Farmers are very busy now getting in their corn. The nice rains have made the ground in excellent shape. If we just get the warm sunshine to warm up the ground and some more nice rains, we need not complain about the crops. Oats are looking nice, also other small grain.

We noticed by the Northwestern last week that Miss Lottie Henderson and Mr. E. Pray were united in marriage at the home of the groom's last Wednesday. They were reported married some time ago but it was a mistake. Mrs. Pray sure has the best wishes from here as she was well known and loved by all who knew her.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lewandowski were given a big surprise Sunday evening in honor of their fifth wedding anniversary and their many friends gathered at their home and showed them a merry time by dancing after supper until a late hour when they all left for their respective homes wishing Mr. and Mrs. Lewandowski many more years of happy wedded life.

of them, cannot go into the trenches, but they can go into the fields and serve their country just as much. I tell you it takes more courage to march out into the field with a hoe than it does to march to the front with a gun when the band is playing and the people are cheering. But it is just as great a thing to do.

"Give the boy a pig. Let him pay for it by work. When the next crop comes on that boy will be something ahead. Owing something is what makes a boy. Sometimes I think mothers have a larger vision than fathers do for they are thinking in terms of boys and girls instead of in terms of pigs and cattle and coin. I wonder if we remember we are living for men rather than for pigs and corn. Boys were not born for the pigs. Pigs were born for the boys and the girls."

A TRAGIC DEATH.

The following account of the death of Kari Shull was sent us by Mrs. C. C. Comp of Marquand, Mo. Carl Shull was the son of W. A. Shull, a pioneer settler in Sherman county and was well known by many of the old residents.

Carl Shull was fatally injured at Mine la Motte Wednesday night while working at the Sand Mill, by having the top end of a crow bar run through the lower part of his stomach. It appears that the unfortunate man was up on a tressle attempting to move a car, using the crowbar for that purpose. Another car became loosened and rolled down from behind forcing the blunt end of the crowbar into the lower part of his stomach and out through the lower part of his back. The impact of the two cars enabled Shull to get from between them, although the bar of iron was sticking through his body. With more grit than is possessed by most men he pulled the bar out of his body, walked down two or three flights of steps and reported his injury. After an auto came to take him to the first aid room, he walked to the machine and from the machine to the room. He remained conscious until either was administered. A surgeon was called from Bonne Terre and he and Dr. Barron at once operated. The accident occurred about 9:00 o'clock Wednesday night and the man lived until 2:00 o'clock the next afternoon. To add to the seriousness of the injured man's condition it was found that he was suffering from a severe case of pneumonia which he did not know. Mr. Shull's home was at Marquand where he owned some property. He was taken there for burial Friday. Our Marquand correspondent reports the further fact that he leaves a father, mother, brother and sister to mourn his tragic death.—Fredericktown Democrat-News.

MARRIED

Mr. Louis Bramer of Boelus and Miss Minnie Plambeck of Ashton were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Claus Plambeck, at Ashton on Wednesday, May 9, at 11 o'clock a. m. Rev. Otto Schulze of Loup City officiating. Only immediate relatives and friends of the young couple were present at the ceremony. Miss Nelson of Rockville played the wedding march.

After a wedding dinner the newly married couple and several of their friends went to Loup City to have some pictures taken. At four p. m. a big wedding dinner was served and a reception given to Mr. and Mrs. Bramer at the home of Mrs. Plambeck at Ashton, a large number of friends and relatives attending. A wedding dance was given at the Ashton opera house in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bramer will make their home on the groom's farm about eight miles southeast of Ashton. Both are well and favorably known in Sherman county and the best wishes of a host of friends are extended to the young couple.

JOHN GALSWORDY'S MASTERPIECE.

"Beyond" in Cosmopolitan Magazine is exactly that—a great serial—some say it is the best story that has ever appeared in Cosmopolitan. At any rate it stabs deep into the heart of life; and there discloses the sources of destiny. "A Chronicle of Life" is Mr. Galsworthy's own definition of "Beyond." Mr. Galsworthy lets life itself show the workings of the law of the inevitable. He tags neither causes or consequences with names, but he paints the picture for all to see—and to understand if they will think. This serial will dominate readers of Cosmopolitan to its last instalment; its last word.

NOTICE

VETERANS OF TWO WARS TO MEET.

County Superintendent L. H. Currier informs us that the Tenth Annual Encampment of the Department of Nebraska United Spanish War Veterans will be held at Columbus, Neb., on May 16, 17 and 18. This encampment will be at a time which will mark an epoch in our country's history, and in fact, in the history of mankind, and it is important that every man who served in the Spanish-American War be present. Matters of great moment will be considered. Governor Keith Neville, Chief Justice and Comrade A. M. Morrissey and Senator Allen, and other distinguished men will be present and talk.

The annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held at the same time, and that alone should cause every man who served in the Spanish-American War to be present and pay homage to those grand old veterans who wore the blue. It is a great honor to meet with them.

A PATRIOTIC YOUTH.

Alhany, N. Y., May 16.—Trying to boost his 5 feet, 3 inches up to the standard required for military service, Willis Hartman, a patriotic youth from Glenwood, near here, tried to form of elevation that almost got by the United States Marine Corps recruiting officers here, today.

Willis went through without a flaw until he stripped to be examined for scars when the doctor discovered several layers of adhesive plaster and a small cotton pad under each heel that gave a "French-heel effect," to the would-be warrior. When it was removed, he lacked one inch of meeting the required height.

"I don't want to be a slacker, so I tried my best to enlist," said Hartman, when he was rejected. "The scheme would be all right, too," he added, "if I could only make it stick."

REDUCING theory to fact

Disciples of the custom tailor—have you ever given thought to the practical theory that has made the ready-to-wear clothing business one of the biggest industries of this country—a practical theory that has become a fact?

The designing profession has become a science; today, the big designers is tailor to the millions—his ability has made it possible for ready-to-wear clothes to be still individual—and the millions have responded.

HIGH-ART CLOTHES

are a big factor in our success, because they are designed to meet the requirements of every type.

Come, appreciate the certainty of clothes which you can survey at the outset. How do you know whether the style you select from a picture will prove becoming? We have every type to choose from—in every size and in a wide range of fabrics and color.

GUS LORENTZ

ENCOURAGE THE BOYS AND GIRLS.

"With only half a wheat crop in America, with the Argentina crop a failure, with France behind in her farming and with a million or more producers soon to be sent into the army to be consumers, the food situation in the United States is serious," said Prof. P. G. Holden, director of the agricultural extension department of the International Harvester Company who was one of the food experts on the Union Pacific farm preparedness special.

"Isn't it worth our while this year to be a little more careful not to waste food," he said. "I believe what we waste in America would almost feed us and it is a crime to waste food when other people are going hungry. Just now, farming is everything. It is our opportunity.

"I don't know but what this war will jar us loose from some of our hide-bound notions and make us better. No progress was ever made except through suffering. If I were your mayor I'd call all the people of this town together to discuss what could be done to make this community more efficient. I wish I could put it into the hearts of the people to do a little more this year. What is success? It is beating your own record every day."

Mr. Holden is a great believer in giving the boys and girls on the farms a chance to own something, to interest them in their work.

"If I wanted to make greater things these days," he said, "I'd begin with the boys and girls. These boys, many
