WILL SPEED CORNHUSKERS

MAMMOTH SEND-OFF FOR TEAM ARRANGED FOR THURSDAY NIGHT.

TORCH LIGHT PARADE PLANNED

Streets Will be Lit up by Hundreds of Torches Dancing Attendance on Team. Off for Kansas.

The biggest demonstration of Cornhusker spirit of the year will speed the team on its way to Kansas Thursday night. A torch light parade, in prompt speeches, the excitement preceding the battle, and the contagion of kindred enthusiasts will unite in a mammoth send-off for the team, which leaves via the Burlington at midnight.

The torch light idea is one of the oldest and best traditions of the university, and preparations have been made to make the 1913 parade a high water standard. Several hundred torches were ordered for the occasion, and they arrived ready for use yesterday morning. They will be put on sale Thursday morning, and will sell for the small sum of fifteen (15) cents, filled with oil. The distribution of torches will be from tables on the campus and from the Daily Nebraskan office, starting at 11 a. m.

The parade will start from the campus at 8 o'clock. The team is under orders from Coach Stiehm to "bunk in" at 12, so all festivities will be included and concluded within the space of the one hour. However, the band will be on hand to start the dance promptly at 9, and for the hour following the streets of the capital city will be treated to one of the best serpentine dances of the decade. It is expected that many hundred of Nebraska's younger generation will follow the "band wagon," filled with the members of the team. The different organizations of the university are pushing the publicity end of the celebration, arranging to see that every student knows of the details and makes arrangements to be present.

Mrs. Singer Will Give Musical Numbers At Convocation

The program for the musical convocation at the Temple Thursday morning will be given by Mrs. Hortense Gundersheimer-Singer. Mendelssohn and Chopin selections will be given:

Mendelssohn Rondo Capriccioso
Chopin—(a) Valse, Eb; (b) Preludes (1) C minor, (2) G major; (c) Ballade, G minor

It might be mentioned that Mrs. Singer is Rabbi Singer's wife and comes well recommended.

MID-SEMESTERS BEGIN WEEDING-OUT PROCESS

Instructors Will Report All Cases of Delinquency Immediately Following Exams.

Instructors have been requested to report any student below 60 per cent after the mid-semester examinations. Such failures will at the discretion of the delinquency committee be considered grounds for the first "weeding out." In accordance with the policy of the University to tighten up on the requirements, there will be a survival of the fittest. Mid-semester are the first direct check which the University has upon the work assigned.

Several of the departments have already given their examinations, but the greater part of them come on Thursday and Friday. This will seriously inconvenience those who had intended to leave Thursday night or Friday morning for the Kansas game at Lawrence. However, in view of these impending examinations, the student body has assumed the most serious and studious attitude shown so far this year. Midweek fussing has given place to grinding, the Orpheum is deserted, while the library seats are at a premium. The campus is dotted with little knots of students getting the latest dope on the next quiz. In fact the "stude" is the man of the hour.

Stock Judging Team Chosen to Represent State at Annual Show

The stock team which is to represent Nebraska at the International Stock Show in Chicago, December 1 to 6, has been picked. Out of twenty men contesting for the team six men have been chosen to carry off the laurels. Those who secured places on the team are, in the order in which they placed, S. W. Whisenand, V. J. Heine, F. R. Trumbull, S. G. Chamberlain, K. C. Fouts and J. A. Lathrop.

For two months the men have been working hard at the state farm and also on other stock farms throughout the state, with the result that they are in fine condition for the coming contest. In past years Nebraska has turned out teams which have placed high in this contest, and it is expected that this year's team will place high, if not higher than her other competitors, which compose some of the best agricultural schools in the country.

The team will leave early next Tuesday morning via Burlington. On their trip they will stop at Dennison, Ames, and Norway, Ia., where they will judge stock, arriving in Chicago in time for the contest, December 1.

CHINESE CUSTOMS TO BE Y. W. C. A. TOPIC TONIGHT

Miss King Will Talk on Economic Conditions in Orient at Weekly Meeting.

The interesting everyday and social life of the Chinese, graphically presented, will make the Wednesday evening Y. W. C. A. meeting one of the best of the year. Some unusually good photographs have been secured for the evening. These pictures were taken last summer by Miss Catherine King and portray different types of Chinese life. Everything from the funny little Chinese babies to bride and groom will be treated in an entertaining and instructive manner. Economic conditions and the scope and influence of Y. W. C. A. in China will be clearly presented. Mrs. Barker will give a talk upon the subject.

The meeting will be in the Temple Music hall at 7 o'clock. All university girls are asked to attend.

Professor Caldwell Will Act as Judge at South Dakota Debate

Professor Caldwell has accepted a request from the University of South Dakota to act as judge in the intercollegiate debate to be held there Friday evening, November 14. Quoting from their letter of thanks:

"We would esteem it a great favor if you would consent to speak at our assembly Saturday morning. You may take as much of the hour as you please, the more the better."

The Kansas City Credit Men's Association will also have the privilege of his services Thursday, November 20. Before more than two hundred men Professor Caldwell will talk on "Crisis and Their Causes."

The domestic science department of the university will "do some stunts" at the mid-winter meeting of organized agriculture. The display of cured meats and the apple show will be features at the auditorium, January 19-23. Secretary J. R. Duncan of the state horticultural society has been busily engaged on the details of the apple show for several weeks. In his opinion the display will be highly successful and will be of immense educational value to the visitors who desire information concerning Nebraska's great fruit industry. Good roads, the improved methods of agriculture and stock breeding, important rural problems and many other matters will come up at the various sessions of organized agriculture. Prof. C. B. Lee, Prof. H. J. Gramlich and Prof. T. A. Kiesselbach are planning some novel features for the show. Secretaries of the twenty-two societies that make up organized agriculture are writing for space in the official program.

JAYHAWKERS ARE STRONG

KAN KANSAS IS THE BATTLE CRY OF THE NEBRASKANS.

WEEK OF GRUELLING PRACTICE

Scrimmage Tonight—Cornhuskers are in Fine Mettle After Last Week's Rest—Purdy and Rutherford Out in Suits.

(By H. V. Harlan.)

"KAN KANSAS."

That's the battle cry of every loyal Nebraskan.

The entire energies of the coaches, varsity, scrubs and freshman team are pointed to the Kansas game. It is the one game above all others that Nebraska wants to win.

Kansas Reported Strong.

Coach Stiehm and Captain Purdy witnessed the Kansas-Washburn game Saturday. They report that Kansas has a likely looking bunch of footballers but they are not at all pessimistic. Hence it would seem that they are not worried over Nebraska's chances to bring back the bacon. In Lawrence the students believe they have the strongest team that has represented the Jayhawkers for some years. Without a doubt Coach Mosse has a formidable team. The Stiehm roller will have to play the best game of football they are capable of in order to come out with the long end of the score.

Injuries are the bugaboos that are now troubling the Nebraska mentor. Shields is out of the game for the season because of a broken shoulder bone received in the Wesleyan game last Saturday. Rutherford was out for practice Monday for the first time since he was taken down with tonsillitis. His physician believes that he will be in tip-top shape by Saturday. Cameron has a slightly sprained ankle that bothers him considerable. Purdy is still nursing his leg, the ligaments of which were torn in the Indian mix up. He is able to run signals but that is all. Coach Stiehm cannot take chances of further injuries by using them in scrimmage. The balance of the team are in good shape.

No Scrimmage Monday and Tuesday.

"Jumbo" did not put his disciples through scrimmages on Monday and Tuesday evenings. The entire time was devoted to working out new plays for the Jayhawkers, perfecting formations and running signals. The varsity stalwarts are plunging into the week's grueling practice in preparation for Kansas with the old time "zip." After the long rest of last week and the easy Wesleyan game they are bobbing over with good spirits and filled with pep. Barring the injuries to Rutherford and Purdy the Cornhuskers are in the best shape of the year.
