than made up for this.

In the senior class, for Ivy Day orator, Otto Sinkie won over Clayton Radeliffe by two votes with the third man, Jerome Forbes, close behind. For president, W. W. Wenstrand defeated Arthur George, 132 to 110.

In the sophomore class the greatest rivalry was aroused, 288 ballots being cast. Earl Jackson of Nelson was high man on the ticket having 208 votes to his opponent's, Russel Isreal, 80. For managing editor of the Cornhusker, almost as much of a one-sided vote was cast, Leon W. Samuelson defeating Walter F. Goodman, 179 to 109. Russell Swift was the victor in the mad race for the business manager of the annual leading the trio of aspirants with a vote of 126 to Marcellus, 91 and Beard, 79.

Harvey Hess, the sole candidate for the junior presidency, was elected by 84 votes. Chandler Trimble received the position of editor-in-chief of the Cornhusker with no opposition whatsoever by 86 votes. Clarence Spier received 71 votes for freshman president.

(Continued on Page Four)

NEXT FALL FOOTBALL SCHEDULE OUT SOON

Almost All Games to Be Played at Home—Many Small Schools Replaced by Stronger Teams.

The football schedule for next fall is practically completed. However, no positive information will be given out by Manager Reed. The definite schedule will possibly be out in a few days. It will contain two games away from home with Missouri Valley schools. Of course the Minnesota game will be the great "Homecoming" event.

Many of the smaller schools have been cut off as not being of interest to the student body. Larger schools being put in their places will insure greater interest and larger attendance. A game with the Wolverines is greatly to be desired but little to be hoped for. Nebraska will play several new schools this next season and should have a successful and profitable fall.

FRATERNITY PLEDGES

Few Men Are Rushed This Year—Rushing Apparently Not Especially Exciting This Year.

The fraternity rushing season closed Saturday noon. The season has not been especially exciting this year, few men have been rushed and fewer are to be pledged. The following list is incomplete:

Delta Upsilon announces the pledging of Guy Thompson, West Point, Neb.; James Mickey, Osceola, Neb.; Fred Seacrest, Lincoln, Neb.

Sigma Chi—Sidney Sommerland, Norfolk, Fred Bock of Omaha, and Conrad Schlater of Plattsmouth.

Acacia—Fred D. Guenther of Weeping Water; Carl Ganz of Dunbar, Joseph Phillipi and Oscar Schavland of Lincoln.

Phi Kappa Psi—Richard Balliman and Harold Thomas of Omaha, and Freman Penny of Fullerton.

Sigma Phi Epsilon—Robert Inness of Shelby and Richard Konpal of Creighton.

WILL TALK ON BIG DAM

Professor Raber to Address Engineering Society on Keokuk, Iowa Work.

At a meeting of the Engineers' Club of Lincoln, tonight at 8 o'clock in M. E. 206, Professor Raber will give an illustrated lecture on construction of the big dam across the Mississippi at Keokuk, Ia. This is the biggest engineering project under way in the United States at present. In addition views and descriptions of water power sites, both developed and undeveloped, in Nebraska will be given. This meeting will be attended by members of the Nebraska Conservation Congress and members of the legislature.

The tryouts for the Kansas City indoor games will be held Wednesday afternoon at 7:00 p. m. on Nebraska field. All men who expect to tryout should be on hand, and every one is invited to come out and watch the tryouts.

TEAM LEAVES ON TRIP FOR SERIES OF FOUR GAMES

Varsity Plays Drake Today and Tomorrow, Ames Friday and Saturday.

At 4:05 p. m. on Tuesday the basketball team left on their final trip of the year. From reports this ought to be the most successful of the year. The game on Saturday night proved almost undeniably that the Cornhuskers were the Valley champs and all that remains now to do is to play the three championship games with the winner of the southern division, which will undoubtedly be the Kansas Aggies.

The practice Monday night was very slow which is nothing unusual after a hard game. In the first half of the practice the scrubs were sent in against the varsity and managed to hold the regulars to a very low score. In the second half the freshman five was sent against the varsity and were lucky enough to run up a score of 24 to the varsity's 13. The freshman team is one of the fastest in years, and contains a quantity of valuable material for next year's varsity.

The men who made the trip are Hawkins, Hyde, Hanzlik, Haskell, Carrier, Stryker, Myers, and Underwood. They will arrive in Des Moines about 10:30 p. m.

RECEIVES VALUABLE ADDITION

Slavonic Library Presented With Autograph Copy of Translation of Bohemian Literature.

The library of the Slavonic department has just received an autograph copy of a work, published in English, comprising some of the richest gems in Bohemian literature. The selections were translated by Selver, a graduate of Cambridge university, who has made an exhaustive study in this field. The literature of Bohemia is extremely rich but, unfortunately, little known in English and for this reason the collection is highly esteemed by the department.

Count Luetzow has again shown his great appreciation of the University of Nebraska in a recent communication from Paris in which he states that the first copies of his "History of the Hussite Wars," to be published in March, will be sent to western colleges in general, but Nebraska in particular. In answer to numerous inquiries, the department wishes to state that, for some time to come, the count's address will be "The Athenium Club, Pall Mall, London."

GERMAN DRAMATIC CLUB

Will Give a Play in Union Hall Thursday Evening.

The meeting of the German Dramatic Club will be held in Union hall in the Temple Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. A one act play "Ein Amerikanisches Duell" will be given. It is important that all members be present for the business meeting at 7.

MAKE STRONG START

NEW MAGAZINE SEEMS DESTINED TO FILL LONG FELT WANT.

ALMOST CAUSES RIOT

Efforts of Negro Musicians to Arouse Interest Make Professors Nervous and Cause Mob Rule for Short Time.

Issued into the realm of university publications with a gusto that finally grew into a student disturbance worthy of faculty intervention, Angwan made its formal debut into university literature day before yesterday to the accompaniment of the musical strains of a three piece orchestra. The feature of the first day of Angwan was the novel manner with which its boosters undertook to force the magazine upon the attention of the students by means of a miniature negro minstrel show. Shortly before the dismissal of the second hour classes the musical efforts of the three ebony minstrels was disseminated throughout the old university hall and immediately a host of youths and lasses choked up the lower hall in an attempt to get nearer the musical treat.

Before the trio of players had had sufficient time to display their classical training in the rendition of the latest "rags," however, the faculty decided that the mob effect produced was unbearable and the minstrels were forced to depart without the campus gates, where they started in again to attract both the university and transient public with voice and orchestra selections.

The initial sale of Angwan fulfilled the expectations of its publishers to a very substantial degree. Editor Trimble and Manager Northrup seemed quite satisfied that the number of purchasers had run up as high as four hundred and the prospects for a great increase over this number before the sale stops they considered by no means discouraging. The sale will continue through solicitors for several days more and every effort will be put forward to make the paper more than a mere attempt at success.

The present issue of Angwan consists of a twenty-eight page booklet under cover with material made up from selected contributions from students in the form of stories, essays, jokes, athletic material, and literary efforts of any nature. The book fills a long felt need in university life for a general, strictly literary periodical where the leisure thoughts of the student body could be published and distributed for the benefit of the whole.

The paper is to be published hereafter bi-weekly. It is announced since the current publication has been put out that a staff of three new cartoonists has been enlisted and that the artistic side of the book will be a feature in future numbers. Short live stories and essays constitute the most desired literary material.