party. Some of the individuals ordered as high as forty seats. The Oliver management had not been notified that any one individual could purchase so many seats and in order to protect the production from scalpers refused to give the desired number of seats without permission from the managers of the play.

Good seats can still be had. The managers of the play have not advertised the play to any extent among the people of the city and are giving the students every opportunity to enjoy a high class sroduction at a reasonable price.

TODAY IS ARBOR DAY

tree planting is of special importance in the almost treeless region of Nebraska and in our young towns and cities, and it is to be hoped that through the influence of Arbor day the people of the state will make their towns and farm more beautiful, and therefore more satisfactory places to live. The lesson of Arbor day is the use and value of the trees in the life of the community and the nation.

Notice.

Miss Lucy W. Robinson, a national traveling secretary of the Y. W. C. A. will speak at the 5 o'clock vesper service Tuesday evening. A tea will be given in her honor from 3 to 5 in the Association rooms.
