

MY FRESHMAN TEAM

By Dewey Harman

The Nebraska football team is just closing the season of 1913 with a great record. Those who have seen the freshman in action this year know good workouts, and deserve some cred for their achievement. One man who knows football and has seen the best teams in the state says that the that they have given the varsity some freshman at Nebraska could beat any team in the state barring the varsity only.

Chamberlain and Rasmussen play the halves. Chamberlain weighs over 190. He is a good line plunger and a wonder in open field work. Rasmussen is light but hits hard and is shifty. He is good at running interference.

Amick at full hits the line hard and with more practice at tackling will be a valuable man.

Porter and Renfro have worked at quarter. Both men are fast and use good head work in calling signals.

The guards and center are light. Halbersleben has held down the center position. He passes the ball well and often gives Thompson, the varsity center, a good workout. Neyman, Moates and Richards have all played in the guard position. They are all light, but stop many of the varsity plays directed at them.

Corey and Norris play the tackles. They are the men that the varsity dread most when trying to make a desired touchdown.

There have been a number of candidates for the end positions. Wilson and Seltzer both work well at end or in the back field. Wilson was kept out of practice a large part of the season with a broken collar bone. Parley, Coyley, Claar and Sherry have all done excellent work at end. Cayley is also especially good at petting forward passes. While the freshmen get little glory and praise out of their work and do get a lot of abuse and knocks, a large number of this year's team will get credit for being on a winning varsity next year.

STIEHM'S ASSISTANTS

Assistant Coach Dudley hails from Dartmouth where he served for three years on the Dartmouth football team, shifted his position on the team (alternating between halfback in his first his years being '10, '11 and '12. He year to fullback in later years.

While in college he was prominent in all school activities, graduating with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in the class of 1913. Dudley is a native of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

It is not certain that he will return for the 1914 season, as he was engaged for the present season.

Assistant Coach Harmon is a new member of the coaching staff, having supervision over the freshman team.

Harmon played three years on the Cornhuskers, finishing his career on the championship team of last year. His position was on the line at tackle and guard, receiving Missouri valley mention as a tackle. Harmon's letters years were '10, '11, and '12.

Football was not the only branch of athletics that Harmon entered into. In '10 and '11 he was a member of the Nebraska track team.

His work this year in drilling his first year proteges for varsity material next year has been a most valuable asset to the squad. He is a Nebraskan, through and through.

Roy Cameron, right tackle, 170 lbs., first year. A first year man that has made good. Steady, consistent, and a good galner on tackle around.

Earl Abbott, right guard, 185 lbs., first year. A first year man that will make the all-Missouri valley next year. Dependable and always in the game.

Bob Thompson, center, 175 lbs., first year. An accurate passer. Equal to any center in the valley.
