

The Daily Nebraskan

Vol. XII. No. 103

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1913

Price 5 Cents

TEAM HAS HARD LUCK

TWO MEN WHO HAVE STARRED THIS SEASON DOOMED TO REMAIN ON THE SIDE LINES.

FIRST GAME WILL BE BEST

Full Team Will Probably Represent Nebraska In Second and Third of Series But Several Will Be Cripples Monday Night.

Coach Stiehm returned yesterday from Kansas City after having finally arranged all the details of the championship series between the Jayhawkers and the Cornhuskers. According to their usual policy, the southerners haggled and wrangled over every point in the agreement, but by keeping at them, the coach finally managed to complete all arrangements, and the Kansas team will be here ready for Monday night's battle.

One of the points which caused much difficulty was that of officials. The Kansans play a very open style of basketball and are not such rough players as are the members of the northern teams. Therefore, they desired referees who would hold to as strict an interpretation of the rules as possible. The difficulty was settled by arranging to have two officials in each game, and the one who is to be referee will be chosen by tossing a coin. As was previously announced in the Daily Nebraskan Mike Hyland of Iowa will be one of the officials here. The other man has not been definitely decided on.

Another cause of much trial and tribulation to the coach was the matter of admission prices. The two teams will split even on the gate money taken in at the three games. Therefore Kansa insisted, and with

(Continued on Page 4.)

WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

WHY THE JUNIOR LAW CLASS FELT CALLED UPON TO REPUDIATE THE DEBTS INCURRED BY ITS ALLEGED REPRESENTATIVES WHO GAVE AT THE LINCOLN HOTEL LAST YEAR A DANCE IN THE NAME OF THAT BUT WHICH THAT CLASS NEVER AUTHORIZED.

"RESOLVED, That the Junior Law Class for 1912-1913, after a full and complete discussion of the matter referred to in the attached letter from the Lincoln Hotel, dated February 21, 1913, is convinced that the debt mentioned in said letter was incurred without any authority from the Freshman Law Class of 1911-1912, and entirely without any responsibility of said class.

That it is not the intent of the Junior Law Class to dodge any of its debts or its desire to see anyone be "stuck" for its debts; but it does not feel called upon to pay obligations incurred by others without its authority and for which it is not responsible.

That the Junior Law Class feels that those who have been the cause of this delinquency should answer for it, and that the Lincoln Hotel should look to those who put on the dance, for payment of their claim."

WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW.

COMEDY TAKES WELL

GERMAN DRAMATIC CLUB PUTS ON CREDITABLE PERFORMANCE—DIE JOURNALISTEN.

EXTENDS OVER THREE HOURS

However Interest Lags But Little During Entire Time.—Theatre Is Well Filled with Appreciative Audience.

"Die Journalisten," by Freytag, a comedy in four acts, was presented at the Temple Theatre last evening and scored a marked success with an appreciative audience.

The play consumed three and a half hours, the final curtain falling at 11:40. Though the action dragged slightly at times, the interest was such from scene to scene that not a person was seen to leave his seat.

"Die Journalisten" is the best known of German dramas dealing with modern subjects, and is very difficult for the ordinary German student to interpret skillfully. Probably Miss Heppner deserves more credit than any other person for its success. She had witnessed a performance of the play in Germany and was able to give a true picture of German life only by thorough and patient coaching. The gestures and characteristics of the typical German were shown to perfection.

La Mar Stanley in the part of "Colonel Berg" maintained at all times a dignified, sedate manner that interprets perfectly the wily old politician. The part of his daughter Ida, Miss Dorothy Dunkin, was played consistently and well, though she showed a slight self-consciousness at first. Pauline Kohn, as Odelheid Runeck was easily the star of the play. Her per-

(Continued on Page Two)

FRATERNITIES RAISE BIG DUST THIS AFTERNOON

Annual Pan-Hellenic Indoor Meet Scheduled With Matinee Dance.

The annual inter-fraternity track meet will start this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock and will be followed by an informal dance. The twenty-five-yard dash, rope climb, high jump, high kick, shot-put, fence vault, pole vault and tug-of-war, will constitute the events.

Preliminaries in the tug-of-war will be held this morning in the Armory at 10 o'clock.

FEW SEATS LEFT FOR UNIVERSITY NIGHT SHOW

Occasion As Popular As Ever In Spite of Admission Charged—Final Rehearsals Go Off Nicely.

That University Night is to be as popular an affair as ever in spite of the admission charged is apparent from the fact that late yesterday afternoon it was announced at the Oliver theatre that every reserved seat in the house had been sold. Those who have failed to reserve seats so far will be obliged to resort to the aerial section. No loss whatever will be incurred in giving the production

(Continued on Page 4.)

Valley Championship Series Starts Monday, 8:00 P. M.---Armory

CAPTAIN CARRIER

Who although in poor shape will buck the Jayhawkers Monday night.

ROSS HASKALL

Nebraska's crack right forward, expected to put up his usual game against Kansas.

CLINT UNDERWOOD

Left Forward of much experience and "pep" depended on to make Hamilton's men hustle.