Miss Gittings is Complimented on Girls Playing Hockey

Miss Laura Parsons, principal of the Chicago School of Physical Education, has written to Miss Gittings, saying:

"The Daily Star, with its interesting description of your work in hockey, has just reached me.

"You have evidently been able to develop hockey in the right way. I have always understood that you were particularly strong in developing the game spirit, and I have hoped that there might come a time when some of our students would have the benefit of your instruction."

The Chicago school is one of the two physical training schools between here and the coast and is considered an exceptionally good one.

THIS FRESHIE GETS A DUCKING.

At Wisconsin a freshman is going to be ducked before the entire school, for disobeying the Freshman green cap rule. The student council has appointed a ducking committee, and the ducking will take place publicly. This one man was the only freshman to violate the rule. Why not have such a condition at Nebraska?

AMUSEMENTS

"Janet of the Dunes."

Another brilliant feature by the author of "Joyce of the North Woods." This time the heroine is a girl of the surf-pounded beaches and the wind-swept dunes. She is reared by old Capt. Billy, who loved her mother. The girl delights in rummaging through the library of one of the wealthy summer residents. He finds her, his friend, an artist, loves her. They find that the wealthy man is the girl's own father.

An All-American team—the tailors who make Kensington Clothes.

One tailor can't make all kinds of clothes any more than one man can play every position on a football team.

You'll find one maker who excels in making dress clothes, another in Chesterfield overcoats, another in soft-tailored English sack suits, etc.

They are specialists, and each one gives just a little more and better service than any one else can.

That's the way in which our Kensington suits and overcoats are made.

No matter what sort of garment you buy, if it has a Kensington label in it you know it's the product of a specialist—the best your money can buy.

Suits $25.00 to $40.00
 O'coats $20 to $65.00

Kenmores, too! For the money saver. No better suits and overcoats anywhere at the price—$11.50 to $20.00.
