

RAIN RETARDS BASEBALL

FANS PREVENTED FROM WITNESSING PRACTICE YESTERDAY BY WORK OF RAIN.

MUCH GOOD MATERIAL IN SIGHT

First Game of Season Comes Next Saturday With Doane—Has Been Stiff Contest in Past Years.

Jupiter Pluvius again held the upper hand over the "National Pastime" coaches who were contented with giving the sack warmers a rather stiff workout in the commodious gymnasium. With the opening game but a few days off the coaches are putting in every spare minute to whip the nine into shape to meet the Doane Collegians.

From the present outlook the University of Nebraska is going to be the proud possessor of a real baseball team this season if the twirling staff are able to get into condition. There is a limited supply of pitching material on hand so far and it is up to Rodman, Strañ, Beckoff and Smryha to hold the reputation of the Cornhuskers.

Towle and Harte are two good men for the receiving department. Both are good with the willow and play the game from start to finish.

In the infield there is quite an abundance of material to choose from and Coach "Buck" Belter should find little difficulty in picking out fast performers.

The outfield proposition is causing the least worry of all for here is an abundance of material and all of it good, too. There are several men who are fast in covering the gardens, who know the game and have the ability of locating the sphere with the willow at opportune moments.

The first game of the season should bring out a good delegation of fans. The game Saturday with the Doane aggregation should be a good one for the neighboring school has a team of veterans and have been putting in some good practice.

Cornell Issues Challenge

To the Editor of The Daily Nebraskan: Assuming that your paper is circulated among all of the colleges and universities of the country, I take this means of challenging the cadet bands of the United States to a band contest to be held in Lincoln at some date prior to June 15, 1913.

SEVEN COLLEGE MEN RUN FOR COMMISSIONER

Number Possess Diplomas—Five Nebraskans.

In today's primaries there are fifty-one men running for the office of city councilman and of this number seven are college men. Among the seven, five come from the University of Nebraska and two from the University of Iowa. Roscoe Oman graduated from the University in '07, Frank Eager in '03 and John H. Mockett, jr., was a member of the class of '87. Edwin Ripley took his literary degree at Nebraska in '01 and his law degree in '04. Otto Meier took the same two degrees in the years '98 and '00. Don Love graduated from the University of Iowa in '86 and Howard Whitmore in '83.

The city clerk has had many questions asked him in regard to students voting. The fact that one is a student at the University does not prevent him voting if he has his residence in this place and is otherwise qualified. If he has no present intention of making a change and no particular future residence in view and considers this his present residence, he would be entitled to vote if he has the necessary qualifications of age and citizenship.

If an elector is a first voter or has moved into the precinct since the last day of registration, which was March 29, he may vote, if not registered, by making affidavit before the judges of election showing a three months' residence in the city.

NEBRASKA WRESTLERS LOSE AT IOWA CITY

Scarlet and Cream Warriors Are No Match for Sturdy Hawkeyes.

By winning the light, middle and heavy weights and tying Nebraska in the featherweight, Iowa won an overwhelming victory over Nebraska last Saturday night in the dual wrestling tournament held at Iowa City. The Nebraska boys put up a stiff argument but could not stand the pace set by the Iowa squad.

The featherweight bout between Ballard of Iowa and Ganz of Nebraska was the opener. This match opened with a great flash of speed but slowed down after four minutes of extremely fast work. Neither man secured a fall and the bout was declared a draw by the referees.

Probably the fastest exhibition was between Gunther and Gran. These two men weighed in at 138 and 137 respectively and there was not a slow minute in this bout. The first half of

UNIVERSITY MEN AID IN RESCUE OF INJURED

Bad Affair in South Eleventh Calls Many Students From Sunday Night Sleep.

Paul Temple, a freshman in the university and a member of Phi Kappa Psi underwent a harrowing experience Sunday evening when a racing automobile attempted to pass him and skidded into Thompson's fountain at Eleventh and J streets, resulting in the immediate death of the driver and the death of Miss Grace Colman from injuries Monday afternoon. Students from nearby fraternity houses came to the rescue among the foremost and carried the injured to Shoemaker hospital. Contrary to current reports none of those mixed up in the accident were members of the student body or in any way connected with it.

MENTAL MISHAP SENDS BILL ROSS ON "FEM" CHASE

Forgetting Location of Chosen Damsel's Home, Wanders About for Many Hours Saturday Night.

The lack of street illumination and the peculiar method of numbering Lincoln houses was responsible for the discomfiture of one person at least of those who attended the "Rag" Formal Saturday night. William Ross, who is more commonly designated by the appellation "Bill," was seriously inconvenienced when he attempted to call upon the damsel who had consented to

SENIOR CAST CHOSEN

CLAYTON RADCLIFFE AND FLORENCE FARMAN WIN OUT IN CONTEST FOR LEADS.

OTHER CHARACTERS PLACED

Otto Sinkie, Reavis Gist and E. L. Stancliffe Selected to Assume Important Places in the cast of "Pillars of Society."

Competing against the best talent in the class, Clayton S. Radcliffe and Florence Farnam were chosen to assume the leading roles in "Pillars of Society" which will be given by the Senior Class on the seventh of June. Although not definitely decided upon or completed the rest of the cast includes Otto Sinkie, E. L. Stancliffe, Reavis Gist, Louis Wyman, Louis Owen, H. R. Muligan, Helen Sawyer, Breta Diehl, Katherine Mockett, W. W. Wendstrand, and F. C. McConnell.

Strong Cast Picked.

The try-outs were held last Wednesday and according to those who saw them, Miss Howell has succeeded in getting an unusually strong group of players to present Ibsen's difficult play. Miss Farnam's clever and intelligent portrayal of "Lona Hessel" indicates what she will do when thoroughly engrossed in the spirit of the play. Her work will be effective and sincere and will stimulate a genuine interest in the performance.

Clayton Radcliffe is peculiarly fitted for the part of "Karsten Bernick" and will bring to it that sternness and subtlety of interpretation which stamps it as one of Ibsen's strongest shadow portraits of the modern financier. The play also affords ample opportunity for Otto Sinkie, E. L. Stancliffe, and Reavis Gist to appear in their best light. Stancliffe, although a new man in the University, has long been connected with things dramatic. He is a transfer from Wesleyan where he was prominently identified with several dramatic organizations. He will play the part of "Johan Tomneson." Messrs Gist and Sinkie are familiar figures to University audiences and it is enough to say that they have places in the cast, playing the parts of "Hilmer" and "Dr. Rorlund" respectively.

Good Support Needed.

The other members of the cast have been well placed in positions that will require careful handling. While not occupying a central position in the play, they bear more importance to it than is usually the case with so-called "minor parts." It is felt in this connection that the coach and committee have taken an extra step to insure the success of the play by obtaining the services of competent people to play alongside the "stars."

Agricultural Engineers.

A short business meeting will be held this evening (Tuesday) in the Music Hall, Temple, promptly at 7 o'clock. It is important that all Agricultural Engineers come out.

O. W. SJOGREN, Chairman.
