NEW OFFICERS ELECTED.

The Loup City commercial club held a good meeting on Wednesday evening of last week. Numerous interesting subjects were discussed during the evening and the meeting was productive of much good. Loup City's commercial club is coming to life after an almost useless existence for several years.

Officers for the following year were elected as follows: E. M. Steen, Pres., A. J. Johnson, Vice Pres., O. F. Peterson, Sec., O. E. Longacre, Treas.

A number of good ideas were suggested and discussed at length. Among the necessary conveniences for the improvement, betterment and convenience of Loup City people are the four following, which the club has pledged itself to secure:

1. An "Unloading Platform" on the Burlington Railroad tracks.

Useful for unloading automobiles, heavy equipment, etc. At present each receiver of the above mentioned items is required to build temporary superstructures. A permanent one would eliminate the inconveniences now existing.

2. A connecting track between the Union Pacific and Burlington railroads. We would get co-operation of commercial clubs from the towns north and south of Loup City. The shipping interests would be greatly increased. The "terminal" expression would appear in Loup City's favor and the help of our sister towns would exist.

3. The assistance of the Loup City commercial club in urging the city council to build an underground public toilet. Note the advantages in having same. The convenience for people coming from the country. Special occasions occurring in our city, the outside visitors, etc. Our City Street Commissioner to take care of the public toilet. The convenience for our business men, those who are especially without the necessary facilities thereof. No extra expense of maintenance to the city. A suggestive location would be on south side of the court house square.

4. At a small expense of the Loup City commercial club, each member to be provided with an identification card: Namely, neatly printed thereon as follows: Member of the Loup City commercial club. All solicitors must have proper endorsements from the secretary or president of the said club, to inaugurate their purpose. The identification card is used in other towns and appears to be of "Safety First" assistance.

The four ideas expressed above are good ones. Our commercial club is now on the right track and The Northwestern believes that other good measures will be taken up and put into effect as soon as the above are carried out.

The commercial club needs a good publicity manager and such an appointment should be made at the next meeting.

FOR SALE OR TRADE

ASA J. FARNHAM,
Successor to Wm. Graefe at the Rexall Store.

ANNUAL BASKET SOCIAL AND DANCE.

Will be given under the auspices of the young ladies and young men of the St. Joseph's church at the society hall on Monday the 19th of February. All young and old are most cordially invited to take part in our social enjoyment. Objectionable and suggestive dances will not be tolerated. Good music to suit the occasion will also make that evening most enjoyable and pleasing.

A TRIP TO LITCHFIELD.

The editor of The Northwestern, accompanied by Sheriff L. A. Williams, made a trip to Litchfield Tuesday afternoon. O. A. Woods driving his Maxwell car, "Betsey Ann" took the sheriff and editor over to Litchfield and "Shorty" and "Betsey Ann" behaved fine all during the trip, but we don't like their way of opening gates. They never stopped when they came to a gate, but put on "high" and hit the gate amidst, which sent the gate high in the air and driver or car never got a scratch. We don't believe Mr. Woods always opens gates that way, but wanted to show off before his distinguished company that day.

It was the Northwestern man's first visit to Litchfield during a residence in Sherman county of nearly two years, and we were surprised when we arrived at that thriving and progressive little city. All the merchants were busy and we found our former citizen, Albert Boecking in charge of a busy store. Litchfield has a new school house that would be a credit to a town several times as large, a complete system of waterworks and a municipal electric lighting system will be soon installed, the bonds being voted but recently. Litchfield is thriving and prosperous, a fact that The Northwestern is glad to state.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Anderson visited at the Emil Malm home on Clear Creek last Sunday.

Mrs. Bridget Fagen and family and John Anderson, visited at R. P. McClary's place on Tuesday.

Butchering is becoming a much practiced industry in this vicinity, nearly everyone taking a hitch at it.

The dance at J. S. Turvey's place last Friday night was well attended and everybody had a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Purvine and Almor, Katie and Leona Fagen, visited with the Geo. Leatherman family, Sunday.

James, Dave, Forest and Dan Turvey, Hans Pederson and Axel Hendrickson, visited at the G. W. Anderson home on Monday evening.

John Anderson is developing into an expert chauffeur. He has already learned that a Ford will not run without gasoline under any circumstances.

J. S. Turvey held his sale on last Wednesday. It was a nice day and a large crowd was present. It was one of the best sales held in this vicinity for a long while.

We are told that G. W. Dunkle has rented the place to be vacated by Wash Peters. This is a good neighborhood and it is certain that it will not be made worse if all the newcomers are equal to Mr. Dunkle.

Fred Carlson of Utica, Kansas, is here visiting with his brother, John Carlson, and family. After visiting here a few days he intends making an extended visit in Michigan before returning to his southern home.

The wolf hunt last Monday was a partial success, there were three coyotes killed and eight were reported as getting away. The lines of the north and west were not being strong enough causing their escape.

J. D. Burns and Ed. Welty are new owners of a Ford now days. We are not expecting either of these men to be violators of the law, but we will bet dollars to doughnuts that they will both know the ability of these little wagons as to speed within the next sixty days.

Distemper is holding full sway among the horses in this vicinity. Ordinarily the disease is not considered serious, but it seems to be of a more serious nature this season. G. W. Anderson had the misfortune to lose one valuable horse and J. S. Turvey lost one and the rest of their horses are not suitable for service.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Briggs on Tuesday, Feb. 13.

Mrs. C. H. Ryan and son, Frank left Wednesday morning for her home at Gresham, for a visit with her parents.

One of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller's twin baby boys died Tuesday evening. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all.

Mrs. R. P. Starr and Mrs. Gus Lorentz entertained sixteen couples at cards at the home of Mrs. Lorentz, Wednesday evening.

A pleasant social time was spent by the P. E. O. ladies and their friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mason, Tuesday evening.

If you want to know how much money it takes to keep on living, just sit down sometime and look over the checks you have written within a year. You'll wonder where all of it ever came from—and you'll not find much satisfaction in the checks showing you where it all went to.

It has occurred to us that a newspaper is much like a public school. Not one patron in twenty visits the school once a year, yet most of them are always ready to criticize it. The same is true with the newspaper. If every person in town would drop into the office once a week or in some other way tell us the news items they know, what a newspaper we should have!

AUSTIN SIDELIGHTS.

Irene Jack has been quite sick the past week.

Vernon and Floyd Griffin are attending school at Austin this week.

Mrs. Eva Griffin spent Wednesday with Grandma Sundstrom of Rockville. The neighbors of Dan Carpenter sprung a surprise on him last Saturday evening. About 70 were present.

N. T. Daddow and family, Mrs. A. L. Throckmorton and sons and Elmer Larson, took Sunday dinner with Wm. Couton.

Austin—Fletcher, Couton, Daddow, Talbot, and Pritchard. Rockville—Anderson, Hackbert, Mortz, Bowen, Heisner.

HAS A LIVELY TIME.

As the outcome of the altercation which took place in the lobby of the Lincoln hotel Monday night between Neilson of Douglas and Trumble of Sherman, in which the latter slapped the Omaha man on the eye, Shannon of Douglas and Trumble staged another turn Tuesday afternoon on the floor of the house in which the former made charges reflecting upon Trumble as chairman of the corporations committee and the latter retorted by using the small and ugly word.

It developed in the colloquy between Shannon and Trumble that the bill, H. R. 128 requiring enclosure of entrances and exists of street cars, was voted upon by the committee last Thursday and instructions given the chairman to report it out for the general file, with an amendment allowing the companies until January 1, 1918, to make the required change in their cars. Chairman Trumble, however, did not report the bill, but held it because the amendment had not been drafted.

In the committee session Monday, Mr. Dufone moved to reconsider, and a motion was then adopted to recommend it for indefinite postponement, the vote being 6 to 3.

Mr. Shannon moved in the house this afternoon that the bill be placed on the general file, notwithstanding this reconsideration and reversal. He charged Trumble with bad faith and playing into the hands of the corporations, in not reporting the bill after last week's meeting. He claimed to have had several talks with Trumble, and each time, he declared, the latter told him the bill would be reported out, when the amendment was ready.

"I took him at his word as a gentleman," said Shannon, "and trusted him to do as he said he would. I was amazed when I heard of what happened yesterday. Is that a fair deal. Is that the kind of men we have for chairmen of our committee, and are we going to let them throttle bills by carrying them around in their pockets?"

All sorts of charges were handed about including one that the bill was not introduced in good faith.

The whole controversy was ended when the house adopted a motion by Peterson to refer the bill back to the corporations committee. Chairman Trumble then announced a special meeting, immediately after adjournment, for the purpose of considering it again.

To guard against such occurrences hereafter, a motion was made by Mr. Richmond, and adopted by the house, requiring the chairman to take a record of the roll call whenever a vote is had in a committee on indefinite postponement of a bill.

GIPE'S SHANTY RAIDED.

George Gipe's little old shanty down among the river grass and weeds, some distance from the thriving city of Arcadia, has long had the reputation for affording amusements for the deft manipulators of pasteboards in a manner prohibited by law.

Most of the time for the past few decades Arcadia has been blessed with the same sort of public officials as Ord has had, who are afflicted with a sort of color blindness and cannot see certain classes of things.

But for the past while or so Arcadia has had one Len Sutton a chief of police, who has been trying to do his duty as defender of the law.

Some time ago he made a raid on the Gipe domicile and found a group of circumstances that pointed to the pen or some other penal position. Gipe and the others caught in the dragnet at that time promised to be good and not to do it any more if the prosecution would not be pushed.

Last Sunday afternoon Marshal Sutton strolled down to the little Gipe place and walked in, finding the occupants too busy to observe him coming. On the table were chips and cards and the group of friends assembled were busy in the use of them as the officer stepped in. They all declared that they were just having a friendly game, but when urged to do so, they refused to proceed with the pleasant affair, having forgotten in their excitement just where they left off it.

He took note of the persons present and came over to Ord Tuesday to present the matter to the county attorney.

The result was that complaints were issued against George Gipe for running a gaming house and against George Gipe, Roy Clark, Fred Stephenson, Cris Larsen, Ralph Bennett, Fred Round and Moncl Milburn for gambling.

The papers were placed in the hands of Sheriff Bell, who procured two autos and went over to Cadytown and took the seven gentlemen over to Ord for arraignment before Judge Gudmundson. They pleaded not guilty and gave bonds for their appearance Monday for the examination. John Wall phoned in to the judge that he would see that they all showed up Monday, and there is no doubt of their being there all right.—Ord Quiz.

BRUTAL MURDER AT ORD.

One of the most fiendish and brutal murders ever committed in this section of the state was that of Alice Barkos, thirteen year old daughter of a well known farmer residing about five miles from Ord, last Wednesday night.

Alice was sleeping with a sister, seven years of age, in the second story of the home. The first realization that anything might be wrong was secured by the parents when they were alarmed by a sound as of some one falling on the floor above. When they immediately went up to investigate, they found the body of their little daughter with a rope around her neck. Alice had been ravished and strangled to death.

The unknown slayer had come to the place from Ord in an automobile, which had been stolen; had secured a ladder and entered the window, and had there, in the presence of the sleeping sister, committed the crime and made good his escape. The wonder expressed at Ord is that the little sister sleeping by her side, was not awakened. But it is believed that the sleep of tired youth was deep. The child was still asleep when the parents came up into the room.

Some trace of the miscreant was found. An auto was tracked to the place and partly back from Ord. By the use of the telephone alarms were sounded and a man was soon trailed, in the night, leading in from Ord. The word was passed along and several small neighboring groups tried to stop him, but he dashed on by in his hasty get-away. At one place a stone was hurled at him and it is known to have shattered his windshield and in this manner it was expected that the car could be identified. However, before reaching Ord, on the return, the man abandoned the car.

The murderer is in custody. Louis Kamerad, once before arrested and tried on the charge of rape, is held in the county jail at Ord for the murder, and confessed his guilt, after being put through some severe sweating by the officials. While there were some murmurings in the direction of summary punishment by mob law, the officers feared no such outcome, as there is a stronger demand that the law be permitted to follow its course.

The apprehension of the accused man was almost as spectacular as his crime was dastardly and desperate. Bloodhounds were secured from Albion. These were given the scent at the home of Kamerad, who because of his former alleged record, was at once suspected. The anticipated happened when the hounds led directly to the place where the car had been stolen. They were again put on the scent at the home of the unfortunate victim's parents, and they led to the place where, presumably, Kamerad had left the car to go to the house. Again put on the scent where the car had been abandoned, following the speedy drive homeward and the dash through the small posse that attempted to stop him, the hounds again led to Kamerad's home. The arrest followed.

Kamerad is a Bohemian. The parents of the dead girl are Bohemian. The young man, about twenty-one years of age, was arrested a year or more ago charged with criminal assault upon a young Danish-American girl. There was a vigorous prosecution, but the young man had many friends and he was saved through the efforts of these. It is maintained by some at Ord. His victim at that time was of course, not murdered.

The funeral of the little girl who met her death in so foul a manner was held Saturday morning and naturally accentuated the mixed feeling of sympathy with the parents and of indignation at the confessedly guilty murderer.

The preliminary hearing of Kamerad was fixed to take place at Ord on Monday morning and at that time he was boun over to the district court without bond, and taken to the penitentiary at Lincoln for safe keeping.

Thrift is just another kind of preparedness.
