Conference Games Today
 Ames vs. Missouri at Ames.
 Kansas Uni. vs. Kansas Aggies, Manhattan.
 Drake does not have a game today, but are resting up for their set with Washington next Saturday. Our prediction is that Ames and Kansas Uni. will be returned victors this evening. If, however, the Ags should defeat Kansas Uni. the Lawrence school would be eliminated from the championship race. The Ames-Missouri game will be watched with interest for to date Missouri has not played a conference team and it will eliminate one of the two teams. Four teams, Nebraska, Kansas, Ames and Missouri, are still in the running.

Here is what the sporting editor of the "Minnesota Daily" wrote about the Cornhusker victory: "On a field that was unusual for its concrete-like hardness and for its barren grassless spots, the Gophers were battered, not defeated, by the Cornhuskers in a 7 to 0 game last Saturday."

And what the editorial writer of the same paper said: "It was the first game away from home and the Nebraska team had the benefit of six week's training and was determined to win. There are no excuses to offer. The best developed team won and won fairly. Nebraska deserves credit for her victory."

The Minnesota scribe that reported the game evidently had his wires crossed. List to this: "Same White, the Yale star who has been assisting Coach Stiehm is quoted as having said: 'Minnesota plainly outplayed Nebraska; Nebraska plainly outplayed Minnesota.' White cannot remember of ever making such a statement. To the contrary he says that NEBRASKA PLAINLY OUTPLAYED MINNESOTA. Well, isch-ka-bibble.

Coach Juneau of Wisconsin had a scout here for the Nebraska-Minnesota game in the person of Driver, assistant coach. Wisconsin should

KANSAS LOOKING FORWARD TO KANSAS AGGIE GAME

Feeling Good Over Exhibition Put Up Against Drake, Now Start for Aggies with Perfect Line.

Lawrence, Kas., Oct. 23.—(Special to Daily Nebraskan.)—The Kansas Jayhawkers, after romping on the Drake Bulldogs last Saturday by the score of 11 to 0, have come into their own. At present they have one of the strongest lineups found in any of the M. V. C. teams. Drake put up a dandy game, a game that kept the spectators on their feet from beginning to end, but handicapped as they were by injuries to several of their star players, they were comparatively easy meat for the Kansas eleven. Sim-son's game leg, and the injury to McHenry materially impaired the changes of John Griffith's proteges.

The team itself and the students here are looking forward with great expectation to next week's game with the Kansas Aggies, realizing that they are a strong team. They lost to Southwestern, a defeat which has been so much harped upon by rival rooters, due mainly to a personal fault on the part of one of their players. The coaches here are not slacking up a bit in preparing their charges for the Aggie game Saturday.

The problem of working up two ends as strong as the rest of the line has bothered Coach Mosse considerably. It is now thought to be completely solved, for the plays of Strothers and Reber in the Drage game were as finished an exhibition of the collegiate national sport as has been seen on the Kansas lot this year.

The English Club, whose purpose it is to stimulate interest and co-operation among those students who have literary talent and appreciation, has held one meeting already this year and is making plans for an all-around interesting and helpful year's work.

The club this year has about thirty active members and meets once a month at the homes of the members. Applications for membership may be handed to the membership committee. The date of the next meeting has not been definitely decided, but it will be held at Prof. P. M. Buck's home.

UNI BAND TRIP UP IN AIR

Board In Doubt Whether to Send Band to One or Both Games.

The question of whether the band will be taken to Ames and Kansas is up for the consideration of the athletic board. According to Manager Reed there is little doubt that the band will be taken both places. In case the board should decide not to send the band to Ames, the Kansas trip is practically assured. In any case members of the band feel assured of at least one trip, and probably two.

have a pretty good line on Minnesota's plays for the Gophers uncorked everything they had in a desperate effort to nose out or even tie the rampant Cornhuskers.

Museum Enriched By Valuable Relics and Fossils From Nebraska

Mr. A. A. McReynolds of Nehawka, Neb., has just brought to the state museum a collection of about 265 Indian relics, consisting of flint and stone implements, pottery, etc., from Cass and Otoe counties. There are 122 arrow points, 100 flint knives, 25 pieces of pottery, stone axes, scrapers, etc.

At the same time Dr. Merrill E. Dodson, of Nehawka, a boy of twelve years, sent his collection of Indian relics, consisting of some seventy pieces, including flint drills, tanning stones, 23 arrow points, 17 flint knives, 22 pieces of pottery, and 10 scrapers.

These two sets, numbering more than 300 pieces, add materially to the archaeological collections of the University.

Mr. C. N. Philbrick, owner and director of the electric light and power plant of Fullerton, Neb., attended the Minnesota football game and brought to the University museum a tooth of a mastodon merificum. This is the first fragment of this particular species of mastodon which has been presented to the museum. The museum now has four distinct mastodons from Nebraska, and three distinct mammoths, or seven ancient proboscideans.

Mr. J. B. Burnett, who has been engaged for the past year as geologist for the Carribean Oil Company in Venezuela, returned Tuesday, bringing a collection of birds, mammals, and fossils from Venezuela.

HURRAH FOR HASKELL

The Injuns are coming, their tomtoms are humming.

They're painted for the bloody war-path;

"Little Cracked Knee" and Chief "Hully Gee,"

As well as "Afraid of a Bath." Their backfield is heavy and their line is a bevy

Of adipose tissue and beef;

They will buck the machine invented by Stiehm

And battle with toenails and teeth. Cutbee.

Engage formal music now. Hagensick.
