THE MID-WEST QUARTERLY.

From the editorial in the New York Evening Post and in the Nation of November 20, 1913:

"The University of Nebraska, through a publishing house of this city, has just issued the first number of the Mid-West Quarterly, a magazine interesting in itself and even more interesting as a sign of the times * * * *

"No doubt the articles might be called academic by those who have become accustomed even to the better of our commercial magazines, but they are addressed frankly, we may suppose, to the smaller public, and they are academic in the good sense of the word—thoughtful discussions of the deeper problems of the day as seen from the angle where literature and education and life meet and cross one another.

"This Quarterly will be taken by some as a confirmation of the common opinion that the brains of the country are draining from our Eastern to our Western institutions. But this is another, and very tangled, story. Meanwhile congratulations to the Mid-West, and wishes that it may flourish. The present issue is all the work of Lincoln, but the prospectus indicates that articles are welcome from any quarter—even from the East."

Constitution of Chemical Society.

IOWA TEAM LEAVES FOR HAWKEYE CAMP

Kirk, Sorenson and Perrin Off to Iowa City for Debate Friday Night.

The Nebraska-Iowa debating team left Lincoln last evening at 5:30 for Omaha. They continued their journey from there this morning at 6 a. m., arriving in Iowa City at 3 p. m. Every man on the team feels that he is fully prepared to put up a supreme fight for the laurels of the contest.

The tickets for the Nebraska-Minnesota debate are selling within the expectations of the committee. At least an average representation of the student body will be present. There will be an appreciable delegation from We-leyan, several debate enthusiasts from Havelock high school, and three auto loads of students from Milford who have reported their intentions of attending the forensic argument. It is authentically announced that the band will furnish music at appropriate times during the evening.

H. L. HEINZMAN AT TEMPLE

Former Kansas Football Player Will Address Y. M. C. A. Members Tonight "Student Essentials."

Tonight Mr. H. L. Heinzenman, a former Kansas football player and now student secretary of the international committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, will give an address in the University Temple on the subject of "Student Essentials."

Mr. Heinzenman is a prominent Y. M. C. A. man and his work in connection with the local associations will keep him in the city for several days.

This evening at 7 o'clock you have this opportunity to hear a talk well worth while; not only be there yourself but bring the other fellow along.

ROUTINE WORK FOR CADETS.

The work in the military department has taken on a new form for the uninitiated. The work consists of theoretical instruction and exercises from Butt's Manual. This routine will continue until the spring vacation. The work has started off well and it has been made into an interesting schedule so that the men will feel as if some good is being derived from the theoretical instruction.

There has been some talk of a camp next spring and as the men are interested in this, it is possible that a camp will be held. This will be officially announced if any decision to this effect is made.
