HAVE BIG MEN'S BANQUET

FIRST STEPS TOWARD ANNUAL STUDENT FEED AND FORUM.

STUDENT COUNCIL IS BROUGHT UP

Chancellor Avery as Toastmaster Engineers Successful Affair—Alexander, Elliott, Reed and Shepherd on Toast List.

The first all-university men's banquet, aside from the annual Cornhusker banquet, was held last night at the Lindell. It was promoted by the Y. M. C. A., Secretary Ewing being the prime spirit behind the movement and Carl Ganz, chairman of the social committee, actively in charge.

Chancellor Avery acted as toastmaster, and the program included two selections by the Glee club quartet, Scott, Israel, Allison, and Griswold.

Mr. Ewing of the Y. M. C. A., although not on the toast list, was called on by Chancellor Avery to start things moving. He explained that the Y. M. C. A. in undertaking the promotion of an annual men's banquet was merely attempting to serve the student body. To provide a good time in a cultured fashion, he said, was the object of the innovation. Likewise, to create a student forum, where matters of student interest could be discussed freely.

Mr. R. I. Elliott, deputy state superintendent of instruction, followed, the first speaker on the toast list, with the subject "University Morale." He developed this to show that the morale of the university was largely dependent on the high schools, and that great things were being done in the state to create a better high school morale.

Prof. H. B. Alexander, on "University Social Consciousness," said, in part: "The knowledge of the world's ideals is higher education. Loyalty to one's own ideals, coupled with the will to act, results in the founding of real university traditions. Fulfilling individual ideals, then, and abiding by the world's ideals, makes for the fundamental keystone of university training, which is to perfect in oneself a wisdom which is based upon understanding."

Purposes of Council.

"Student Self Government," which is a vital issue, was discussed by Guy E. Reed, after Chancellor Avery in introducing him assured the audience that if a student council was established, it would be given all the authority that it was able to exercise. Reed stated that some of the purposes a student council would satisfy were (1) to preserve and promote the best customs and traditions of the university; (2) to reflect student sentiment; (3) to provide for general welfare of student activities; (4) to create and engender a spirit of loyalty, clean living and fairness in the student; (5) to further plans for the ultimate formation of a "Nebraskan Union."

Speaking of the overlapping of the Innocents' work by the proposed council, Mr. Reed said that the Innocents could find other work of service and that it was more democratic to have

GAME TABLE STOLEN FROM Y. M. C. A. ROOM

Gang of Boys Suspected of Having Dislocated New Chess Table During Exercises in Temple.

The reading room of the University Y. M. C. A. was the scene of a sure-nuff, genuine robbery last night. About 10 o'clock the room was entered by some unknown miscreants and one of the game tables was taken out through a window. The loss was noted at 10:15. A thorough search of the grounds and building failed to reveal the missing table. Accordingly the police were put on the job, and an effort is being made to get the table back.

There had been an unusual number of boys noticed in and around the building, of the type that is usually noticed on street corners. The graduating exercises of the eighth grade of one of the city schools was being held in the Temple, and these boys made themselves conspicuous by their boisterousness during the exercises.

Conland Wilson, the night caretaker of the Temple, had noted their presence in the building, and is of the opinion that it was one of these gangs that got away with the furniture.

A window was found open, the chess men were scattered over the floor as if hurriedly dashed off the table top, and, every circumstance points to the exaggerated pranks of such a gang. The table was new, and valued at fifteen dollars.

During the week a number of small articles have been missed from the Temple, possibly through the same source. Last evening an overcoat disappeared during the graduation exercises.

KEARNS PROPOSES TO PUT SEVEN-FOOT TEAM IN FIELD

Would Conquer Cornhuskers With a Quintet of Lincoln Giants.

Following the lead of the famous Prussian prince who refused to take into his regiment anybody under seven feet in height, one "Bud Kearns of the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. has evolved a plan of defeating the heretofore invincible Cornhuskers, by placing in the field against them a quintet of seven-foot basket shooters.

On the line-up which Kearns is now getting together, he proposes to have such well known stars as himself "Jumbo Stiehm, Skinny" Hiltner, "Otsle" Keifer, besides two others yet to be picked. He believes that these men could put it all over the Nebraska bunch, not only because of their all-around ability, but also because all they would have to do would be to amuse themselves by dropping the ball in the basket, instead of tossing it in, as is usually the custom.

HUSKERS NARROWLY ESCAPE DEFEAT AT COYOTES' HANDS

Haskell and Keester the Stars in Hard-Fought Victory—Score 29 to 20.

The Wesleyan Coyotes didn't humble the Cornhuskers in basketball last evening, but they came so close to it that the Huskers had to use all their reserve strength to turn the trick. The fiercely-fought battle ended with a 29 to 20 score.

Nebraska's roughness and Alton Keester's remarkable facility of throwing free goals were mainly responsible for the closeness of the score. Twelve fouls were charged against the locals and Keester took advantage of all but two of them. He likewise divided honors with Haskell by making spectacular shots from the field. The Coyotes were able to muster only five field goals, but their little right forward was quite capable of making up for this weakness.

Haskell made a beautiful field goal before the game was half a minute old. He followed it up with six more, and otherwise distinguished himself by his all-around work on the floor. Incidentally, the Huskers maintained their record of a score a minute. In the three games, or 120 minutes, they have played this season, they have made just 129 points, or nine more than necessary to keep up their reputation.

The same teams will meet at the armory again this evening. Last night's score:

Girls' Party Today.

The second of a series of all university girls parties will be held in the Temple this afternoon from 2:30 to 5. All girls are asked to come and join in the afternoon's fun.

SUFFRAGE LEAGUE FORMED

OFFICERS CHOSEN AND ORGANIZATION OUTLINED AT MEETING OF JUNIORS AND SENIORS.

HAS RECEIVED OFFICIAL SANCTION

Meeting to be Held Early in Semester to Interest All Girls in the Organization.

The equal suffrage movement which has been agitated since the beginning of the semester has gained appreciable impetus since then, culminating Saturday in a meeting of twenty or more influential junior and senior girls to form the Equal Suffrage League. At this initial meeting Helen Sorensen was elected president; Marian Preese, secretary; and Raechel Kellogg, treasurer.

The league has the strong support of Miss Graham and has received her official sanction as a university organization. Many other members of the faculty are also behind this movement which intends to co-operate with the State Equal Suffrage league as a branch of that institution.

During the first week of next semester a mass meeting of all university girls will be called. Everyone of them will be urged to join the organization and work for the following semester will be outlined by the committee in charge. The chief object of the league will be first to enlist the interests of the parents of its members then its friends, and later to extend its influence even further. To do this, petitions will be circulated and accurate information will be spread in argument of the cause.

The league has been instituted with a serious and definite purpose in view and in lieu of this fact a real work is expected of it.

DATES FOR REGISTRATION ANNOUNCED BY REGISTRAR

Advice to Old And New Students—Time Tickets for Registration at Office.

The registration for the second semester will open Wednesday January 28th and closes Saturday 31st. Time tickets for registration can be obtained now at the registrars office and all students are advised to get them before the days of registration.

Upper classmen and old students are advised to see their advisors in the department offices where they can get blanks and schedules. The new students must see the registrar in his office, Administration 103, before being assigned to advisors.

Com Warns Men to Take Drill.

There seems to be some misunderstanding as to the number of drill credits which are required before a cadet becomes exempt from drill.

Four semesters of drill are necessary to meet this requirement of the department. It would be of advantage during registration to keep this in mind.
