TEAM LEAVES TOMORROW

BASEBALL NINE TO TAKE TRIP SOUTH TO KANSAS AND ST. MARYS' COLLEGE.

PITCHING WORRIES COACH

Plenty of Good Men out for Box Position but Uncertainty as to Endurance Makes Trouble.

Yesterday the athletic field took on a very animated appearance after the nice spring rains of last week. Football, baseball and track occupied the field nearly all of the afternoon. The football squad was extra large for such a nice day and the Royal Mentor put his proteges through a good signal practice with more drill in the rudiments of the game.

Baseball predominated in numbers, the coach having several teams out on the field. There is quite an abundance of material in every department except the hurling force and that at present consists of Strain, Rodman, Beckoff, Smyhra, Lathrop and Armstrong. Only a couple of these men are able to go the whole trip while none of them are in the best of condition.

The catching proposition has given the coach little worry for in Harte he has a man who is able to take care of any game. He has a good whip to second and also uses his head all of the time. Whisenand, too, has shown some little talent along the receiving line and no doubt will be given a chance to display some of his good work.

First base was occupied by Jones and Jack Ray owing to the absence of Underwood. Jones was in fine form yesterday with the stick and smashed out several fine drives.

The positions in the infield have not been decided upon and probably will not be until the team leaves for the southern trip next Thursday morning. On that morning, Coaches Stiehm and Beltzer will take about a dozen of their chosen ones and journey into the Jayhawker state. In the afternoon of the same day they will cross bats with the fast St. Mary's team and then proceed to the land of the Kansas Agriculturists. Friday and Saturday afternoons will see some real genuine baseball between these two teams. The St. Mary team, although not belonging to a very large school has the real goods and will cause the Huskers to let out all they have to win. The two days following will test the metal of the Husker machine. Whether or not the pitching staff will be able to stand the pace is the one question and a vital one at that. As for hitting ability of the nine, that has been improving very perceptibly the last couple of days.

Track aspirants yesterday held a jubilee also with the largest number

Special Convocation Gains $112.50 For Tornado Sufferers

The special convocation yesterday morning, which for a time promised to end in a farce, on account of the small number of tickets sold, surprised its backers by attracting some four hundred and fifty students. One hundred twelve dollars and fifty cents was secured for the benefit of the state tornado sufferers, the tickets selling at 25 cents each. Classes were excused at 10 o'clock and a large number of the students took advantage of the opportunity to attend.

The program was the same one given before the Matinee Musical Monday night, a production of Lohengrin by the leading solists of the city, supported by the University Glee club and orchestra.

Committees Still Debate on Uni Removal Question

The committee from both houses appointed to take care of the removal question has done nothing further than debate the question. No agreement can be reached as both sides seem bound not to give in to the other. The senate has set Wednesday for the time of adjournment, but it is not likely that they will do so.

Competitive Drill Between Pershings and Workizers Monday

The annual compet between the Workizers of the State Farm and the Pershings of the University cadets will take place next Monday afternoon on the athletic field. These two organizations represent the best military skill of the school and are known to contain the crack drillers of the regiments.

Following the compet the two regiments will be seen in the first dress parade of the year. This military event has always attracted much attention from the students, and plans will be made to make it as interesting and entertaining as possible. The band will be out in full force with a bunch of new music. It is expected that the Chancellor and Governor Morhead will be on the field, along with a number of prominent men among the faculty and business men of Lincoln. The boys in khaki are fervently hoping that the coeds turn out in large numbers to inspire them in their labors.

The competitive drill itself will begin sharply at 4:30 o'clock. All 4 o'clock classes Monday will be excused, yielding the afternoon to the Military department.

Will Have Inspection

On the twelfth of May, the cadets will undergo their annual inspection by the government officers. Prior to that time the daily drill will be devoted to close and extended order work so that the companies may be in the best condition possible for a rigid inspection.

Dress Parade.

During May, it is planned to break the monotony of routine drill by setting aside every Thursday for a regimental Butts manual and dress parade. These feature days will make the drill more pleasant and interesting for the cadet and will furnish unlimited amusement for the coeds who are expected to crowd the bleachers.

MAKING PLANS TO PAY

HESS PRESIDENT OF JUNIOR CLASS TAKES FIRST MOVE TOWARD CLEARING CLASS CREDIT.

APPOINTS DEFICIT COMMITTEE

Who Will Work in Conjunction With Hop Committee Who Are Helpless Till Debts Are Paid.

Harvey Hess president of the Junior class issues today the following statement of plans for the payment of the debts incurred by the giving of the Junior play and the Nebraska Cotillion in February.

A recent ruling of the Student Organization committee declares that no organization of University students can engage in any activity involving financial expenditure until all of its debts are paid. This means, that, unless all outstanding obligations of the Junior class are met very soon, there will be no Junior hop this semester; there will be no Senior hop, nor Prom, nor even play next year!

That is, unless all debts are discharged, the class of 1914 will be allowed to participate in practically no activity!

The situation confronting us is not the most radiant. This year's deficit on the prom and play aggregates nearly $350. A combination of circumstances largely beyond our control is responsible for this failure. The play and prom received the silent consent of almost every Junior, although for some reason the majority withheld their financial support.

The problem simmers down to this: Unless we, as a class, desire to be a social nonentity in our senior existence, we must meet our obligations and leave school with our credit sound. Accordingly in order to help work out some solution for this difficulty I am appointing a Junior Deficit committee consisting of Julius Harpham, H. C. Barney, K. S. Wherry, Roswell Haskell, Richard Lyman, J. L. Driscoll and Fred Trumbull. The committee will work in conjunction with the class officers and the Hop committee, already appointed.

In order to succeed we will need the earnest help and cooperation of every Junior registered in the University. Therefore be ready to help boost for the solvency of the class of 1914!

HARVEY W. HESS,
President Junior Class.
