GET OUT YOUR TORCH

I complet us the night of all mucht stren it takes neither a validated piket nor twelve hours of credited tanding to participate in the all I to versity my rally. When the spirit of past victories and present hopes, and the spirit of the Combuskets what ever may be the result peaks to the rearm departing for bransas. It is the eve before the battle, for the fans as well as the team, and tonight we cheer, dance, and burn the fire which typities Nebraska loyalty for on the morrow we meet the Jayhawk. If ever a freshman gets to jostle shoulders with his classmates in the interests of the University, it is when he lights his torch and joins the column of winding, twisting, paraders. The upper-classman who has not lost his youth, who has not sunk the demands of his college under those of self, will bring out his old oil-soaked beacon.

The Nebraskan Does Not Necessarily En dorse the Sentiments Expressed in This Column

REGARDING THE ENGINEERING DANCE

It is our opinion that the entiment expressed by the article in The Daily Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraskan of Tuesday, November 11.

He was courteously but firmly rejected. We are very sorry for a man, who is so greely for graft that he will attempt to use a complimentary ticket given to and endorsed only for another man. As an officer of the organization the original holder, according to a ruling of the Engineering Society, was entitled to a complimentary ticket in return for being present. The ethics and honor of one who will attempt to secure for himself special privileges, break rules and agreements, and try to bribe officers to neglect their specific duties, are so far down the scale as to make their titness for society doubtful
