LAST BASKETBALL GAME OF SEASON

Ames Cyclones Here Tomorrow and Saturday—Have Stronger Team For This Match.

The last games of the local basketball season will be played in the Armory on Friday and Saturday nights of this week. The Cyclones from Ames will be our opponents.

Last week the Huskers administered a couple of defeats to Ames on her home floor. In commenting on the games, the Ames Daily says that, due to injuries, it was a team of substitutes which opposed the Huskers. We may conclude that the games this week will be real battles.

The rebuttal speeches were very largely a brief summary and re-emphasis of the points brought out in direct argument, besides a narrowing of the issues, and a final clash on the question of whether experience with woman suffrage in states like Colorado and Wyoming had been successful, and on this question, in the opinion of the judges, the weight of authority, reason and presentation, was clearly with the Freshman team.

Some of the listeners who had sat in inter-class debate audiences before remarked that this was the first time they had ever seen a unanimous verdict for the negative side of the woman suffrage question, the affirmative of which has of late years received a larger and larger number of converts. To this observation some of the judges replied that this was the first time they had ever heard so much of the best evidence on the negative side of this question brought forth. There was a tendency among those who knew to ascribe the superior weight of the Freshman evidence to the combined efforts of the team and Doctor Maxey, and one of the Sophomore speakers, in his closing speech, frankly admitted that they were not equipped with any of the doctor's jokes.

The Juniors were victorious over the Seniors in their debate on the same question.

FRESHMEN SCORE A VICTORY OVER SOPHS

on the ground that women were justly entitled to all the rights that men possess. Mr. Covert for the Freshmen replied that there was no crying demand for woman suffrage in this state because all the evils which the affirmative claim suffrage is needed to remedy have been accomplished in Nebraska by an electorate composed exclusively of men. A. R. Hinman, who continued the discussion for the Sophomores, advanced the point that it wasn't twentieth century justice to compel women to obey laws that they had no voice in decreeing. For the Freshmen, Mr. Swenson contended that woman's temperament and interests were naturally antagonistic to the assumption of political duties and political risks, and that therefore the burden of voting would rest too heavily on America's already overlaid womanhood.

Mr. Chatt, the last Sophomore speaker, was very earnest and eloquent, and refused to leave the floor until he was satisfied that he had proven how well qualified the women were for the ballot and how successfully the votes of women had cleaned up politics in sister states. To all of this Mr. Kiddoo, the final Freshman debater, rejoined by statistics showing that the political, social and industrial results of woman suffrage in the commonwealths where that revolutionary experiment has been tried have not been satisfactory, and do not warrant the adoption of votes for women in Nebraska.

Solons Are College Men.

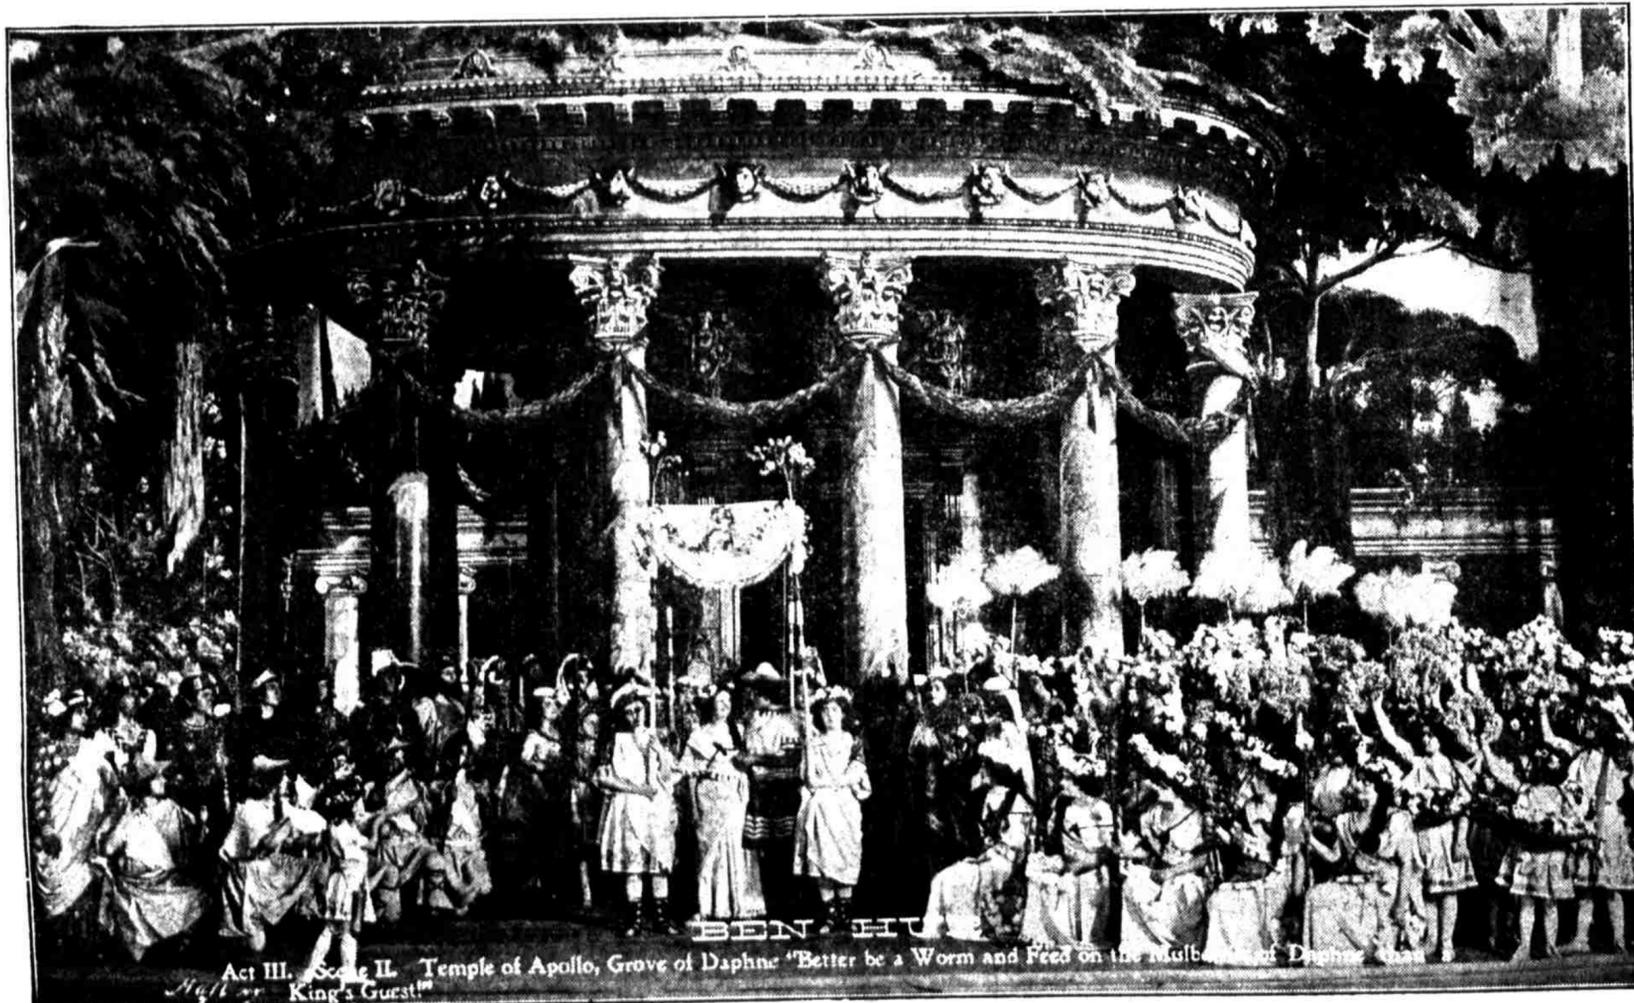

Michigan University during the last twelve years has sent more men to the upper and lower houses in the national congress than any other college in the country. Harvard is second in this respect, Virginia third, and Yale fourth.—The Revell.

Senior Engineers Wear Whiskers.

Mustaches, sideburns, goatees and plain whiskers will cover the faces of Missouri's senior engineers until after the spring examinations. This custom of facial adornment has been in vogue among the senior engineers for many years, and although no strict rules enforcing it, it is rigidly observed by seniors in each engineering department.—Daily Californian.

Twelve foreign countries and every state in the Union except Nevada are represented in Yale's enrollment this year.—Daily Illini.
