GET YOUR TICKETS FOR JUNIOR INFORMAL, FEB. 28

Big Demand for Admission to Third-Year Men's Dance Takes Committee's Breath Away.

The Junior Hop is in danger of being oversold, according to a statement made yesterday by a member of the committee. "Every man who has tickets out is asking for more, and there are but few left," he said. "As it is, some of those with tickets have promised more than they have. We are going to straighten this mixup out right away, but we must know exactly to whom tickets have been promised."

The last informal under the first semester regime, this dance probably owes a large part of its popularity to coming in the middle of the formal season. Elaborate arrangements are being made and it is promised as one of the best University hops of the year.

Everything in the way of novelty obtainable has been the aim of the committee. The last touch of novelty was added in the setting of a new and lower price—$1.25.

Tickets may be secured from South-wick, Stewart, Ross, Babcock, Bau-man, Spencer, Dawson, Spooner, Sam-uelsson, Perkins, Krause, Swift, The Co-op Book Store, Brown, and Snyder.

AN EXPENSIVE FAVOR

"I think we will save money by buying an ice chest."
 "Why, Henry."
 "I notice that every time you cool a watermelon in Smith's ice chest you give them half."

HELP WANTED

Hayloft—Sa'ay, that bay mare o' yours acts kind o' lazy; don't she?
 Clovertop—Ya-as, durn her! Bin wishin' she'd die, but the pesky critter's too goldarned lazy to draw her last breath.

KOSMET CAST MEETS FOR FIRST TIME

The members of the Kosmet cast met at the Temple Theater last evening for their first rehearsal. Although none of the parts have been definitely assigned, Professor Scott gave out the names of those who would start the ball rolling in the leading speaking and singing parts. Scholastic standing and personal fitness may necessitate a change in some of the positions within the coming week. The definite cast will likely be announced next week.

Last night's meeting was largely introductory to what will follow. Regular rehearsals will commence next week.

Miss Agnes Bartlett, the composer of the music for the new play, was present and played the greater part of the pieces for the benefit of the cast. All were very catchy and pleasing. The enthusiastic applause given by the cast displayed their appreciation. A few of the tunes were tried by the chorus and the first attempt forecasts great things to come.

"Wear-ever" Salesmen Succeed—

BECAUSE—Cooking utensils are a household necessity.

BECAUSE—"WEAR-EVER" aluminum utensils are light and bright; do not scale or rust; save fuel and give satisfaction.

BECAUSE—The system followed by the "WEAR-EVER" salesmen places the work on a much higher plane than that of an ordinary canvasser.

Apply this week if you want to be assured of "getting on." Address all inquiries to A. P. Miller, No. 520 Y. M.
