EXCELLENT RETURNS FROM THE CANADIAN WHEAT CROP

United States Settlers Becoming Rich on Western Canada Lands.

The large number of United States settlers coming to the Western provinces of Canada are easily explained by the case of Mr. C. Lacy, late of Wisconsin and later of Alberta.

Mr. Lacy came to Canada from Wisconsin in the summer of 1914 with $1,500 available cash in his possession. He rented a half-section of partly improved land in Alberta and commenced summer farming. He broke 300 acres with oats, 20 with barley, and 200 with wheat. Also he had two cows and 20 head of young live stock. He was fortunate in buying feed at a bargain and managed to rent the adjoining quarter-section as pasture.

A few weeks ago he decided to realize his profits—and they amounted to $6,000 absolutely clear from the crop and the stock.

W. J. Winstead, of Brooks, Alberta, says:

"I landed in Brooks, March 18th, 1916, with one car of household effects, and nine head of good horses, and less than $500 in cash. I have put $1,500 worth of improvements on my farm. I have 31 head of cattle, 16 head of horses, debts all paid, a new automobile, and a good, stiff bank account. At present prices, I can cash in for $16,000. I am well satisfied, and expect to double this next year.

I have threshed altogether 7,000 bushels of No. 1 Northern wheat from two hundred acres, which went from 24 to 50 bushels per acre.

Seven thousand bushels of wheat, all No. 1 Northern, two thousand bushels of oats, 670 bushels of flax, 700 bushels of barley—all at market prices—well, figure this out for yourself at the market price. I sold 3,100 bushels of wheat at $1.74, am holding the remainder for $2.00. Also all the oats, barley and flax for higher prices."

Intelligent farming pays always according to Alex. Wattie, a prosperous farmer. Some figures to prove his contention that he has "made good."

In 1914 Mr. Wattie threshed 40 bushels to the acre from a 20-acre crop. This sold for $1.69% per bushel, which, after deducting seed, labor, twine, threshing and freight, left a clear profit of $50 per acre, or a total of $1,500. From last year's crop of 34 acres, just sold, he received after freight had been deducted, $1,576.94.—Advertisement.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

"Illustrious man, before whom all borrowed greatness sinks into insignificance."—Charles James Fox.

GOES BACK TO 1657

Washington Family Was One of the Earliest to Settle in Colony of Virginia.

THE first Washington to land in the new world was Col. John Washington, who came from near Beverly, England, in 1657. This was only about 50 years later than the Jamestown settlement. This Colonel Washington, who was a man of great influence in the infant colony, was the great-grandfather of General Washington and the first owner of the tract now known as Mount Vernon. He brought over with him a hundred immigrants and he, with his partner, Nicholas Spencer, received from Thomas Lord Culpeper a grant of 5,000 acres of land situated on the Potomac between Epswansson and Little Hunting creek.

Col. John Washington left 2,500 acres of this tract—that part including Mount Vernon—to his eldest son Lawrence.

The son of this Lawrence Washington was Augustine, the father of Gen. George Washington. Augustine took his bride, Mary Ball, to his home at Wakefield, in Westmoreland. His sister, Mildred, inherited the Mount Vernon property, but on the death of her husband, Roger Gregory, she sold it to her brother Augustine. And it was to this same place that the family were removed in 1734, when George was a baby of but two years of age. Here he toddled about in his third and fourth years.

It is now believed that Augustine, George's father, built the first home at Mount Vernon on what is the site of the present mansion. Its beautiful situation would naturally lead itself to the location of a home. About two miles from the mansion house of today is the site of an old mill, known to have been built by this same Augustine Washington. That mill was on the banks of the Epswansson creek. The walls, which were laid in limestone, began to crumble back in the sixties and the farmers in the vicinity hauled away some of the stone.

This mill was in actual use for 50 years by General Washington, and so superior was the quality of the flour he ground that it was admitted to English markets without inspection.

TIPPED WITH GOLD

Few People Know the Purpose of Bands at the Apex of Washington Monument.

FEW persons who have seen the Washington monument, even those who have lived within sight of it all their lives, have noticed that the apex of the monument is surrounded with parallel bands. Such is the fact, however, and moreover, the bands are studded with golden points. The bands are made of gold-plated iron a foot wide, and the points are spaced a foot from one another.

For a moment in each sunny day of the first week of the new year the golden fillet that binds the brow of the Washington monument is visible to human eyes. Then, the angle of incidence of the sun's rays is such that they are reflected downward to the windows of the buildings north and west of the monument, and the cool, gray surface is seen to be marked with 11 shining lines of gold.

Theoretically, a similar effect could be obtained from some point of observation at each moment when the sun's rays are intercepted by the sloping top of the monument, but only an airship could attain the necessary vantage point.

To protect the monument from lightning the men of science agreed on a number of iron bands, heavily galvanized and gold plated to prevent rusting. The bands are connected with the aluminum point of the monument and the framework of the elevator, and at the base iron cables lead the electricity into a deep well, where it harmlessly expends its force. The protection has proved to be perfect.—Youth's Companion.

AT WASHINGTON'S TOMB

Where rhododendrons droop and willows weep,
And frail forget-me-nots their charms reveal;
Through moss and foliage, making mute appeal;
Where sapphire waters, purling, coil and creep,
And evermore a murmurous vigil keep:
Where elegies through leafy arches steal,
Chanted by birds the lordly oaks conceal;
A king, uncrowned, is throned in dreamless sleep.

Well to Heed His Counsel.

Such qualities as Washington possessed do not as a rule shine in men who lead in revolutionary epochs. Perhaps some of the credit must go to the American people for trusting, honoring and following so moderate, wise, and, in a sense, unrevolutionary a leader. He passed from the head of the country's armies to the head of its government, and as president did much to create and permanently establish the nation of which we are citizens. And today we know that we shall not go far wrong if we heed the counsel that he bequeathed to his countrymen in his farewell address. More than 100 years after his death Washington's memory is held in reverent affection by all who love ordered liberty.

100 Years Old

"The kidneys play a most important part in causing premature old age and death—the more injurious the poisons passing through the kidneys the sooner comes decay"—so says a distinguished physician, who further advises all people who are past thirty to preserve the vitality of the kidneys and free the blood from poisonous elements, such as uric acid—drink plenty of water—sweat some daily and take Anurie before meals.

This Anurie is put up in tablet form, and can be obtained at almost any drug store. For that backache, lumbago, rheumatism, "rusty" joints, swollen feet or hands, due to uric acid in the blood, Anurie quickly dissolves the uric acid as hot water does sugar. Discovered by Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.

Prevent premature old age by simply sipping a cup of hot water every morning before breakfast, taking a little Anurie before meals and live to be a hundred.

Welded Glass.
Welded glass suitable for certain optical instruments and other apparatus is a novel material, that is stated to be of great practical value as well as much interest. As the welding process is described by Parker and Dallahday to the Faraday society of London, the glass surfaces to be joined are placed in good optical contact under pressure, and are heated to carefully predetermined temperature, which to avoid distortion of optically worked surfaces, must not approach too near what is defined as the "annealing point." This point of appreciable softening is determined for any kind of glass by noting the temperature at which the internal heat stresses suddenly disappear. Similar glasses unite perfectly well below this point; but with very unlike kinds, the softer becomes distorted before the harder is hot enough to make a good weld.
