GLOOM ENVELOPES CAMP

WITH WASHBURN GAME BUT TWO DAYS OFF CORNHUSK-ER TEAM IN BAD SHAPE

SHIELDS ON

Washburn Said to Have Stronger Team Than Whick Defeated K. U. Last Year.

(H. V. Harlan.)

Down into the deep, dark, dark cellar of gloom goes the hopes of the Conntasker devotees. A long and increasing list of crippies; a green and inexperienced line; a scarcity of var sity material; and the reported strength of the Washburn aggregation tell the tearful tale.

More Hard Luck.

In the varsity-freshman scrimmage yesterday at the State Farm, Shields left tackle, was put out of the game for a week or more through his right There is no one available to fill his shoes. Stiehm is at a loss where to get a player of varsity calibre with which to plug this hole in the line. As it is, the line is not up to standard and the losing of any one man may bring about direful results.

Stiehm is hard pressed from another source to keep what remains of his shattered machine intact, for the faculty has hung "cons" on several of the players. Whether these aforesaid "cons" can be lifted during the two remaining days before the Washburn game, no one knows. At all events those upon whom the ban of collegiate life is hanging are burning up the mid-night juice in a heroic effort to shake them off. May the God of Good Luck be with them ..

Fair Scrimmage Yesterday.

For the second time this week the vacsity scrimmaged with the fresh men at the Farm. The battle lasted for some forty minutes. It was mediocre throughout. The varsity uncorked everything they have and at that were only able to annex five touchdowns. The work of the line was ragged and slipslod. It is going to be almost impossible to fill Shield's place at left tackle. Good line material is woefully lacking. The line charges poorly and does not open good hoies for the plunges of the back field. Beck and Towle alter

CROSS COUNTRY EXPECTED TO BE SUCCESSFUL SPORT

Captain McMaster and Coach Reed Courts Are Being Boistered Up in Enthusiastic But Want More Men.

Cross Country.

About thirty men are out so far for the Cross country run, while at least fifteen more are expected out by Coach Guy Reed. The date of the final try outs will be Saturday November 1st. Several of last year men are out and making a good showing, while several new men are showing excel ent form.

McMasters Captain.

McMasters captain of this year's squad is making wonderful strides above his former standing. Last year he won the 5 mile tryouts in good time also making a good 2 miler on the Varsity. This year he claims he will not stop with anything small, unless it is his time. He also has an able bodied following. Kratz a last year's man is coming to the front and means to hold his ylace on the team against all new comers. H. M. Diers, another last year's man is running better than ever. Charles Anderson a brother of Louis Anderson, our greatest cross country and track man seems to be following in his brother's tracks. He was on last year's team and there is little doubt of his holding that position again. Kubik has won a name of fame this season. They say he actually flies. He made the try outs yast year, but had some bad luck and was out the whole seasquad and is looked upon as being remains undecided. excellent material. H. Goetze of last had to drop out on account of sick- later.

Freshmen Material.

The first year men are making a fine showing and if they were eligible, some of them would no doubt make 🖈 the regular squad. Next year they will have their chance, and will make the old men work hard for their place on the team. Among the speediest new men are: Frost; Kyle; Paine; R. E. Anderson; L. Clark; Floyd Runkel; Recker; Prusa; Smith and

The Mo. Valley Meet.

This year the Missouri Valley Conference meet will be held in Lincoln at the time of the Wesleyan Uni. game making that date a double attraction. Our strongest opponents this year will be Missouri, Kansas, Ames, Coe, and Drake. The chances are that we will make an excellent showing and renew our old standing on the cross country run. Last year our team showed up so poor that we could not even send a team to the

UNIVERSITY TENNIS TOURNA-MENT IN TWO WEEKS

Preparation for Annual Event.

Arrangements are being made preparatory to the University tennis tournament to be held during the week starting Monday, October 13. Nebraska's very poor tennis facilities are being bolstered up to give the racket wielders the best possible advantages for practice in the hope that they may, in spite of the material handicaps, do credit to themselves in the Missouri Valley meet in the spring.

The courts, two in number, and by nature of an abominable character, instructions that will be announced, be filled. with Guy Williams, who has been appointed to supervise tennis affairs. One round a day will be played during the week. Contrary to the situation in interscholastic athletics, freshmen as well as upper classes are eligible in son on account of a bad ankle. Ger- the coming tournament. It is probable law from the Kansas Agriculture that the valley meet in the spring will school is a valuable addition to the be held at Ames, although the place

The race in the two upper classes promises to be interesting as it is known that there will be at least two candidates in each class. In the senior class it is understood that the race lies at this time between three men-Robert Flory, W. A. Rockie, and Sam Griffin. This gives promise of a tight three cornered race. All men are regarded as strong candidates. Flory has been prominent in class and school affairs ever since entering school at Nebraska. He is well known as a base-ball man and is a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity Rockie is a prominent student in the College of Agriculture, being a member of the Ag club and of Alpha Zeta. He is a member of the Forest club and was connected with the Forest Club Annual as manager last year. He has also served as president of the Union Literary Society. Griffin has served as a member of the Cornhusker staff and of the Student Publication Board. He is prominent in the law school. He is a member of Phi Delta Phi and Phi Gamma Delta.

In the junion class the candidates are Cloyd Stewart and W. H. Bauman. Both are prominent in their class and
