WE WANT TO KNOW.

Whether the foresters will be moved to the State Farm.
Who takes care of the campus trees.
When we can get away from school.
Why we can't have Nebraska Hall to ourselves.
Whether anybody works like the foresters.
When we will have a summer course.
Whether our country feels that it owes us a living.
We want to know!

The Forest Club was organized when the forestry department was established in 1904 and since that time it has been a very flourishing organization. The membership consists of the men studying forestry and those specially interested in forestry, and it now comprises about sixty men.

The main object of the organization is to secure men at the bi-weekly meetings to speak on subjects of special interest to foresters, and it serves this purpose very well, especially when it is considered that the club cannot afford to import speakers from a distance. A program of meetings is published in advance for each semester. The publication of the Forest Club Annual is a matter of special interest for every forester, and every member of the club helps in its production. In addition to the annual, the first of a series of circular news-letters for alumni of the club will soon be sent out. The Forest club labor bureau helps the members to obtain summer field work in forestry, and is found to be of great assistance. Last year all upper-classmen and about half of the freshmen were able to secure such work.

Not the least value of the club to its members is its social activity. The "pow-wow" held in the fall helps to introduce the freshmen to the upper-classmen and create a feeling of common interest. A pow-wow of some sort will probably be held this spring. Two dances and a banquet have been held this year, and these events constitute a large part, and for some, practically all of the social activity of the members.

The foresters have been favored with a number of special lectures this year. Mr. W. H. Mast of the Forest Service gave a series of lectures on seed collecting and nursery practice, Mr. Mckown, forester for Colorado Springs, a series on city forestry, Prof. Scott, forester of Kansas, a series on state forestry, and Dr. Clapp is now giving a special course in first aid.

Nebraska Relay Men Take Third Place in Saturday Meet

Nebraska was unable to secure better than third place in each of the events in which she was entered last Saturday at the Drake relay races. In the mile event after one of the teams had beat the gun by several feet the Nebraska and Ames runners got a little confused at one of the relay stations and lost some little ground. The team which ran this race was entirely new and the showing they made is indeed a very creditable one.

In the half mile event Nebraska led until the finish of the last quarter when two men passed the Cornhusker runner and forcing them to take third place.

Nebraska has a very fast bunch of sprinters and will show up well in the dual meets to the great surprise of all the spectators. It is this week that the Cornhuskers have their first dual meet and expect to win.

This afternoon the tryouts for the weights are to be held at 4 o'clock on the athletic field. They were to have been held yesterday but owing to the military parade were postponed until today.
