SEE NEBRASKA VICTORY

FOOTBALL RALLY OPTIMISTIC IN VIEWING CHANCES AGAINST GOPHERS' MACHINE.

WILLIAMS IS ALSO CONFIDENT

Chapel Crowded to Doors for Best Rally Since Michigan Rally-Football Germs in the Air.

While the crowd shifted from foot to foot and yelled mightily at each and every slip and witticism vester day's rally went on to a glorious finish. The omission of 11 o'clock classes proved a ground gainer in the cause of well-attended rallies. So the chapel was crowded from door to gallery, and even with that those who fought for standing room aloft were contented with their lot and noisy enough to satisfy the most exacting.

After a rousing sendoff by the band Fred Hunter took over the manage ment of the rally from the hands of the more than willing Kavan. In the meantime the gang had signified their presence, and subsided long enough to admit of the introduction of the first speaker, Coach Stiehm. After his flowery oration the rest of the rally was off for keeps, and it finished in a riot of cheers, interspersed with speeches by the prophets.

Ex-Captain Jack Temple mentioned his youthful "Hope" to the great delight of the house, and Dr. Maxey received the ovation of his young life when Chairman Hunter introduced him as a newly-wed. The crowd gasped, then tore loose, and Maxey rose gracefully to the occasion by predicting his usual line of victory. Later be admitted (confidentially) that Hunter had taken an unfair advantage of him, and that it was all a joke. Nevertheless, the gang wants to know

Professor Caldwell, one of the real oldtimers, spoke from his thirty-odd years of Nebraska experience, both in the classroom and on the (baseball) field. His talk was interrupted by the arrival of Coach Williams, the Gopher mentor, but he hastened to a spirited finish that carried the house with him and exhibited a rare and valuable asset for any activity—the active support of the faculty. Chancellor Avery satisfactorily explained his tardiness and emphasized the moral victory at

"Doe" Williams then gave out a few secrets concerning the Minnesota plan of battle, but he promised not to show the white flag. In fact, he even refused to admit that Minnesota expected defeat.

In the meantime the gang cheered some more. Nor were the "fellowesses" quiet all the time.

As a conclusion to the sport, Hunter called on the captain Purdy fol lowed by Towle, Howard, Halligan,

Rutherford, and Mastin. And "Dog" Eager, too, with his chosen few, spoke a word or two on the game in view

Minnesota's fate having been de cided by popular acclamation, the rally dispersed, with visions of those eleven little mounds on Nebraska Field after the game tonight. "The best rally since the Michigan rally two years ago," was the popular verdict.
