INTERCOLLEGIATE SOCIALISTIC SOCIETY IS SPREADING

Many Prominent College Men and Women Act as Officers of This Organization.

The Intercollegiate Socialist Society, organized "to promote an intelligent interest in socialism among college men and women," reports, at the beginning of its eighth year of activity, a membership of 64 undergraduate and 12 alumni study chapters, distributed as follows: New England states, 13; middle Atlantic, 21; middle west, 23; Pacific coast, 3; southern states, 3; Canada, 1. This is an increase of 21 over last year.

Harry W. Laidler, organizing secretary, avers that the interest which is being manifested in socialism among collegians is surprisingly large.

The society has recently begun the publication of "The Intercollegiate Socialist," a quarterly.

The headquarters of the society is 105 West Fortieth street, New York City, where literature may be secured on application. The officers of the society are: J. G. Phelps Stokes, president; Mrs. Florence Kelley, first vice-president; Ernest Poole, second vice-president; Morris Hillquit, treasurer; Leroy Scott, secretary; Harry W. Laidler, organizing secretary; Miss M. G. Batchelder, Prof. Frank C. Doan, Miss Jessie Hughan, Ellis O. Jones, Nicholas Kelley, Paul Kennaday, Miss Caro Lloyd, Dr. I. M. Rubinow, Miss Mary R. Sanford, H. D. Sedgwick, Upton Sinclair, Miss Helen Phelps Stokes, William English Walling, Bouck White, executive committee; Miss Alice Kuebler, executive secretary.

ENGINEERS HOLD BIG POW-WOW ON LICENSING QUESTION

In Charge of Civil Engineering Students Who Render Entertaining Program.

The engineers' debate held in the M. E. building Wednesday evening was a decided success, and those taking part handled their respective parts in commendable fashion. The affirmative of the question—"Resolved, That no person shall practice engineering in responsible charge of public work unless registered and legally authorized by license from the State Board of Engineering Examiners" was represented by H. M. Fishwood, P. J. Cannel and R. F. Lyman, and the negative was upheld by Charles Wohlford, T. E. Wood and W. L. Hart. The appreciative audience acted as a body of judges, and Dean O. V. P. Stout made a resume of the debate by discussing the various points of interest and importance.

At a business meeting after the debate it was decided that the Agricultural Engineering Club was to have charge of the next meeting, to be held four weeks from that date. This was the first joint meeting, and according to the results experienced only success seems possible in the future.

DEBATING SQUAD AT WORK

Week's Work Finds Debaters Well on Their Way Toward Final Tryouts for Teams.

The members of the debating squad, under the tutelage of Professor Fogg, are busy at work delving into innumerable volumes of statistics dealing with the immigration question. Nightly pilgrimages are made to the squad room. After a week's work the arguments for and against are becoming fairly well outlined.

Within a few weeks a last tryout will be held within the squad, at which the two teams will be picked to represent Nebraska at Iowa City and at home.
